The ICPSR Council urges all users of the ICPSR data facilities to follow some adaptation of this statement with the parentheses indicating items to be filled in appropriately or deleted by the individual user.

The data (and tabulations) utilized in this (publication) were made available (in part) by the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research. The data for UNIFORM CRIME REPORTS, 1975: POLICE EMPLOYEE DATA (LEOKA) were originally collected by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Neither the collector of the original data nor the Consortium bear any responsibility for the analyses or interpretations presented here.

In order to provide funding agencies with essential information about the use of archival resources and to facilitate the exchange of information about ICPSR participants' research activities, each user of the ICPSR data facilities is expected to send two copies of each completed manuscript or thesis abstract to the Consortium. INTRODUCTION

UNIFORM CRIME REPORTS (UCR), 1975: POLICE EMPLOYEE DATA (LEOKA) contains monthly data on felonious or accidental killings and assaults of the U.S. law enforcement officers acting in the line of duty. These Law Enforcement Officers Killed or Assaulted (LEOKA) reports are collected to provide additional information regarding the attack, for every month in which officers are reported killed or assaulted on the Return A form (see ICPSR 9028, parts 5, 9, 13, or 17: UNIFORM CRIME REPORTS, 1978-1979, 1981-1984: OFFENSES KNOWN AND CLEARANCES BY ARREST for a description of the Return A form). These data were assembled by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and processed from UCR Master Police Employee (LEOKA) data tapes.

Each agency is identified by the following summary variables: state code, population group/sub-group code, geographic division, SMSA, and agency name. This allows considerable flexibility in creating subsets or aggregations of the data.

DATA COLLECTION DESCRIPTION

This dataset represents information collected through two UCR Program reporting forms: the annual "Law Enforcement Employees Report" and the monthly "Law Enforcement Officers Killed or Assaulted" (LEOKA) report. Together they represent the FBI's effort to produce a comprehensive dataset which might allow analyses of assaults on police officers and, more generally, of "police strength" (the amount of resources devoted to policing as measured by the number of persons employed in law enforcement agencies).

The Law Enforcement Employees Report was a form sent to police agencies throughout the country by the FBI on an annual basis and asked for a count of employees on the payroll of each agency as of October 31 in a given year. The number of full-time law enforcement employees, both officers and civilians was requested by this form. Officers are defined as full-time, sworn personnel with full arrest powers including the chief, sheriff, or other head of the department. Persons performing guard or protection duties, such as school crossing guards, special officers, and merchant police, who were not paid from law enforcement funds were not included. Civilian employees included persons such as clerks, radio dispatchers, "meter maids," stenographers, mechanics, etc. who were full-time employees of the agency. Employees (officers or civilians) who were on leave with pay were also included.

The LEOKA report comprises the second and largest portion of the dataset. For any month in which felonious or accidental killings and/or nonfatal assaults on law enforcement officers (acting in the line of duty) were reported on the UCR Return A form, a LEOKA form was to have been submitted to provide additional information regarding the attack. Monthly variables are coded zero for months in which no assaults occurred.

Data were collected on assaults which resulted in serious injury or in which a weapon was used that could have caused serious injury or death. Other assaults not resulting in injury were included if they involved more than verbal abuse or minor resistance during the course of an arrest. Details are available on the number and type of patrols and shift assignments, the number of injury and non-injury assaults by type of weapon, and the number of weapon-specific assaults by situation type. These situations include disturbance calls, burglaries, robberies, attempting other arrests, civil disorders, custody of prisoners, suspicious persons, ambushes without warning, mentally deranged persons, traffic pursuits and stops, and all other circumstances. For each of these categories, the number police assaults cleared by arrest (or other exceptional means) are also included. The final group of variables are assault counts by time of occurrence (in two-hour increments: e.g., the number of assaults occurring between 12:01am and 2:00am, 2:01am and 4:00am, and so on).

DATA COLLECTION PROCEDURES

UCR Program contributors compile and submit their crime data by one of two means: either directly to the FBI or through their State UCR Programs. State UCR programs frequently impose mandatory reporting requirements which have been effective in increasing both the number of reporting agencies as well as the number and accuracy of each participating agency's reports.

