To the Members of the Supreme Court of Louisiana
To the Members of the Board of Governors of the Louisiana State Bar Association

Ladies and Gentlemen:

The 1990 annual report of judicial activity is herewith transmitted for the first time over my signature inasmuch as I assumed my new duties as Chief Justice on April 9, 1990. I wish to take this opportunity to thank formally former Chief Justice John A. Dixon, Jr. for his leadership over the past ten years in moving forward the administration of justice in Louisiana. Suffice it to say that his guidance and leadership will be sorely missed.

This report contains a great deal of factual information concerning the work performed by the judiciary. In addition to detailed statistical information, the many projects and programs being directed by the Judicial Administrator's office, the Law Library of Louisiana, the Judiciary Commission, the Judicial College, and the Judicial Council are outlined. The information contained herein reflects the judiciary's commitment and accomplishments regarding improvements in the delivery of justice to the citizens of Louisiana.

With kindest regards, I remain

Very truly yours,

Pascal F. Calogero, Jr.

The Judicial Council

Chief Justice Dixon retires . . . Chief Justice Calogero is new chair . . .

Chief Justice John A. Dixon, Jr. retired from the bench on April 8, 1990 - his 70th birthday. One of the tasks of the Chief Justice is to serve as Chair of the Judicial Council of the Louisiana Supreme Court. During his term of office, Chief Justice Dixon contributed much to the growth and stability of the Judicial Council. He will be missed by the members and staff of the Council.

The new Chief Justice, Pascal F. Calogero, Jr., has assumed the duties of his office and serves as the new Chair of the Council. "I believe the Judicial Council to be one of the most important entities in the state. The work of the Council is invaluable to the Court, especially with regard to its administrative duties," Calogero told the Council members.

The work of the Judicial Council continues as before, with certain prescribed activities and with the assumption of additional studies as the need arises.

Requests for new judgeships evaluated . . .

In 1990, the Committee to Evaluate Requests for New District Judgeships, chaired by Retired Judge Tom Tanner considered requests for nine new judgeships including the creation of a juvenile court in one district. Following thorough examination of court records and after visits to the courts in question by "site visitation teams" composed of evaluation committee members and staff from the Judicial Administrator's office, the Judicial Council voted to recommend the creation of four new district judgeships, one additional judgeship for East Baton Rouge Parish to be juvenile or family as constitutionally acceptable, and one city court judgeship.

Additionally the Committee to Evaluate Requests for New Appellate Judgeships, chaired by Retired Judge James Culotta recommended a request for one new appellate judgeship which was approved by the Council.

Subsequently, the Louisiana Legislature created one new judgeship for the 22nd Judicial District Court, St. Tammany and Washington Parishes; one new judgeship for the 24th Judicial District Court, Jefferson Parish; and two new judgeships for Orleans Civil District Court - the creation of the Orleans Civil District Court judgeships was predicated on the abolishment of the four Commissioner positions on Civil District Court and these positions ceased to exist on December 31, 1990. The judgeships in the 22nd and 24th Judicial Districts are presently on hold pending the outcome of federal litigation. The legislature created a separate juvenile court for East Baton Rouge parish with one judgeship; and created one new judgeship for Monroe City Court - the creation of this judgeship required Monroe City Court judges to become fulltime. The legislature created one new judgeship for the Court of Appeal, Second Circuit.

Backlog in circuits under study . . . Orleans courts subject of continued study . . . Records Management Committee formed . . .

Other action by the Council included the creation of a Committee to study backlog in the Courts of Appeal, First and Third Circuits which will be chaired by appellate Judges J. Burton Foret and Walter I. Lanier, Jr. and staffed by Chief Deputy Judicial Administrator Timothy J. Palmatier; the creation of a Records Management Committee, chaired by Judge Brady Fitzsimmons and staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Paulette H. Holahan; the creation of a committee to respond to a National Center for State Courts report which makes recommendations as to the financial, personnel, and technological aspects of the way the courts in Orleans parish operate. Judge Patrick M. Schott has been named chair of this committee which will be staffed by Chief Deputy Palmatier.

Judicial Planning Committee: Reports . . . Survey . . .

