COMMISSIONER

January 15, 1991

The Honorable Ned McWherter
Governor of Tennessee and
The General Assembly
State of Tennessee

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am pleased to present to you the Department of Correction's 1989-90 Annual Report. Fiscal Year 1989-90 was a year of growth and progress in the Department of Correction. The department moved closer toward meeting the requirements of its 1985 federal court order. Two new high-security institutions opened, and the first of three 998-bed facilities is expected to be completed during fiscal year 1991. Community alternatives to incarceration programs were expanded to supervise additional offenders. The workload of our probation division was expanded to provide investigative reports for more offenders and to supervise short-term felons released from incarceration.

I am continuously impressed with the dedication and competence of the department's staff. Their hard work and enthusiasm greatly contributed to the progress of the department this year.

Sincerely,

W. Jeff Reynolds

- o Legislation was enacted to allow offenders successfully completing the Wayne County Boot Camp program to be released to probation supervision rather than parole supervision.
- o Offenders serving sentences of two years or less are eligible for release to probation supervision at their earliest release eligibility date at the beginning of fiscal year 1991.
- o Lawsuits against the state involving county jails' populations have been consolidated and are now under Judge Thomas Higgins and a Consultant for Local Corrections (CLC) Allen Breed was appointed. The CLC's authority and role is to recommend capacity limits for each facility, and to set a limit on the number of state inmates. Both the state and the counties are responsible for compliance with the limits.

- o The construction project to rebuild housing units and program space at Turney Center was nearing completion.
- o A proposal to design, program, and implement the new Tennessee Offender Management Information System (TOMIS), was developed and a vendor was selected. The system is to be completed by December 1991.
- o The Knoxville Community Service Center and the Division of Field Services were reaccredited by the American Correctional Association. Fort Pillow Prison and Farm and Brushy Mountain State Penitentiary formally entered the accreditation process.
- o The state requested a modification of the court order to allow the Tennessee State Penitentiary to remain operational until 1992.

Grubbs Litigation

Grubbs was filed as a class action suit in 1980, asserting that living conditions of inmates in Tennessee's then twelve state penal institutions violated Eighth and Fourteenth Amendment guarantees. Chief Judge L. Clure Morton of the Middle District of Tennessee conducted a bench trial in November and December 1981. Judge Morton found seven specific conditions in various institutions that violated constitutional standards. He determined at that time, to appoint a special master and required the department to submit plans for remedying the unconstitutional conditions on a strict timetable. Following Judge Morton's retirement, Grubbs was assigned to District Judge Thomas A. Higgins, on whose docket it remains.

During this fiscal year, a motion was filed by the attorney general on behalf of the department requesting an extension of the use of the Health Center and the living units at Tennessee State Penitentiary (TSP). The motion also requested that the department be allowed to partially double cell the new housing units at Turney Center Industrial Prison and Farm (TC).

On April 30, 1990, Judge Higgins issued an order allowing the continued use of the Health Center located at TSP until the Special Needs Facility becomes operational. The matter of the extended use of the living units at TSP was heard before the special master on January 31, 1990. Subsequent to this hearing, the master issued his report and recommendations to Judge Higgins on March 9, 1990, which provided for the continued use of the housing units at TSP with certain restrictions. A hearing on this matter was held before Judge Higgins on April 12, 1990. On August 16, 1990, Judge Higgins issued a memorandum and order which provided for the continued use of the housing units at TSP until March 30, 1992.

The special master and Judge Higgins have not yet heard the state's motion to partially double cell the new housing units at Turney Center.

Compliance

In November 1989, the Compliance Section was created to provide support and assistance to all divisions by ensuring that departmental practices adhere to constitutional and professional standards, court recommendations, statutory laws and TDOC policies. The Compliance Section currently has three major areas of responsibility:

1. Reporting on the department's level of compliance with the approximately 1,500 court evaluator recommendations under the Grubbs lawsuit. This requires that reports be submitted to the special master on a semi-annual basis.
2. The coordination of the department's accreditation activities in all work locations involved in the process.
3. The coordination and oversight of the department's annual inspections of all institutions and field service programs.

Court Compliance/Program Evaluation. During the six month reporting cycle ending December 1989, visits were made to eight institutions to monitor compliance with evaluator recommendations under the Grubbs lawsuit. Concentration was placed in the areas of security and institutional environment. Nine institutions were visited during the second reporting cycle ending June 1990. Of the nine institutions visited, four had reviews in the areas of security and institutional environment while the remaining five had audits of inmate employment. As a result of these audits, the commissioner certified to the court that 216 recommendations were "complete." At the end of each reporting cycle, a report was submitted to the special master detailing the progress made by the department relative to court recommendations.

