1972 ANNUAL REPORT, 1972

CITY OF BIRMINGHAM

DEPARTMENT OF POLICE
Birmingham, Alabama 35203

JAMES C. PARSONS
CHIEF OF POLICE

GEORGE G. SEIBELS, JR.
MAYOR

April 11, 1973

Honorable Mayor George G. Seibels, Jr.
City Hall Building
Birmingham, Alabama 35203

Dear Mayor Seibels:

The year nineteen hundred seventy-two marked a period of progress for the Birmingham Police Department. Innovation and success created an esprit de corps envied by other police departments around the nation. I hasten to commend you and the City Council for the support afforded during the year.

To attempt a list of the projects undertaken during nineteen hundred seventy-two would be an arduous task; however, implementing the records administration report was most significant and deserves special mention. Creation of a Scientific Evidence Unit and a Special Enforcement Detail promises improved police capability. Control of policy and procedure regulations have improved internal discipline and drastically reduced citizen complaints. Improved radio communications and record storage have resulted in the diminution of police response to citizen calls for service.

In my opinion, the success we have experienced must be attributed to the entire membership of the Department. Challenging tradition and a willingness to improve police service is the hallmark of a professional law enforcement agency, and these attributes we do possess.

Very truly yours,

James C. Parsons
Chief of Police

MAYOR SEIBELS

Law Enforcement Code of Ethics

As a Law Enforcement Officer, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation, and the peaceful against violence or disorder; and to respect the Constitutional rights of all men to liberty, equality and justice.

I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all; maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn, or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed in both my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the laws of the land and the regulations of my department. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature or that is confided to me in my official capacity will be kept ever secret unless revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty.

I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, animosities or friendships to influence my decisions. With no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals, I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice or ill will, never employing unnecessary force or violence and never accepting gratuities.

I recognize the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust to be held so long as I am true to the ethics of the police service. I will constantly strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating myself before God to my chosen profession . . . law enforcement.

CHIEF OF POLICE

POLICE DEPARTMENT

The Birmingham Police Department is one of the more progressive law enforcement agencies of cities with a population of 300,000 or more. It has an authorized enforcement strength of 639 sworn officers, averaging 2.12 men per 1,000 population and 7.81 per square mile. This Department provides 24-hour police services with precincts in the central, eastern, and western areas. It has a Communications network which has tie-in terminals with the Alabama Crime Information Center and the National Crime Information Center. Many other modern innovations have recently been implemented to give better protection to citizens and visitors.

DEDICATED TO:

Warrior of God, man's friend and ty-rant's foe.
Now somewhere dead far in the waste
Soudan,
Thou livest in all hearts, for all men know
This earth has never borne a nobler man.

Birmingham has experienced an increase in major crimes of 69 percent over the base year 1963. Numerically speaking, this is an increase of 7,656 crimes. Our population for the same period of time has declined 10 percent, or 27,456. (Chart I)

The racial composition of Birmingham's population is 57.7 percent, white, 42.0 percent black, and .5 percent other. The median age is 30.3 years with 32.6 percent of the population under age 18 and 11.8 percent 65 years old and over. These figures are taken from the report prepared by the U. S. Bureau of the Census, based on their census taken in 1970.

Major crimes or Part I offenses are used interchangeably and include: murders; manslaughters; rapes; robberies; all assaults, aggravated and simple; all larcenies, grand larceny and petit larceny; and auto thefts. The crimes reported in these areas were down .01 percent from 1971 to 1972 or a total of two crimes less.

Major crimes are classified into two categories, crimes of violence, and crimes against property. Crimes of violence include; murder, manslaughter, assaults, rapes, and robberies, Crimes against property include: burglaries, larcenies, and auto theft. Compared to the base year 1963 violent crimes decrease in 1965 and increased by 80 percent in 1972. Crimes against property for the same period of time increased 108 percent. Crimes against property have shown a steady increase during this ten-year period until 1971. From 1971. to 1972, crimes against property decreased approximately two percent while crimes of violence increased ten percent.

Murders increased during the past ten years by 54 percent and showed a decrease from 1971 to 1972 of 7.3 percent, or a numerical decrease of six murders. the greatest increase in murders and the rate per 100,000 population increased proportionally, to 15 percent per 100,000 population.

Handguns were the most prevalent weapons used to commit murder, a knife or sharp-edged object was the next most frequently used weapon. (See Chart Two) Deaths from cuttings or stabbings were 20 percent of all murders. When determining the number of murders committed, the figures used reflects all persons who have died as a result of the willful act of another, without regard to the process of law. This means that even though a murder is ruled justifiable by the legal authorities, it is still counted as a murder. The only deaths resulting from the willful act of another that are not counted as murder are the shooting of a felon by a law enforcement officer or private citizen. An example would be the case of a person being robbed shooting or otherwise killing the person committing the crime or a law enforcement officer killing a person who is in the process of committing a felonious act. The taking of the felon's life is not counted as murder in this report, nor the report published by the F. B. I.