The subcommittees of the Judicial Planning Committee (J.P.C.) which is chaired by Associate Justice James L. Dennis are involved in numerous studies as follows.

The Science and Technology Subcommittee, chaired by Judge Charles A. Marvin and staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Ronald Wm. Stritzinger is presently sponsoring pilot projects in Baton Rouge City Court - videotaping and audiotaping as a method of court transcription; and the Computer integrated Courtroom (C.I.C.) in one division of Orleans Criminal District Court. Rose Marie Bye, director of the court reporter pool for the Supreme Court is a member of this committee and is coordinating the C.I.C. Additionally the subcommittee is investigating the capabilities of FAX for use by the courts.

The Juvenile Courts Subcommittee, chaired by Judge Sal Mulé and staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Nancy C. Chachere is looking into delivery of services to juveniles with attention to the feasibility of regionalization. The subcommittee has been considering the possibility of a statewide juvenile court system for the state and has now intensified its effort in this area. Judge Gorman Taylor will head up a special committee dedicated to this task.

The Appellate Court Delay/Court Reporter Subcommittee chaired by Retired Judge Cleveland J. Marcel, staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrators Stritzinger and Bye, is working on possible legislation with regard to the appellate process at the trial court level where the process begins.

As is its custom, the J.P.C. conducted an annual survey to determine the concerns of the states' district judges. The 1990 survey was conducted by Deputy Judicial Administrator Holahan who has conducted each annual survey since 1983. In 1990, judges were asked to respond to the same survey question as in 1983. The results were compared, with notably similar results. The 1990 concerns were funding; law clerks; space; juvenile concerns - in many areas; indigent defender programs; and the need for judicial administrators. In somewhat different order, these were the same concerns articulated in 1983.

Jury Standards . . . Pilot Projects in Trial Delay . . . Task Force on Women in the courts . . .

In other areas of activity the Judicial Council also received reports from the following committees.

The Jury Standards Committee, chaired by Judge Melvin

Shortess and staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Timothy Averill and Judicial Administrator Dr. Hugh M. Collins has completed its work and submitted a complete set of Jury Standards patterned after the ABA recommended guidelines. The result of 2½ years of work, the recommendations to the Judicial Council were with the expectation that the Council, following approval, would submit the report to the Supreme Court for approval and implementation.

The Judicial Council has approved a portion of the standards and will take action on the remainder in the early part of 1991. The standards utilize Louisiana law wherever the committee deemed it best to do so and the ABA standards were adapted to Louisiana's needs.

A pilot project on Trial Delay Reduction, chaired by Judge Gerald P. Fedoroff and staffed by Deputy Judicial Administrator Palmatier is operating in two district courts and progress continues to be monitored.

The Louisiana Task Force on Women in the Courts, chaired by Judge Miriam Waltzer, and on which Deputy Judicial Administrator Holahan serves, has set out to determine whether the perception of gender bias in the courts has a basis in fact and to find out how women are affected by the treatment they receive. The Task Force has held public hearings in New Orleans, Monroe, Lafayette, Lake Charles, Alexandria, Shreveport and the final hearing is scheduled to be held in Baton Rouge. The committee's full report is expected in April 1992.

The Judicial Council of the Supreme Court of Louisiana was established in 1950 and received its first funding by the state legislature in 1954. Its task is to evaluate and monitor the operations and procedures of the judicial system of the state. In this capacity, it serves as a clearinghouse for ideas for simplifying and expediting judicial procedures and/or correcting shortcomings in the system. Deputy Judicial Administrator Paulette H. Holahan serves as administrative staff to the Judicial Council. P.H.H.

The Judicial Administrator Reports

HUGH M. COLLINS, Ph.D.
Judicial Administrator

When asked to describe the functions of the Judicial Administrator's office, I always start my response by describing the day-to-day activities.

