RESOURCES FOR DRUG ABUSERS ON PROBATION

In the continuing effort to enhance the supervision of drug using probationers, the Texas Adult Probation Commission (TAPC) is pleased to have developed this first edition of a statewide directory of drug use/abuse services available to probationers. It is anticipated that the directory will be updated periodically so that probation departments in Texas will have access to current services available for probationers who may be using or abusing drugs.

The TAPC contacted probation departments in the spring of 1988 with a county by county list of agencies each had utilized in the past when referring probationers for drug use services. The departments then updated those lists and returned them to TAPC. The TAPC then contacted all agencies/referrals listed by each department with a specific list of questions related to services provided. An Advisory Committee working with TAPC in the development of a drug assessment instrument assisted with the determination of questions probation departments needed to have answered when making referral decisions. Those ten (10) questions formed the basis for each referral agency's response.

All agencies which responded to the surveys are included in this directory. The TAPC is not recommending specific agencies or services. Rather, the agency is providing a statewide resource directory based upon information received from probation departments and referral agencies they have utilized.

The agencies included in this directory represent a wide range of services, costs and populations. The directory's format is an alphabetical listing of counties with each county's referral sources listed under the county heading. Where more than one department has listed the same referral agency, that agency is listed according to the county in which it is located. These listings should not only be useful for your particular county but in making transfer decisions and out-of-county placements, as well.

This Directory of Services for Drug Abusers on Probation was developed by Nancy Powell Bartlett, M.A., of the Texas Adult Probation Commission under a 1988 grant from the Texas Criminal Justice Division (CJD), Office of the Governor. Grant funding was provided to CJD from the U.S. Department of Justice's Bureau of Justice Assistance. Donna Cherekos of TAPC assisted in the compilation of the information and typed the first draft of the directory.

- (1) Briefly describe the types of services/treatment you provide to drug users/abusers:
We provide individual counseling to assist clients in developing and maintaining a drug-free lifestyle.
- (2) Do you specify a particular client population (i.e., males or females, only; restricted age groups; other client characteristics which are or are not appropriate for your setting):
We take anyone age eighteen and over who has completed a treatment program or whose problem of abuse is not severe enough to require intensive treatment.
- (3) Is there typically a waiting list for admittance? If so, for how long?
No, there is not.
- (4) Do you specify length of treatment? If so, what is it?
No, we do not.
- (5) Do you have an existing contract for services with your local probation department? yes no
- (6) Can you estimate your cost of services (daily, weekly, or monthly)?
There is no cost to clients who meet the criteria.
- (7) Do you have a "sliding scale" payment plan?
Yes, we do.
- (8) Do you have any restrictions on accepting any type of insurance payments?
Medicare and Medicaid are not accepted.
- (9) Do you have any restrictions for providing progress reports on the probationer to the probation department on a regular basis?
There are no restrictions for clients who qualify for the Supportive Outpatient Therapy program.
- (10) Do you have a "referral process" the probation department should follow (i.e., "walk-ins" vs. specific appointment times, documents to be provided by client or department, etc.)?
We prefer that the client be required to make the initial contact.

Contact Person: Robin Peyson

- (1) Briefly describe the types of services/treatment you provide to drug users/abusers:
We have an educational program for all grade levels, civic groups, and businesses. We also offer assessments, Minor In Possession (MIP) counseling, a Teen Intervention Program (TIP), referral, counseling, and the Supportive Outpatient Treatment program.
- (2) Do you specify a particular client population (i.e., males or females, only; restricted age groups; other client characteristics which are or are not appropriate for your setting):
Our services are for both minors and adults. In most cases where the primary diagnosis is psychiatric, a client would be referred to a more intensive setting.
- (3) Is there typically a waiting list for admittance? If so, for how long?
No, there is not.
- (4) Do you specify length of treatment? If so, what is it?
Length of treatment will depend upon needs of the client. Enrollment is open for the Teen Intervention Program, and the Supportive Outpatient Treatment program is based upon a two week cycle.
- (5) Do you have an existing contract for services with your local probation department? yes no
- (6) Can you estimate your cost of services (daily, weekly, or monthly)?
MIP is from $30 to $45; TIP is free; and Supportive Outpatient is from $100 to $235 per program.
- (7) Do you have a "sliding scale" payment plan?
Yes, we do.
- (8) Do you have any restrictions on accepting any type of insurance payments?
There are no restrictions on our Supportive Outpatient program.
- (9) Do you have any restrictions for providing progress reports on the probationer to the probation department on a regular basis?
There are no restrictions as long as we have the consent of our client.
- (10) Do you have a "referral process" the probation department should follow (i.e., "walk-ins" vs. specific appointment times, documents to be provided by client or department, etc.)?
For probation referrals, we generally use the TASC screening process; otherwise referrals can be made directly to our office.