Aggravated assaults had its peak year of increase over 1963, during 1970. During this period of time there was an increase of 59 percent. Aggravated assaults have decreased since 1970 through 1972 by 22 percent, 10.8 percent of this decrease was during the year 1972. There was an increase of 37 percent in aggravated assaults, 1972 over the base year 1963. The rate of aggravated assaults per 10,000 population was up only two percent, 1972 over base year 1963.

A crime rate is considered a victim risk rate in that it demonstrates the risk of becoming a victim of crime. Forcible rapes have increased 221 percent over 1963. The increase 1972 over 1971 was 5.1 percent or an increase of five rapes. There are 119,966 females in the City of Birmingham, 16 years of age or older. Since rapes are a crime peculiar to the female population, the rate of risk is one out of every 1,165 based on the number of rapes committed during 1972.

Robberies increased 286 percent over the past ten years. The greatest increase of robberies in any one year was during 1972 when robberies increased 62.7 percent. The rate per population was one robbery for every 398 persons living in Birmingham. According to statistics published by the F. B. I., in 1971, 70 percent of the robberies committed were in cities with a population over 250,000. Even though Birmingham's increase in robberies during 1972 was dramatic, the numerical count does not exceed the average robberies for cities with a population ranging from 300,000 to 350,000. Birmingham has been very fortunate in the past to have had a favorable robbery rate, thus when Birmingham's rate rose to the national average, the increase was significant.

Burglaries, have been on the increase for the past ten years with a slight recession during 1967, 1968, and 1969. The recession did not last long and when it ended burglaries increased at a greater rate than they had prior to the recession. An over-all view of the ten-year period indicates an 80 percent increase. Burglary is the forceful or unlawful entry into a business or residence. Fifty-two percent of residential burglaries occur during the daytime. In 1970, there were 99,916 housing units in Birmingham; according to the 1972 rate of residential burglaries, one housing unit out of every 37 will be burglarized. The 1971 Uniform Crime Report states, "Burglary is a crime of stealth and opportunity, committed by amateurs and professionals alike. Prevention and detection of burglaries are most difficult for law enforcement agencies due to the tremendous volume of these offenses." Business burglaries are almost as numerous as the residential burglaries. In Birmingham the ratio of residential burglaries is 51 percent while 49 percent are businesses, (including offices). Most business burglaries occur at night, approximately 67 percent of business burglaries occur at night.

Larceny is the theft or unlawful taking of an item of value belonging to someone else. The most prevalent type of larceny in Birmingham involves the theft of auto parts and accessories. The larceny rate for items over $50.00 in value have increased 122 percent during the past ten years. This has been a rate increase per each 10,000 population of 79 percent. During 1972, larcenies over $50.00 decreased .4 percent. Inflation was probably the major factor in the exchange of this increase and decrease.

Auto Theft experienced increase in 1971 over the base year 1962 by 212 percent, however, during 1972 there was a substantial decrease from 1971. The over-all picture depicts an increase of 161 percent in 1972 over 1963. Numerically, auto thefts showed the greatest decrease (485) in 1972 over 1971, than any other major crime. The crime rate per 10,000 population of auto thefts in 1972 is 49 percent greater than it was in 1963.

Auto thefts include cars reported stolen even though they are recovered unharmed which was obviously a young person taking the car for a "joy ride." It also includes motorcycles stolen. The recovery rate for stolen autos is 67 percent, which according to a spokesman for the F. B. I., is one of the largest recovery rates in the nation. The clearance rate of auto theft cases is 19 percent.

Chart 3 shows the clearance rate pictorially.

Juvenile arrests have risen over the past six years by 1,000+ individuals as shown in Chart 4. The year 1972 had an increase of 500 juveniles arrested over 1971. The juvenile arrest chart includes all persons under age 18 arrested.

TACTICAL OPERATIONS UNIT

Tactical Operations Unit was formed on December 1, 1973 by compiling all the Solo Motor Units with the members of the former Tactical Squad. This unit now consists of 34-Patrolmen, 5-Sergeants, and 1-Lieutenant, under the Command of Captain C. H. Pitts. The primary objective of this unit is to have available at all hours highly mobile task forces suitably trained that they can report to the scene of any disorder of nature disaster and perform whatever task is necessary without disrupting the normal patrol function.

This unit has been divided into five (5) fire teams, each under the command of the Sergeant which will be trained to handle every weapon in the police department's arsenal. All personnel are receiving training in military crowd dispersing formations and tactics. Each fire team will be on call for a week at a time on a rotational basis and will be able to report to the scene of any crime or disorder within a reasonable period of time, prepared to take whatever action is deemed necessary.

Certain selected members of the unit are being trained as K-9 specialist anti-sniper specialist and demolition specialist. To better prepare these men to perform their assigned task from a physical standpoint, each member of the Tactical Operations Unit is presently enrolled in a 12-week Karate Training course instructed by Mr. Ronnie Woodard of Japanese National Karate Center and other members of his staff.
