² The OCR identifies the CFDA Number that the OJP provided in the solicitation for each grant program.

³ The VOCA's nondiscrimination provision, similar to the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (Safe Streets Act), prohibits recipients from discriminating either in employment or in the delivery of services or benefits on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, or disability. Although programs funded under the VOCA are not subject to the administrative provisions of the Safe Streets Act, the Office for Victims of Crime, which administers VOCA-funded programs, requires all recipients of VOCA funding to comply with the Safe Streets Act regulations that apply to the development of an Equal Employment Opportunity Program (EEOP). Recipients of VOCA funds are exempt from the EEOP requirement, if they meet any of the following criteria: (1) the recipient is a nonprofit organization, a medical or educational institution, or an Indian tribe, (2) the recipient has less than 50 employees, or (3) the recipient received a single award or subaward for less than $25,000. See Questions & Answers and Self-Test Scenarios for additional information on the EEOP requirement.