My office administers the budget for the judicial branch of government. Our finance section pays the salaries and office and travel expenses for the judges and certain of their support personnel. Further, the finance section is the staff for the Judicial Budgetary Control Board. They compile budget requests each year, analyze those requests, testify before the Budgetary Control Board, and then condense the board decisions into documents which allow the Supreme Court to finalize the budget request for the judicial branch of government. This year that effort has been significantly improved through the introduction of personal computers and spreadsheet software. This section also provides staffing for the Judges' Supplemental Compensation Fund. This fund collects fees from more than one hundred clerks of courts' offices. Collecting, compiling, verifying, and investing these funds is a significant task.

Almost every member of my office is involved in the staffing of the Judicial Council. This body which was created by Supreme Court rule is charged with the continuous examination of the working of the courts of Louisiana and with making recommendations for improving those courts. For more information about the accomplishments of the Council and its committees, see page 4.

We provide staffing to the Judiciary Commission of Louisiana. This nine-member body, created by Article V, Section 25, Constitution of 1974, is charged with evaluating complaints of judicial misconduct and either dismissing these complaints or recommending that the Supreme Court censure, suspend with or without salary, remove from office, or involuntarily retire a judge. In support of this Commission, my office reads complaints, talks with complainants, does field investigations, prepares briefing papers for the Commission, and staffs Commission meetings and hearings. For further information about activities of the Judiciary Commission of Louisiana, see page 9.

We also provide staff to the Supreme Court Committee on Judicial Ethics. This nine-member body created by Supreme Court rule is charged with interpretation of the Code of Judicial Conduct. This year more than sixty new judges were elected in Louisiana. This influx made for a particularly busy year since each new judge seemed to have one or more important queries for the Committee.

This office also serves as the public information and education office for the Louisiana Supreme Court and for its many committees and commissions. In addition, we maintain computerized information systems designed to monitor the filings in the city and district courts of the state and to actively follow the progress of every appeal filed in the courts of appeal.

The above activities constitute the bulk of our ordinary functions. However, part of the attraction of working for this office is that when you report to work each morning you never know what new challenge will confront you. On morning last year, we came to work to find our offices had burned. Through hard work, this spring we were able to move back into them. Other days we aided the Supreme Court and the Louisiana State Bar Association in refining and implementing the new lawyer discipline system. We have taken part in studies concerning the Supreme Court assignment policies, the manner in which it processes its cases, and the advisability and feasibility of mandatory IOLTA. We continue to monitor and analyze the impact of the Voting Rights suits which challenge the method of election of judges in our state. We monitor legislation and testify in front of the legislature concerning bills endorsed by the Judicial Council. We have acted as liaison with the executive branch of government in the efforts to move this Court back to 400 Royal Street. While doing that, we have conducted studies on court security.

This office also functions as an information resource similar in many ways to the information desk of a large urban library. Every day we receive numerous questions from judges, researchers, and the public concerning the operation of our courts. In our attempts to anticipate a few of the questions, we have even prepared and published phone books and judges' biography books. This year, due no doubt to the large number of new judges, has been a record year in terms of the volume of questions.

The above gives an overview of the ordinary and not-so-ordinary activities of my office. There is much work to be done, and the pace this past year was more trying than ever before. However, through long hours and innovation, we have managed.

H.M.C.

In 1990, Dr. Hugh M. Collins, Judicial Administrator of the Louisiana Supreme Court, was awarded the Distinguished Service Award of the National Center for State Courts. This prestigious award is presented annually to an individual who has made outstanding contributions both to the administration of justice nationally and to the work of the National Center for State Courts.

Law Library of Louisiana 1990 Annual Report

The end of 1990 is an appropriate time to take stock of the changes that have occurred at the Law Library of Louisiana during the previous decade. Almost exactly ten years ago the library's late director, Miss Harriet Lemann, retired, having accomplished the professionalization of the library staff and the cataloging and classification of the collection. When Carol Billings became director in March 1981, the library was already providing excellent service. The time was ripe for taking on new challenges and attempting improvements.

During the 1980's the burgeoning of computer applications in the nation's libraries effected dramatic changes in both services and administrative procedures. Early in 1981 the Law Library of Louisiana joined the trend by becoming a member of the Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET), the regional component of the nationwide Online Computer Library Center. Our OCLC computer terminal provides instant access to the cataloging records entered into a giant database of libraries all over the country. Member libraries are able to order a large percentage of completed catalog cards for books in their collections or to employ information in the database to do their own "original" cataloging. Our cataloging staff has entered into the OCLC database the records for our entire collection. The other great boon afforded by the system is the interlibrary loan capability. When a library patron needs a book or article that we do not own, we can immediately locate the publication via computer in another library and request it on loan.