Fiscal Year 1989-90 Annual Report

Accreditation. Prior to the beginning of the fiscal year, ten institutions and the Division of Field Services had been nationally accredited by the American Correctional Association. Two of the department's programs, Knoxville Community Service Center and the Division of Field Services, were reaccredited in April 1990. Fort Pillow Prison and Farm and Brushy Mountain State Penitentiary formally entered the accreditation process in February and March 1990, respectively. DeBerry Correctional Institute withdrew from the accreditation process in December 1989 due to the department's plan to vacate the facility when the Special Needs Facility becomes operational in May 1992.

In June 1990, accreditation staff provided 24 hours of training for all institutional accreditation managers at the Tennessee Correction Academy. This was the first time formalized training had been conducted and it is anticipated that this will become an annual event.

Annual Inspections. Annual inspections are detailed observations and reports of the appearance, physical condition, and overall operation of each institution and field service program. These inspections are conducted by teams consisting of central office, institution, and field personnel. Reinspections, if necessary, are scheduled and conducted within 90 days following the completion of the original inspection. During the past year, 16 institutions were inspected and all achieved passing scores.

Legal Services

The Legal Services Section is counsel on behalf of the commissioner and is legal representative for the commissioner in various legal and administrative proceedings involving the department. The process of policy development, review, and distribution is also a function of the legal services section. The office continued to work with the Attorney General in the defense of various inmate civil rights lawsuits filed against the department and its employees and in the defense of various appeals concerning employee grievances.

Strong emphasis continued to be placed on establishing and maintaining communications with employees in the field. In an effort to maintain communication, the office wrote and distributed a quarterly newsletter to the field. The legal section attorneys offered workshops all across the state on many topics including the criminal sentencing code and the inmate disciplinary board.

Planning and Research

The Planning and Research Section provides information, analysis, and research to assist in improving the department's management and operation. The section responded to numerous information requests and surveys received by the department from the General Assembly, federal court monitors, and other outside agencies. The section instituted a new monthly felon population monitoring report in fiscal year 1989-90 and maintained reporting systems for institutional incident reports, monthly jail population, institutional populations, and legislative tracking. A revised felony inmate population projection was developed and presented to the Joint Legislative Oversight Committee on Corrections. The Section also assisted in developing new data collection systems and in improving the reliability and accuracy of existing data systems. The Section produced this annual report.

Internal Audit

Internal Audit is responsible for conducting all fiscal audits within the Department of Correction as assigned by the commissioner.

At the beginning of the fiscal year 1989-90 the program audit section of Internal Audit was transferred into the new Compliance Section. Since that time Internal Audit has operated with one auditor.

During this fiscal year 1989-90 Internal Audit completed nine limited fiscal audits. Eight audits were at adult institutions and one at a regional probation office.

The Comptroller's audit for fiscal years 1986-87 and 1987-88 was reviewed in February 1990. During the last half of the fiscal year, Internal Audit began working with Fiscal Services to resolve target audit findings that were repeated in two prior audits. Follow-up audits will continue in order to resolve these and other audit findings issued by the Comptroller's Office.

Internal Affairs Section

The Internal Affairs Section conducts investigations specifically authorized by the commissioner or deputy commissioner and are limited to matters relating to the operations of the department.

During this fiscal year, the section was decentralized and three investigators were reassigned to the newly created regional offices. Revised policies and procedures were implemented in June 1990 to match the changed responsibilities for Internal Affairs.

The principal types of investigative matters were drugs, staff misconduct, and escapes in the adult institutions.

The section continued to work closely with various federal, state, and municipal and county investigative agencies. This resulted in the mutual sharing of intelligence information, sharing of technical services, and informant development. A number of investigative matters were referred to attorney generals throughout the state for possible prosecution.

Employee Grievance Section

The Employee Grievance Section is a resource for department employees with respect to correct procedures for resolving grievances and assists in establishing consistent actions. Classes for senior managers and pre-supervisors are conducted at the Tennessee Correction Academy. These classes focus on civil service concepts and procedures for disciplinary and grievance actions. Monthly and quarterly reports are distributed to assist in the establishment of consistency by allowing personnel to better monitor cases and provide feedback to the field.