As of 1980, there were 44 operational state-level programs. In all, over 16,000 law enforcement agencies representing a population in excess of 220 million participated in the 1980 FBI Uniform Crime Reports.

Further details regarding the Uniform Crime Reporting Program may be found in the following related publication:

Federal Bureau of Investigation. Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook. Washington, D.C.: U.S. Government Printing Office, 1980.

FILE STRUCTURE

UNIFORM CRIME REPORTS, 1975: POLICE EMPLOYEE DATA (LEOKA) is available from ICPSR in OSIRIS format which consists of an OSIRIS dictionary, an OSIRIS dictionary-codebook, and a data file. The OSIRIS dictionary gives variable locations, missing data declarations, and implied decimal places. The dictionary-codebook provides the above information as well as question text, contingency text, and coding schemes. Both the OSIRIS dictionary and the OSIRIS dictionary-codebook may be used by the OSIRIS software package to perform data analysis.

The OSIRIS data and dictionary can be accessed by other software programs. Some interface with the dictionary and data. Others only access the data. Those software programs which cannot interface with the OSIRIS dictionary still can analyze the data. This is done by specifying variable locations within the logical record length. The column locations are found in the dictionary-codebook.

The data file contains a single logical record per case, each with a logical record length of 4,746. In all there are 2,256 variables and a total of 13,517 cases (agencies).

Due to the large size of this data file, card-image formats generally are not available. Special arrangements may be made with ICPSR for individuals requiring card-image (80-column per record format) data (i.e. when it is the only usable format).

CODEBOOK INFORMATION

The example below is a reproduction of information appearing in the machine-readable codebook for a typical variable. The numbers in brackets do not appear but are references to the descriptions which follow this example.

.....

[1] VAR 24 [2] EMPLOYEES PER 1K POP [3] NO MISSING DATA CODES
 REF 24 [4] LOC 113 WIDTH 4
 [5] IMP DEC= 1

[6] Employees per 1,000 population

[7] Actual number is coded.

- [1] Indicates the variable and reference numbers. A variable number and a reference number are assigned to each variable in the data collection. In the present codebook which documents the archived data collection these numbers are identical. Should the data be subsetted or rearranged by an OSIRIS program (e.g., MMP to intersperse data from another source, or TCOT to produce an analysis deck), the variable numbers would change to reflect the order of the new data collection, while the reference number would remain unchanged to reflect the variable number in the codebook describing the archived data collection.
- [2] Indicates the abbreviated variable name (maximum of 24 characters) used in the OSIRIS system to identify the variable for the user. An expanded version of the variable name can be found in the variable description list.

- [3] Indicates the code values of missing data. In this example, there are "NO MISSING DATA CODES". Alternative statements for other variables are "MD=0," "MD=0 or GE 9," or "MD GE 9." Some analysis software packages (including the OSIRIS software package) require that certain types of data which the user desires to be excluded from analysis be designated as "MISSING DATA," e.g., inappropriate, unascertained, unascertainable, or ambiguous data categories. Although these codes are defined as missing data categories, this does not mean that the user should not or cannot use them in a substantive role if so desired.
- [4] Indicates the starting location and width of this variable when the data are stored on a magnetic tape in the OSIRIS format. If the variable is of a multiple-response type, the width referenced is that of a single response. In this example the variable named "EMPLOYEES PER 1K POP" is 4 columns wide and is located in the 113th column within the record.
- [5] A variable containing data with implied decimals is denoted by the message "IMP DEC= 1," where 1 is the number of decimal places implied in the variable.
- [6] This is the full text (question) supplied by the investigator to describe the variable. The question text and the numbers and letters that may appear at the beginning reflect the original wording of the questionnaire item.
- [7] Indicates that the variable is continuous in which case the phrase "Actual number is coded." appears.

ICPSR PROCESSING INFORMATION

The data collection was processed according to the standard ICPSR processing procedures. The data were checked for illegal code values which, when found, were recoded to OSIRIS missing data values. No consistency checks were performed. Statements bracketed in "[" and "]" signs in the body of the codebook were added by the processors for explanatory purposes. Class II.