- (1) Briefly describe the types of services/treatment you provide to drug users/abusers:
Our program is a short-term inpatient program followed by intensive outpatient therapy and aftercare. Various program components include medical detoxification; individual, group, and family therapy; substance abuse education groups; relapse prevention groups; and physical therapy. Each person receives a comprehensive, individualized treatment plan. The program philosophy is a holistic approach based on the 12 Step recovery process and core family involvement. We have a complete staff of professionals.
- (2) Do you specify a particular client population (i.e., males or females, only; restricted age groups; other client characteristics which are or are not appropriate for your setting):
Our facility accepts adult and adolescent chemically dependent individuals.
- (3) Is there typically a waiting list for admittance? If so, for how long?
Generally, there is no waiting list.
- (4) Do you specify length of treatment? If so, what is it?
The adult program is designed to be two weeks inpatient, followed by four weeks outpatient and one year aftercare. However, there is a certain amount of flexibility built into the program to allow for some exceptions.
- (5) Do you have an existing contract for services with your local probation department? yes no
- (6) Can you estimate your cost of services (daily, weekly, or monthly)?
The cost is approximately $345 per day.
- (7) Do you have a "sliding scale" payment plan?
Financial arrangement can be made through the hospital business office.
- (8) Do you have any restrictions on accepting any type of insurance payments?
Medicaid is not accepted.
- (9) Do you have any restrictions for providing progress reports on the probationer to the probation department on a regular basis?
There are no restrictions as long as the proper release forms have been signed by the patient.
- (10) Do you have a "referral process" the probation department should follow (i.e., "walk-ins" vs. specific appointment times, documents to be provided by client or department, etc.)?
Ideally, the probation department should contact a VRTC staff member to schedule an appointment and give the proper information. However, we are quite willing to work with the department in extraordinary cases.

- (1) Briefly describe the types of services/treatment you provide to drug users/abusers:
Inpatient chemical dependency treatment including detox is provided. We also provide an assessment for chemical dependency given by our physician or one of our C/D counselors, and an aftercare program.
- (2) Do you specify a particular client population (i.e., males or females, only; restricted age groups; other client characteristics which are or are not appropriate for your setting):
Our services are for adults over the age of eighteen, male and female. They must have chemical dependency/alcoholism as their primary diagnosis. We also work closely with our staff psychiatrist who is a member of our treatment team, and we have psychiatric units in our hospital.
- (3) Is there typically a waiting list for admittance? If so, for how long?
At times we have a waiting list, but no more than a week at the longest.
- (4) Do you specify length of treatment? If so, what is it?
Inpatient chemical dependency treatment lasts from four to six weeks. Occasionally we will treat someone who has had former treatment for ten days to stabilize them and send them to extended care. Our aftercare is set up for twelve months. Each case is individually looked at.
- (5) Do you have an existing contract for services with your local probation department? yes no
- (6) Can you estimate your cost of services (daily, weekly, or monthly)?
Our assessment for chemical dependency is free, as is the twelve month aftercare program. We would like to discuss the cost of the inpatient program with the person inquiring.
- (7) Do you have a "sliding scale" payment plan?
No, but we do work with each case individually to help them afford the best care provided.
- (8) Do you have any restrictions on accepting any type of insurance payments?
We don't accept Medicaid or HMO plans.
- (9) Do you have any restrictions for providing progress reports on the probationer to the probation department on a regular basis?
No, we do not.