Budget

The budget section is responsible for coordinating the proper development, submission, and use of the department's operating budget. Technical assistance is provided to the field units in the development and management of the operating budget. The budget section also monitors, revises, and authorizes expenditure of the department's operating funds and revenue collections.

During FY 1989-90, the budget section, in conjunction with the field and central office staff, operated under usual procedures except for the major reductions made statewide in all operating budgets. These cuts were necessary due to low statewide revenue collections and resulted in TDOC reverting nearly $5 million for the year. The department's share of the reduction was 4.7 percent of its operating budget, including 371 positions effective July 1, 1990.

Correctional Enterprises

Correctional Enterprises of Tennessee (CET) is responsible for managing the overall operations of the correctional farms and industry plants within TDOC. CET provides inmates with meaningful work opportunities in a business environment. While stressing the importance of skills and work ethics, CET provides a quality product and service to government agencies and non-profit organizations.

Correctional Enterprises expanded during the fiscal year. Construction was completed on a new apparel plant at Southeastern Tennessee State Regional Correctional Facility, and that plant will soon be employing 60 inmates. A textile operation at Morgan County Regional Correctional Facility, along with a woodworking/refurbishing plant are in the beginning stages of operation. Ninety-five jobs have been established for these operations.

Construction has been completed on the apparel plant at the Tennessee Prison for Women. This plant has been in full operation since April 1990, producing officer uniform shirts.

Both the apparel and woodworking/refurbishing plants at the new West Tennessee High Security Facility are moving forward toward full production. The apparel plant will be producing inmate shirts and jumpsuits. The woodworking and refurbishing operation will service the West Tennessee area.

The two data operations at Riverbend Maximum Security Institution have been very successful in providing meaningful work opportunities. Riverbend is one of the only two prisons in the nation to establish a work program for inmates confined to death row. Riverbend is the first in the U.S. to utilize this class of inmate for data entry work.

The farm program has opened two new dairy plants, one at Southeastern Tennessee State Regional Correctional Facility and one at Fort Pillow Prison and Farm. They both also have new half-pint cartoning machines and are able to provide the prisons across the state with half-pint milk.

The other farm operations such as the sawmill, beef cattle and row crops are continuing to grow. Vegetable production in particular has expanded through contractual arrangements with a private processing company. We will now be able to exchange our vegetables for any other needed vegetable they offer through their distributors. This program will be expanded in the future to provide an even higher percentage of food for TDOC consumption.

Revenues collected for the past year were $11.4 million, a nine percent growth over fiscal year 1988.

Engineering

The engineering section forms an administrative bridge between institutional managers and the architects, engineers, and contractors providing services to them. This section prepares maintenance budgets, new construction programs, cost proposals, and maintenance policy. Engineers review construction plans, specifications, and completed work as well as investigate new building sites.

After extensive planning, design, and construction nearly all 1985 Special Session projects have been completed. Our two new prisons in Davidson and Lauderdale Counties are operating. Three additional new prisons and a special needs prison are beginning construction and should be complete by 1992.

Fiscal Services

The Fiscal Services Section is responsible for continuing to improve the department's financial accountability through the state's Financial Integrity Act. The section also assures prompt and accurate payment of the department's financial obligations. Technical assistance is provided to the field operating units in developing and maintaining integrity in the financial management system.

The section is the liaison between the department and the departments of Finance and Administration and General Services, Comptroller of the Treasury, and several other state departments.

During the fiscal year, the section has placed much emphasis on the follow-up of implementation of actions included in the department's response to the latest audit report issued by the Division of State Audit of the Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury. Another significant activity was preparation for implementation of the Tennessee On-line Purchasing System (TOPS).

Management Information Services

Management Information Services provides sentence management information, computerized information reporting, technical assistance in the design and development of computerized systems, and forms and publications service. The section calculates all felon sentences, maintains all inmate records of offenders who have been in the system, and monitors the release dates for the parole board in order to produce the parole dockets.

During the fiscal year, the Systems Development Services staff, in addition to the routine maintenance of existing software, completed analysis and specifications of three major systems that are crucial to the effective operation of the department.

Central Pharmacy System. The analysis of the needs of the Central Pharmacy, the cost justification and the identification of software/hardware to meet these needs was submitted to and approved by the Department of Finance and Administration in April 1990. This system will be in operation prior to January 1, 1991.