Another computer terminal moved into the library in 1982 when we gained word processing capability as part of the Supreme Court's Wang system. Staff members have used this terminal increasingly for writing reports and correspondence and for compiling monthly lists of acquisitions. For attorneys and law clerks who use the library, however, 1983 was the banner year when the Westlaw terminal for conducting computer assisted legal research was installed. After 7½ years our library is still the only location in the state where an attorney or other citizen may request a Westlaw search at a "public terminal" by paying a fee based on the amount of computer time used. The popularity of the service has grown dramatically: reference librarians Tina McLellan and Janice Schull conducted an all-time high of 784 searches for patrons during 1990. In 1989, through a cooperative arrangement with the New Orleans Bar Association, the library also began offering computer research service using the LEXIS system. For searching legal periodical and newspaper indexes in compact disc format, the Legal Trac system is provided.

Automation has also modernized the library's financial procedures. Through cooperation with the Judicial Administrator's office a system for coding all payments to the publishers and other vendors was devised. As a result, the library receives detailed monthly reports showing the sources of all income and lists expenditures by category.

Managing the library's budget is a constant challenge. With the exception of several lean years in 1986 and '87, the library's state appropriation has grown steadily, nearly doubling in the decade. The library's total expenditure for staff, books and operating expenses in 1990 was $643,331. Of that amount $313,921 was spent on books, serials and microfiche, constituting a 76% increase over the 1981 level. During the decade the size of the bound collection has increased by 22% to 125,697 volumes. The microform collection has mushroomed by 520 percent (!) to a total of 140,897 fiches, which are equivalent to 23,484 bound volumes. Thus the library's total volume count is 149,181—a 40% increase over 1981.

Obviously the 87% increase in the cost of acquiring books over ten years far outstrips the 40% growth of the collection. While the number of bound volumes acquired annually has fluctuated between about 2,100 and 2,950 volumes, their cost has risen in a steady progression. Although the 1990 expenditure for books was the highest ever, the number of volumes acquired was fewer than for the previous two years. Of 326 new titles acquired (comprising 413 physical volumes) a majority were free federal and state documents and gifts. Added volumes of continuations and subscriptions made a net gain of 1,732 - also below 1989. Microforms acquisitions increased substantially to 22,215 fiches, (equivalent to 3702 volumes) with about a third representing new titles.

The size of the library staff has changed very little since 1981. Of the 7½ regular positions, only one was added - in 1987. Five of the staff members here now were on board prior to 1981. Two law students and an undergraduate also work part-time. Because of the addition of numerous new services, most particularly the heavy Westlaw usage, the library is sorely in need of an additional reference librarian. Fortunately staff salaries have increased significantly during the decade, placing the library in a competitive position to retain and recruit excellent staff.

Beyond the library staff's day to day responsibilities of acquiring, recording, arranging and maintaining the collection and providing reference and research service, they have taken on many new challenges. Much effort has gone into making the judiciary, the bar and the public more aware of the library's services and needs. The nurturing of the Friends of the Law Library of Louisiana since its founding in 1982 has been our most important public relations activity, bringing support and financial contributions of nearly $10,000 a year to the library. A prize-winning newsletter, educational programs and festive parties - including an unforgettable bash for our benefactor Justice Blanche's retirement - are among the Friends' undertakings. Library staff members have reached out into the community in many ways, speaking before groups of public and academic librarians, attorneys and students. The director, who serves on the Advisory Board of the UNO Paralegal Institute, frequently lectures to their classes on legal resources and research. Cataloging/Reference Librarian Janice Shull has prepared a number of creative,

Louisiana Judicial College 1990 Annual Report

The highlight of the Judicial College's efforts at judicial education in 1990 was the presentation of a New Judges' Orientation, attended by some 56 incoming members of the Louisiana judiciary.