- (1) Briefly describe the types of services/treatment you provide to drug users/abusers:
We have a nonprofit family-oriented treatment program for chemically dependent adolescents and their families. A large group therapy, family counseling, and individual counseling are provided. Family involvement is required.
- (2) Do you specify a particular client population (i.e., males or females, only; restricted age groups; other client characteristics which are or are not appropriate for your setting):
A client can be male or female from age twelve through twenty, with a primary diagnosis of chemical dependency.
- (3) Is there typically a waiting list for admittance? If so, for how long?
No, there is not.
- (4) Do you specify length of treatment? If so, what is it?
Treatment averages twelve to fourteen months through five active phases. An additional six months aftercare is provided.
- (5) Do you have an existing contract for services with your local probation department? yes no
- (6) Can you estimate your cost of services (daily, weekly, or monthly)?
Local families are charged $9,990 annually. The aftercare is provided at no charge.
- (7) Do you have a "sliding scale" payment plan?
There is no sliding scale due to low program costs. Fees are a flat rate, but we do work with individual families on a case by case basis.
- (8) Do you have any restrictions on accepting any type of insurance payments?
With our accreditation by JCAHO, we are accepted for most third party payment.
- (9) Do you have any restrictions for providing progress reports on the probationer to the probation department on a regular basis?
Provided the family is willing to sign a release statement, reports will be provided.
- (10) Do you have a "referral process" the probation department should follow (i.e., "walk-ins" vs. specific appointment times, documents to be provided by client or department, etc.)?
We are available to provide an initial assessment. The process is facilitated by the admissions representative who determines whether or not a family is appropriate for treatment. Following initial contact, an appointment is made for a full diagnostic assessment.

Contact Person: Susan Cramer

- (1) Briefly describe the types of services/treatment you provide to drug users/abusers:
We offer counseling for individuals, families, and groups. All counseling for chemical dependency is approached from currently accepted models of addiction and co-dependence on an outpatient basis. Individuals can be referred to inpatient settings if appropriate.
- (2) Do you specify a particular client population (i.e., males or females, only; restricted age groups; other client characteristics which are or are not appropriate for your setting):
We do not specify a particular client population.
- (3) Is there typically a waiting list for admittance? If so, for how long?
No, there is not.
- (4) Do you specify length of treatment? If so, what is it?
No, we do not.
- (5) Do you have an existing contract for services with your local probation department? yes no
- (6) Can you estimate your cost of services (daily, weekly, or monthly)?
Costs are assessed on a per-session/hour basis.
- (7) Do you have a "sliding scale" payment plan?
All services are based on family size and income. The cost range is between $20 and $60 per hour.
- (8) Do you have any restrictions on accepting any type of insurance payments?
We do not file for insurance directly. We will assist clients with their claims for direct reimbursement from insurance companies.
- (9) Do you have any restrictions for providing progress reports on the probationer to the probation department on a regular basis?
Our progress reports are currently provided on a monthly basis unless otherwise requested by the individual probation officer.
- (10) Do you have a "referral process" the probation department should follow (i.e., "walk-ins" vs. specific appointment times, documents to be provided by client or department, etc.)?
Most appointments are scheduled by the referred clients themselves, after a probation officer gives them one of our cards. We have had people walk-in in crisis and, of course, they are seen at that time. After a client makes contact with us, a notice of that contact and the scheduled appointment time is mailed to the referring probation officer.

- (1) Briefly describe the types of services/treatment you provide to drug users/abusers:
We provide a thirty day residential treatment program, outpatient counseling, and aftercare.
- (2) Do you specify a particular client population (i.e., males or females, only; restricted age groups; other client characteristics which are or are not appropriate for your setting):
We service males and females over the age of eighteen. Clients must live within our nine-county catchment area.
- (3) Is there typically a waiting list for admittance? If so, for how long?
The waiting list depends on how many clients we have. Most of the time, they can get right in or, if not, can within two weeks.
- (4) Do you specify length of treatment? If so, what is it?
Treatment lasts thirty days, with six months aftercare.
- (5) Do you have an existing contract for services with your local probation department? yes no
- (6) Can you estimate your cost of services (daily, weekly, or monthly)?
Our fee is $350 for thirty days, including the aftercare.
- (7) Do you have a "sliding scale" payment plan?
Yes, we do.
- (8) Do you have any restrictions on accepting any type of insurance payments?
We are not licensed for insurance.
- (9) Do you have any restrictions for providing progress reports on the probationer to the probation department on a regular basis?
The only requirement is the client has to sign a release of information.
- (10) Do you have a "referral process" the probation department should follow (i.e., "walk-ins" vs. specific appointment times, documents to be provided by client or department, etc.)?
Call for an appointment.