Correctional Enterprises Manufacturing System. The Request for Proposal for this system has been completed. The proposal for this system has not been issued due to the delay of the Statewide Mid-Range Computer contract.

Tennessee Offender Management Information System (TOMIS). The project team conducted joint application design meetings for eight months with over 300 staff attending from the Department of Correction, the Board of Parole and Community Correction grantees. The purpose of these meetings was to document the requirements of the TOMIS system. As these meetings were completed, the essential model for the TOMIS system was built. With the completed model a Request for Proposal was prepared to solicit proposals to design, program and implement the new system. The Request for Proposal was issued incorporating all the requirements mandated by the Grubbs federal court order. The proposal was bid by three vendors. The evaluation of these proposals was completed in May and a vendor was selected. The contract award is to be made in early July 1990.

Sentence Management Services had a very busy year with the implementation and training for the Criminal Sentencing Reform Act of 1989. Training was provided to the staff of all adult institutions and representatives of Shelby and Davidson counties. In addition to this and the routine duties of the area, technical assistance was provided to the sheriffs' departments concerning sentence reduction credits and form preparation for data entry. The Sheriff's Handbook for Sentence Management was revised.

Operational Support Services configured and delivered over seventy personal computers to field locations throughout the state. A considerable number of trouble calls regarding hardware were resolved. Over 3,000 requests for information on inmates were filled, 600,000 data entry transactions were entered, 24,000 inmate file folders were filmed, and in excess of 300,000 pieces of mail was processed.

Personnel

The Personnel Section monitors and provides training for the personnel functions of the department for compliance with civil service rules, state law, and policies and procedures. The section also monitors training, performance evaluations, and employee assistance programs to enhance employee effectiveness. The section developed and monitored the department's affirmative action plan.

The Personnel Section continued its move away from process to service functions by coordinating a major change in the department's recording of leave and attendance. For the first time, time-keeping audits and data entry are being performed at the institutional level. The Personnel Section conducted an intensive training effort to prepare supervisors and time-keepers to carry out their responsibilities in this vital area.

The unit provided major support to the departmental training needs study.

The recruiting efforts begun last year continued as the need for large scale recruitment shifted from Nashville and West Tennessee to the Johnson County area in anticipation of the opening of the Northeast Correctional Center. Long range recruitment planning began for the shift back to Middle and West Tennessee in the out-years ahead. Job Fairs, coordination with local governmental and media representatives, and liaison with other state departments were the primary activities in this area.

The unit spent a large portion of the year in coordinating extensive logging and processing systems to deal with the modified hiring freeze and assisting in the communications necessary to make such an ad hoc system work effectively.

The unit coordinated the abolishment of positions required by the administration's response to the revenue shortfall, and designed and managed the plan to place employees whose positions were abolished.

Tennessee Correction Academy

The Tennessee Correction Academy's mission is to provide quality training to the department's personnel. Pre-Service and In-Service training increased during the fiscal year. The major focus of training was upon job specific skill attainment and enrichment.

The Academy User Board, which served as the program oversight and approval mechanism, met quarterly. Innovative training standards and attendance patterns were approved and implemented to reduce trainee travel time costs while still maintaining accreditation standards.

A variety of courses were offered during the fiscal year. Beyond normally scheduled programs, specialized training was offered in the areas of Substance Abuse Treatment, Fiscal Training, Disciplinary Board Chairperson Certification, Unit Management Training, Pre-Supervisory Training, Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) Certification, Computer-Based Training, Tactical Team Commander Training, a Video Camera Workshop, and Hostage Negotiators Updates.

During the year an internal curriculum review committee developed a comprehensive testing program, incorporating both pre-test and post-test components to more fully evaluate and measure the effectiveness of the Academy's pre-service programs.

The Academy instructional staff has been assigned to complete two weeks on-the-job training at various institutions throughout the state to insure that the staff remains current with institutional and field operations.

Classification Programs

The Classification Section is responsible for the implementation and maintenance of the system of managing the progression of inmates from intake into TDOC custody through the period of incarceration.

The classification process evaluates information concerning assessed needs of inmates to aid in making appropriate recommendations concerning programs and levels of supervision. A major objective is to involve inmates in programs in the least restrictive setting consistent with the safety and protection of the public, TDOC staff and other inmates. Emphasis is given to custody, i.e., necessary levels of supervision as determined from the recency, severity and frequency of an individual's institutional conduct and offense conviction history. The process of evaluation occurs continually throughout an inmate's period of incarceration, and is managed at the institutional level by correctional classification coordinators.