The three day orientation program included presentations on judicial ethics, case management, handling bench and jury trials, pre and post trial proceedings and evidence. Judge Steve Plotkin of the Fourth Circuit served as Chairman of the orientation program and headed a faculty which included Dr. Hugh Collins (and members of his staff), Judge Thomas Wicker, Judge Harold Brouillette, Judge Lewis Lauve, Judge Dennis Waldron, Judge Carl Stewart, Judge Gerald Fedoroff, Judge Mary Ann Vial Lemmon, Judge Jeffrey Victory, Professor Frank Maraist and Wood Brown, III.

The orientation program was the 13th and final program of the year sponsored or co-sponsored by the Judicial College. The traditional education programs included: Joint meeting of the City and Juvenile Judges - 56 attendees; Annual Spring Judges' Conference - 226 attendees; Summer School for Judges - 159 attendees; Annual Fall Judges' Conference - 180 attendees; Annual Fourth & Fifth Circuit Judges' Conference - 21 attendees.

The Judicial College also sponsored or co-sponsored seven special seminars for Louisiana judges and court personnel during the year. The conferences and number of attendees were: DWI Workshop for Louisiana Juvenile Court Judges - 22 attendees; Introduction to Micro-Computers - 57 attendees; Evidence and Procedure Seminar - 71 attendees; Court Security Management - 60 attendees; 1990 Summer Seminar - 47 attendees; Solidarity & Executory Process, Foreclose and the U.C.C. - 48 attendees; Annual Torts Seminar - 64 attendees.

During 1990, the College republished the Louisiana Judicial Law Clerks Manual. The manual was distributed, without cost, to all Louisiana judges who have law clerks. In addition, the College (in cooperation with the Louisiana Clerks of Court Association), published and distributed to all Louisiana judges the Louisiana Clerks of Court Manual. This was also done at the expense of the College.

In 1990 the Judicial College also participated in the production of television Public Service Announcements focusing on youthful use and abuse of driver's licenses.

Several other publications are in progress, including civil jury charges, a civil judges bench book, the updating of the juvenile judges bench book and the criminal judges bench book.

In its efforts to keep judges abreast of recent developments, the Judicial College, during 1990, published a criminal law newsletter. The college also published and distributed to the judges a summary of legislative developments during the 1990 session.

Many outstanding legal scholars and other experts made presentations at Judicial College programs in 1990. Among the speakers were Professors Frank Maraist, Warren L. Mengis, Katherine Spaht and Cheney Joseph of the LSU Law Center; Professor Robert Force, Tulane Law School; Dean John Kramer, Tulane Law School, Professor Michale Vitiello, Loyola School of Law; Professor David W. Robertson, University of Texas School of Law; Professor John Yetter, Florida State University; Professor Burnele V. Powell, University of North Carolina; Judge Fred A. Geiger, 19th Judicial Circuit Court, Waukegan, Illinois; Attorneys Michael Fontham, Dominic Gianna, Eldon Fallon and Virginia Roddy of New Orleans; A. Alston Johnson, Mike Rubin, James Boren, Pete Adams, Louis Unglesby, and Edward J. Walters of Baton Rouge; Bernard Boudreaux of New Iberia; Patrick A. Juneau informative exhibits based on careful research. Constitutional history, U. S. documents, the Civil Code and Louisiana courthouses were among the subjects featured.

Among the other accomplishments and innovations during the decade were the designation of the library as a depository of state documents, the provision to patrons of slip opinions from Louisiana's Courts of Appeal, and the planning of a new library for the Royal Street Courthouse. The introduction of telefacsimile service enables us to receive information from other libraries and to transmit material from our library to distant patrons. During 1990 we sent 404 "fax" messages and received 122.

The staff continues to be actively involved in the professional development activities of the American Association of Law Libraries, taking on leadership positions at the national, regional and local levels. Janice Shull retired in mid-1990 as president of the New Orleans Chapter of AALL; Tina McLellan has served on the Southeastern Chapter Education Committee; Betty Kern chaired AALL's national Scholarship Committee and the Local Arrangements Committee for the 1991 Annual Meeting in New Orleans. Carol Billings continued on the AALL Executive Board and its Long-Range Planning Committee.