Contact Person: Sam Parker, MA, LPC, CADAC

- (1) Briefly describe the types of services/treatment you provide to drug users/abusers:
The Alcohol Orientation Group (AOG) is designed as an education, awareness, and support group for alcohol and drug abuse offenders. It is not designed as a complete "treatment" program, but does an excellent job in providing a basic knowledge of the effects of mind/mood altering substances.
- (2) Do you specify a particular client population (i.e., males or females, only; restricted age groups; other client characteristics which are or are not appropriate for your setting):
Client population is restricted to individuals on probation being supervised by Hale, Swisher, and Castro Counties.
- (3) Is there typically a waiting list for admittance? If so, for how long?
No, there is not.
- (4) Do you specify length of treatment? If so, what is it?
The AOG program is a series of twelve sessions conducted over a six month period. The client is scheduled to attend two sessions per month. Each session lasts one hour.
- (5) Do you have an existing contract for services with your local probation department? yes no
- (6) Can you estimate your cost of services (daily, weekly, or monthly)?
A one-time fee of $25 covers the cost of the AOG, twelve sessions.
- (7) Do you have a "sliding scale" payment plan?
No. We believe the fee of $25 is extremely reasonable and affordable.
- (8) Do you have any restrictions on accepting any type of insurance payments?
Yes. Insurance is not utilized as we are not administratively staffed to process insurance paperwork.
- (9) Do you have any restrictions for providing progress reports on the probationer to the probation department on a regular basis?
No. Routine progress reports are provided following each session, and special reports are provided at instructor or probation officer requests.
- (10) Do you have a "referral process" the probation department should follow (i.e., "walk-ins" vs. specific appointment times, documents to be provided by client or department, etc.)?
Entry into the AOG is by Court Order or by supervising officer referral. Our department does honor requests for enrollment received from the county with jurisdiction on courtesy supervision cases.

(817) 772-3500

Contact Person: Jackie Thomas, Director of Admissions

- (1) Briefly describe the types of services/treatment you provide to drug users/abusers:
The treatment program is comprehensive, family oriented, and multi-disciplinary. It is designed to treat the total person, restoring that person to become comfortable in sobriety. The treatment team approach provides each patient with a program tailored to meet his or her unique needs.
- (2) Do you specify a particular client population (i.e., males or females, only; restricted age groups; other client characteristics which are or are not appropriate for your setting):
We treat those persons eighteen years of age and above, male or female. We accept people of all races, creeds, color, or religious affiliation.
- (3) Is there typically a waiting list for admittance? If so, for how long?
There are times that clients do not have to wait for admittance.
- (4) Do you specify length of treatment? If so, what is it?
We prefer twenty-eight days for inpatient treatment, although the length of stay is individualized. There is six weeks of aftercare.
- (5) Do you have an existing contract for services with your local probation department? yes no
- (6) Can you estimate your cost of services (daily, weekly, or monthly)?
The average daily cost for chemical dependency treatment is $490. Aftercare is free of charge.
- (7) Do you have a "sliding scale" payment plan?
We do not have a sliding scale, but payment plans are available for self-pay, deductibles, and co-payments.
- (8) Do you have any restrictions on accepting any type of insurance payments?
We do not accept Medicaid but will accept all companies which pay for drug/alcohol treatment. See #7 above for dealing with policies that have limited payment amounts.
- (9) Do you have any restrictions for providing progress reports on the probationer to the probation department on a regular basis?
Reports will be made if the patient signs a release of information to the probation department.
- (10) Do you have a "referral process" the probation department should follow (i.e., "walk-ins" vs. specific appointment times, documents to be provided by client or department, etc.)?
Contact the Director of Admissions for information.