Information from the inmate needs assessment process is collected and maintained for use in the inmate program and departmental planning process.

This section is also responsible for ensuring that institutional inmate population levels do not exceed limits established by federal court mandate.

This is accomplished by authorizing admissions of inmates to the department from county jails on a daily basis contingent upon the inhouse population count. Further, the section monitors and approves, on the basis of population levels, inter-institutional transfers of inmates.

Education

The Education Section provides staff support to the department's institutional education programs. These services include grant and entitlement program development and monitoring; curriculum frameworks and guides; technical assistance; liaison between the department and other agencies; and Career Ladder evaluation and payment coordination.

Significant events during the fiscal year included: expanding vocational and pre-release program upgrading, using increased Carl Perkins Vocational Act funding; increasing Pell Grant funded vocational programming; revision of Special Education procedures. The total number of inmates receiving some type of educational service increased from 5,451 in FY 1988-89 to 6,181 during this fiscal year. This level of programming provided education opportunities for 56 percent of all inmates in our institutions during the fiscal year.

Fiscal Year 1989-90 Annual Report

Food Services

The Food Services Section coordinates the food service operations in all the institutions. Advice and assistance are provided on operational matters such as sanitation, controlling food cost, and food preparation. Compliance with TDOC policies and ACA standards is monitored by institutional visits and annual inspections.

During fiscal year 1989-90, over 9,816,000 meals were served in the department. The food expenditure is broken out as follows: $9,321,000 state funds and $496,000 in U.S. Department of Agriculture commodities for an average cost per day of $2.84.

A survey of inmates was conducted to determine their food preferences. The master menu was revised to reflect those preferences. The implementation of the master menu allowed us to put more emphasis on special diets, sanitation and other areas of food service.

Seven food service classes were held at the Tennessee Correction Academy during the fiscal year. Various aspects of food service were covered including production, sanitation and cost containment.

Health Services

The Health Services Section is responsible for planning, coordinating and monitoring the health and mental health service delivery system for offenders incarcerated within TDOC.

Health care services available to TDOC inmates and the quality of that care continued to increase in FY 1989-90. A departmental policy on Quality Assurance was implemented, which defines institutional and departmental responsibilities for operation of the program. Additionally, a Quality Assurance Coordinator has been appointed to train institutional staff and monitor the overall program.

Mental health programs have been enhanced through implementation of mental health module training for substance abusers and sex offenders. Most institutions received one or two Mental Health Program Specialist positions to conduct the module training.

Mental health statistical reporting has been placed on a computer database thus enhancing data retrieval capability.

Many hours of participation have been spent in the planning and design of the Special Needs Facility, which will combine the functions of DeBerry Correctional Institute and Tennessee State Penitentiary Health Center.

Special Programs

The Special Programs section is primarily concerned with the development, implementation, and oversight of policies and procedures which are treatment oriented. This section functions in cooperation with other sections in enhancing inmate due process appeal rights, treatment privileges, and rehabilitative efforts. Section staff also provides training for field staff in all areas.

During fiscal year 1989-90, Special Programs staff reviewed and responded to all inmate claims in compliance with the Tuggle court order. This order provided that all black persons incarcerated in the Tennessee Department of Correction (TDOC) at any point from October 24, 1982 to May 8, 1987, who claim to have been denied or removed from a job assignment on the basis of race could file a claim requesting sentence reduction credits for the period of the alleged discrimination. Those claimants who were dissatisfied with the TDOC response to their claim were entitled to appeal the decision to the Administrative Procedures Division of the Tennessee Department of State, and furthermore, to the United States District Court.

In conjunction with the Tuggle and Grubbs orders, this section also monitored the department's implementation and compliance with recommendations of court appointed consultants concerning inmate jobs. These recommendations, and the policies developed to implement them, emphasized a structured system of inmate education and training, inmate accountability for performing duties up to established expectations, and formalized procedures for advancement through the skill/pay level system. Section staff also began in-depth reassessments of inmate job needs and policy compliance on-site at facilities.

During this year, Special Programs staff reviewed, investigated, and responded to over 3,600 Level III inmate grievance appeals. The purpose of the grievance procedure is to allow inmate complaints to be raised, addressed, and resolved within the department rather than in the federal courts. The procedure involves responses to complaints by a grievance chairperson, committee of staff and inmate members, and warden at the institutional level at all adult institutions. Level III appeals to the Commissioner's office are the final step in the process. Federal judges may refuse to hear lawsuits filed by inmates which have not exhausted the grievance process.