THE JUDICIARY COMMISSION OF LOUISIANA 1990 ANNUAL REPORT

The Judiciary Commission of Louisiana, created in 1968 by an amendment to Article IX, Constitution of 1921, is continued in existence by Article V, Section 25, Constitution of 1974.

Powers

On recommendation of the Judiciary Commission, the Supreme Court may censure, suspend with or without salary, remove from office, or involuntarily retire a judge for willful misconduct relating to his official duty, willful and persistent failure to perform his duty, persistent and public conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice that brings the judicial office into disrepute, and conduct while in office which would constitute a felony, or conviction of a felony.

On recommendation of the Judiciary Commission, the Supreme Court may disqualify a judge from exercising any judicial function, without loss of salary, during pendency of disciplinary proceedings in the Supreme Court.

On recommendation of the Judiciary Commission, the Supreme Court may retire involuntarily a judge for disability that seriously interferes with the performance of his duties and that is or is likely to become permanent.

The Commission's jurisdiction includes justices and judges of all courts of this state, including commissioners, magistrates, justices of the peace, and mayors who perform judicial functions.

Confidentiality

In accordance with Rule XXIII, Section 23, of the Rules of the Supreme Court, all documents filed with and evidence and proceedings before the Commission are confidential unless and until the Commission files a recommendation for discipline or retirement with the Supreme Court. The record filed by the Commission with the Supreme Court and proceedings before the Supreme Court are not confidential. Once a recommendation is filed with the Supreme Court, it becomes public as any other case before the Court.

Membership

Membership of the Judiciary Commission as of December 31, 1990:

Herbert A. Cade, Chairman
Richard E. D'Aquin, Vice-Chairman
Judge Lawrence A. Chehardy
Jerry L. Hermann, Esquire
Mrs. Mary Lou Winters
Judge Gradon K. Kitchens, Jr.

W. McKerral O'Niell, Jr.
Robert G. Pugh, Esquire
Judge L. O. Fusilier

Dr. Hugh M. Collins,
Chief Executive Officer

Complaints

During the year 1990 the Commission received 57 complaints against judges and justices of the peace, and 19 complaints were pending from 1989. These complaints included alleged violations of Canon 2, "A Judge Should Avoid Impropriety and the Appearance of Impropriety in All His Activities"; Canon 3, "A Judge Should Perform the Duties of His Office Impartially and Diligently"; Canon 7, "A Judge Should Refrain from Political Activity Inappropriate to His Judicial Office"; Supreme Court Committee on Judicial Ethics' Opinion No. 49 and Opinion No. 83; allegations of misconduct in exercising judicial discretion, unprofessional conduct, undue delays in rendering decisions, failure to perform judicial duties, and gender bias, among others, and were filed by litigants, interested citizens, and by the Commission's own motion.

Dispositions

During the year 1990 the Commission disposed of 67 complaints. These complaints were either closed because of insufficient evidence of judicial misconduct or otherwise resolved to the satisfaction of the Commission; preliminary investigations were ordered and conducted in all complaints. Formal charges were made in one case. Nine cases are still pending at the beginning of 1991.

Editor's Note: Complaints may be made to the office of the Chief Executive Officer of the Commission, Dr. Hugh M. Collins, 301 Loyola Avenue, Room 109, New Orleans, Louisiana 70112-1887, Telephone: (504) 568-5747.

STATISTICAL APPENDIX

INTRODUCTION TO THE STATISTICAL SECTION

The statistical information in this section was compiled from data submitted to the Judicial Administrator's Office by the various courts of Louisiana during the calendar year 1990.