Waco, Texas 76712
(817) 776-5970

Contact Person: Ron Wilson, Substance Abuse Program Director

- (1) Briefly describe the types of services/treatment you provide to drug users/abusers:
We offer medical management of detoxification and an alcohol/drug-free environment with a highly structured setting. Specific treatment methods include individual and family therapy, special educational and vocational programs, participation in AA and NA, physical conditioning, leisure planning and activities therapy. Appropriate testing is also conducted to determine the patient's physical and psychological state.
- (2) Do you specify a particular client population (i.e., males or females, only; restricted age groups; other client characteristics which are or are not appropriate for your setting):
For the Adult Substance Abuse program, clients must be eighteen years old and above or legally emancipated by marriage/court order. Since the best outcome with clients dependent on heroin/Dilaudid results from long-term treatment, we prefer to refer these clients elsewhere.
- (3) Is there typically a waiting list for admittance? If so, for how long?
Usually there is no waiting list.
- (4) Do you specify length of treatment? If so, what is it?
The Substance Abuse program is about twenty-eight days, but client needs determine length of treatment.
- (5) Do you have an existing contract for services with your local probation department? yes no
- (6) Can you estimate your cost of services (daily, weekly, or monthly)?
The daily cost is $446 plus physician costs.
- (7) Do you have a "sliding scale" payment plan?
We will provide limited charity care and will reduce payments if a patient has limited means. The physician will require full payment.
- (8) Do you have any restrictions on accepting any type of insurance payments?
No, we do not.
- (9) Do you have any restrictions for providing progress reports on the probationer to the probation department on a regular basis?
We always strongly encourage the patients on probation or parole to sign a release of information form when admitted.
- (10) Do you have a "referral process" the probation department should follow (i.e., "walk-ins" vs. specific appointment times, documents to be provided by client or department, etc.)?
We prefer the probation department schedule an appointment for an intake evaluation with the Admissions Coordinator/Therapist. We also accept emergency admissions. Proof of insurance is required, and we would appreciate a verbal report from the probation officer.

Contact Person: Art Reyes, Clinical Supervisor

- (1) Briefly describe the types of services/treatment you provide to drug users/abusers:
Outpatient provides the patient and patient's family with didactic lectures on chemical misuse and possible treatment avenues. The patient as well as the patient's recovery support system will be involved in group therapy to process treatment progress and recovery objectives. Added components of our service are individual and family group sessions at the request of the patient, family, or therapist. Drug screening, a current referral system, and assessments are also part of our services.
- (2) Do you specify a particular client population (i.e., males or females, only; restricted age groups; other client characteristics which are or are not appropriate for your setting):
The individuals not appropriate for our treatment would be those who, after assessment, are found to be physically, psychologically, or financially impaired.
- (3) Is there typically a waiting list for admittance? If so, for how long?
There is no waiting list.
- (4) Do you specify length of treatment? If so, what is it?
The treatment duration is three months, with meetings on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays for initial comprehensive care. This is followed by three months of Mondays only transitional care.
- (5) Do you have an existing contract for services with your local probation department? yes no
- (6) Can you estimate your cost of services (daily, weekly, or monthly)?
The total cost to the patient is $2,900, which includes family treatment as well. Our assessments are free.
- (7) Do you have a "sliding scale" payment plan?
We have no sliding scale; however, financial arrangements can be made with the business office manager.
- (8) Do you have any restrictions on accepting any type of insurance payments?
We are a State-licensed facility and do accept third party reimbursement.
- (9) Do you have any restrictions for providing progress reports on the probationer to the probation department on a regular basis?
With written authorization from the patient, progress reports will be sent to whomever needs them.
- (10) Do you have a "referral process" the probation department should follow (i.e., "walk-ins" vs. specific appointment times, documents to be provided by client or department, etc.)?
The patient or probation officer can call to schedule an appointment for each individual, at which time an assessment date will be set up. Appropriate recommendations will be made at a meeting after the assessment is completed.