The Mutual Agreement Parole Program (MAPP) is also overseen for the TDOC by Special Programs. MAPP is intended to prepare selected inmates for release through structured activities, scheduled progression in custody levels, participation in community-based programs, and guaranteed parole. This program was established jointly by the TDOC and the Board of Paroles. One inmate was released pursuant to a MAPP contract during this fiscal year under the original criteria for participation. Subsequent to new criteria established by the Board of Paroles for participation, no new MAPP contracts have been approved.

Volunteer Services

Volunteers serve three roles in the Department of Correction. Volunteers provide direct service to the department by performing the duties for which they are recruited. These duties include counseling, tutoring, committee work to name a few of the areas of activity currently identified. A volunteer averages giving eight hours per month. Volunteers provide a communications link with the community serving as a conduit through which information can flow in or out. Volunteers are advocates within the system for the offender with whom they work, and for the department within the community in which they live.

Volunteers are assigned to work only after orientation and training. Each volunteer is assigned to a staff member for supervision. The staff supervisor assigns the volunteer to the work assignment and is available for any support the volunteer may need. During fiscal year 1989-90, 3,209 volunteers gave 84,569 hours of service valued at $784,021.

The State Volunteer Advisory Board is responsible for working with the department on volunteer matters of a statewide concern. The state board coordinates a network of regional and institutional volunteer advisory boards. Each region and institution board is responsible for assisting in the development and management of the local volunteer programs. A newsletter is published monthly by the board to inform volunteers and staff of the types of volunteer programs being done across the state.

Community Corrections

The Community Corrections Section is responsible for overseeing the grant program for the delivery of community corrections services. Community Corrections programs are intended as an alternative to incarceration for offenders. The FY 1989-90 appropriation was for $4.5 million. Grants went to 13 continuation programs and 3 new programs. The 11 percent increase in funding provided for a 46 percent increase in program admissions (790 to 1,154). The programs serve 93 counties including all four metropolitan areas. At the end of the fiscal year, approximately 1,500 felony offenders were under Community Correction supervision. Many of the grantees use electronic monitoring devices to aid in enforcing house arrest components, and three grantees operate residential centers for offenders.

County Correctional Incentive Program

The County Correctional Incentive Program underwent numerous changes during fiscal year 1990. The General Assembly reviewed measures regarding the program to respond to concerns of cost containment and overcrowding. In response to Public Chapter 452 of 1989, the Department of Correction implemented rules and regulations to accomplish two objectives:

- (1) Implement a per diem payment plan to jails for housing convicted felons based on reasonable allowable cost.
- (2) Determine those counties willing to house convicted felons sentenced to less than three years beginning July 1992.

All counties had the opportunity to determine and choose an interim rate based on estimated jail costs or the discretionary flat rate of $18 or $20 per day. At the end of the fiscal year, counties file actual expenditure figures and the exact cost is determined. The Comptroller withholds ten percent of each month's payment and the total June payment for each county until the actual cost is reconciled and approved. Further rule changes will allow counties to use fiscal year 1990 actual cost as their FY 1991 estimated cost thereby reducing paperwork and effort for all parties involved.

Department rules requested each county government to consider the question of contracting for housing convicted felons and give the state an indication of their decision by November 1989. Fifteen counties expressed an interest in contracting under the new regulations. Based on the felon population in mid-1989, about 3,000 inmates will be "eligible for local housing", and 2,300 inmates would be housed in local facilities, or 75 percent of the potential population.

The state appropriated $62.7 million for fiscal year 1990 for counties to be reimbursed through per diem procedures for state prosecutions.

Currently Shelby County is in a construction program that will increase their total bed capacity to over 5,000 by 1992. The state has pledged $18.8 million to Shelby County for construction.

The Correctional Incentive Program continued to maintain a goal of closer coordination with counties to enhance communication and understanding of correctional needs of local and state government. This is especially vital to our efforts to respond to those counties that have agreed to contract for housing of felons and enable both parties to reach 1992 with the ability to meet contractual arrangements through the management of correctional populations.

Tennessee Jail Resource Center

The Tennessee Jail Resource Center is responsible for providing technical assistance relating to construction and design of Tennessee county jails. The section also assists with development of policies and procedures regarding security, staffing, health care, nutrition and other operational and programmatic areas of concern. The section has developed a jail resource library that has been used by local governments.