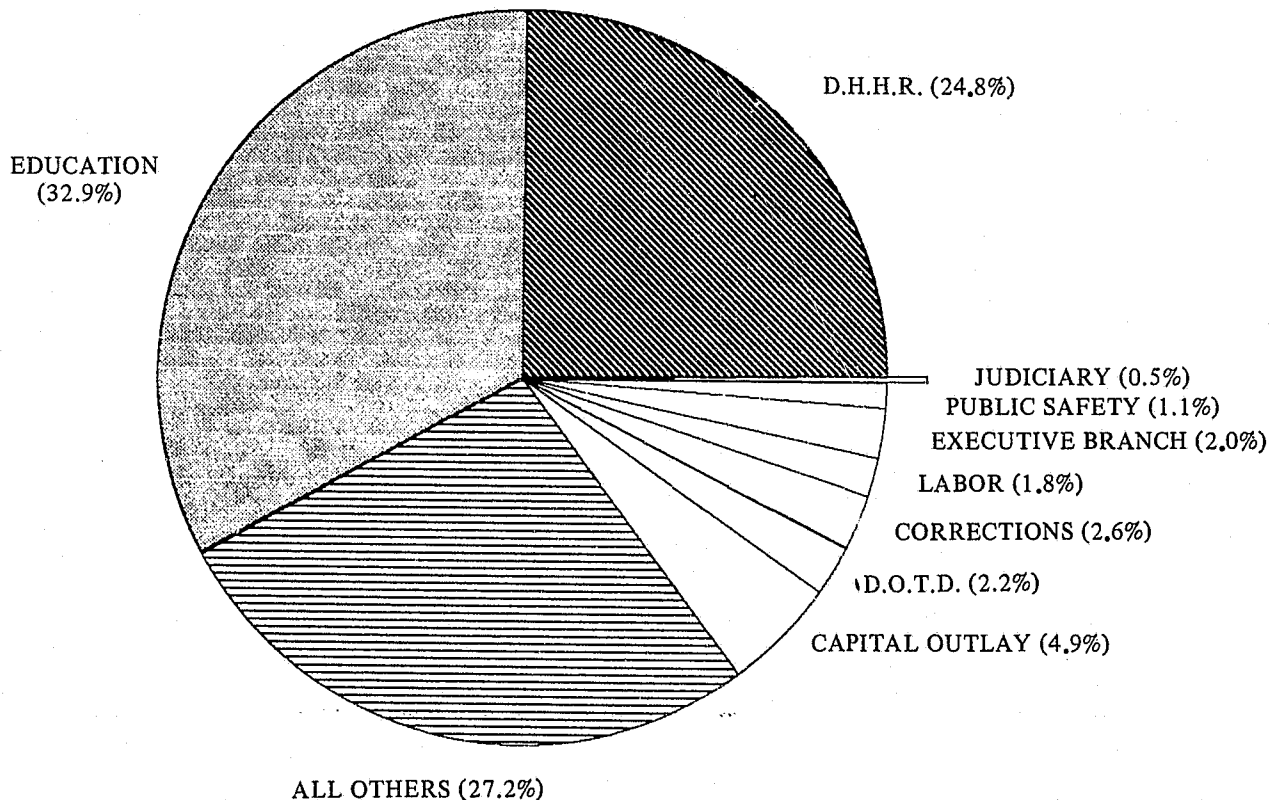

In 1990 there were 2,766 filings in the Supreme Court. The filings in 1990 were 7.7% less than in 1989. However, the filings were still 20% greater than those in 1984, the first year in which the full effect of the transfer of the criminal jurisdiction to the courts of appeal was felt.

In 1990 there were 7,815 filings in the Louisiana courts of appeal. This represents an increase of 172% over the filings 10 years earlier. In addition, the 1990 filings were 2% greater than those in 1989. The average time interval from the filing of a civil appeal to its disposition was 391 days in the First Circuit, 272 days in the Second Circuit, 511 days in the Third Circuit, 296 days in the Fourth Circuit, and 166 days in the Fifth Circuit. The average time interval from the filing of a criminal appeal to its disposition was 307 days in the First Circuit, 240 days in the Second Circuit, 277 days in the Third Circuit, 426 days in the Fourth Circuit, and 164 days in the Fifth Circuit.

During 1990 there were 168,211 civil filings in the district courts, a decrease of 3.8% when compared to 1989. During 1990 there were 321,878 criminal filings in the district courts, an increase of 1% over 1989. Civil jury trials decreased by 13.2% when compared with 1989, and criminal jury trials decreased by 8.3% when compared with 1989.

In addition, filings in Louisiana city and parish courts decreased by 1.9% from 676,327 filings in 1989 to 663,598 filings in 1990.
