Offenders Admitted to Wisconsin Adult Correctional Institutions
Calendar Year 1979

HIGHLIGHTS

Admission Status: About 80 percent of all admissions were first admissions, representing 1,248 offenders. Males represented 93.9 percent of those first admitted or 1,172 persons, while 6.1 percent were females (76 offenders).

About 63 percent of the first admissions were offenders with a new sentence and were not probation violators. Another 30 percent were probation violators with new sentences. A small proportion, 5.2 percent, was reported as probation violators without new sentences.

All but 7 of the 304 readmissions (97.7 percent) were men. About 21 percent were parole violators without a new sentence, 36 percent were mandatory release violators without a new sentence, 16 percent, parole violators with a new sentence, and 22 percent, mandatory release violators with a new sentence.

Type of Commitment: Adult felony commitments constituted 98.5 percent of the first admissions and 96.4 percent of the readmissions. Only one case was reported as a sex crimes commitment.

Offense: Burglary was the most common offense category for first and readmitted men. Forgery was the most common offense among women. First admissions were made up of 30 percent person offenses (murder, assaults, robbery, etc.), 7 percent sex-related offenses (sexual assaults, sexual perversion, etc.); 6 percent drug related offenses, and 57 percent property-related offenses (burglary, auto theft, arson, etc.).

Length of Sentence: Sentences of less than two years were received by 15.1 percent of total first admissions; of two years, less than three, by 25.4 percent; of three years, less than four, by 20.7 percent; of four years, less than six, by 20.4 percent; and of six years, less than life, by 16.1 percent. The median sentence was 35.9 months for all first admissions. The median for men was 36.0 months and for women, 30.9 months.

The average (mean) sentence was 50.1 months for all first admissions, men having a 50.8 month average and women, 38.8 months. (The average was computed after deleting data for offenders with an offense of first degree murder and the temporary admissions.)

Among readmissions, 9.6 percent received sentences of less than two years; 15.1 percent, two years, less than three; 18.8 percent, three years, less than four; 29.6 percent, four years, less than six; and 24.6 percent, six years, less than life. The median sentence was 59.5 months for men and 63.0 months for women. The average (mean) sentence was 48.0 months for men and 39.0 months for women.

Plea and Sentencing: Over 77 percent of the first admissions entered guilty pleas. About 49 percent received a single sentence; 24 percent, concurrent sentences; and 4 percent, consecutive sentences.

Six of the seven readmitted women and 86 percent of the readmitted men pleaded guilty; 25 percent received a single sentence, and 56 percent, concurrent sentences.

County of Commitment: Milwaukee County accounted for 42.5 percent of all admissions in 1979 with 659 commitments (520 first admissions and 139 readmissions). By region, Milwaukee (Region III) accounted for 41.7 percent of the first admissions and 45.8 percent of the readmissions. Region I (Southern Region), containing 12 counties, accounted for 12.3 percent of the first admissions and 12.8 percent of the readmissions.

Region II (Southeastern Region), containing six counties, had 16.3 percent of the first admissions and 16.1 percent of the readmissions.

Region IV (Eastern Region), representing 16 counties and the Menominee Reservation, had 13.9 percent of the first admissions and 11.5 percent of the readmissions.

Region V (Western Region), representing 19 counties, had 7.5 percent of the first admissions and 8.9 percent of the readmissions.

Region VI (Northern Region), with 17 counties, had 8.3 percent of the first admissions and 4.9 percent of the readmissions.

Age: The majority of first-admitted men were under the age of 25, with 23.5 percent under 20 and 39.1 between 20 and 24. An additional 17.2 percent fell between the ages of 25 and 29. The 20 through 24 year category was the largest for women also, accounting for 40.8 percent of the first admissions. About 13 percent of the women were aged 19 or under, 18.4 percent were 25 through 29, and 9.2 percent were 30 through 34. Only 6.9 percent of those first-admitted and 10.9 percent of these readmitted were 40 or over.

About three-fifths of the readmitted men were 29 and younger with most, about 35 percent, 20 through 24 years, and 24.6 percent aged 25 through 29. About 20 percent of the readmissions were men aged 30 through 34.

The average (mean) age for first admissions was 25.1 for men and 27.1 for women. The average for readmissions was 29.1 for men and 27.0 for women.

Race: Total first admissions were comprised of 60.8 percent White, 3.0 percent White of Mexican origin, 36.2 percent Black, and 3.3 percent Native American offenders. Whites (including 3.3 percent of Mexican origin) constituted 56.6 percent of the readmissions; Blacks, 39.1 percent; and Native Americans, 3.6 percent.

A larger proportion of the female first admissions was Non-White than reported for males (51.3 percent compared to 35.2 percent). Black women constituted 48.7 percent of the first admissions and 57.1 percent of the readmissions.

Marital Status: About 84 percent of first-admitted men were single. Of those, 69 percent were never married, 10 percent were divorced, 4 percent were separated, and almost one percent were widowed. Nearly 54 percent of the women were never married; 16 percent, divorced; 1 percent, separated; and almost 4 percent, widowed.

Among readmissions, 83 percent of the men and 72 percent of the women were single.

Previous Felony Convictions: Of the first-admitted men, 50.7 had no recorded previous felony conviction, 26.1 percent had one previous conviction, 13.3 percent had two, and 9.0 percent had three or more. About 79 percent of the first-admitted women had no previous conviction.

Previous Penal Experience: Over 62 percent of first-admitted men had no previous penal experience. About 37 percent had previous penal experience, most (17 percent) in a Wisconsin correctional institution. An additional 8.6 percent had been in prisons or reformatories in other states. Only 22.4 percent of the women had previous penal experience, 14.5 percent having been in a Wisconsin correctional institution.

Juvenile Institution Experience: About one-fourth of first-admitted men had juvenile institution experience--23.9 percent in Wisconsin institutions and 2.2 percent in institutions in other states. Only 13.1 percent of the women had juvenile institution experience--11.8 percent in Wisconsin and 1.3 percent in another state.

Grade Completed: About 30 percent of the first-admitted adults had completed high school or post-high school grades. Those completing ninth grade comprised 13.1 percent of the first admissions; tenth grade, 19.8 percent; and eleventh grade, 21.7 percent. The proportion of women who completed high school was slightly higher than for men.

Achievement Test: Approximately one-fourth of the first admissions (25.1 percent of the men and 19.7 percent of the women) scored at the 9.5 grade level or better on achievement tests. Test scores between 7.5 and 9.5 grade levels were registered by 22.3 percent of the men and 25.0 percent of the women. Scores at 7.4 and below on achievement tests were registered by 38.1 percent of the men and 30.3 percent of the women. About 14 percent of the first admissions were not tested during the admissions process.

Intelligence Estimate: About 41 percent of the first admissions were not tested for intelligence estimates. For the total group, most men (39.3 percent) and women (32.9 percent) were estimated to be of average or normal intelligence. Another 11.6 percent of the men and 9.2 percent of women were estimated at dull normal, while 5.1 percent of men and 3.9 percent of women were considered bright normal.

¹ While 21 cases of 1st degree murder were reported for first admissions, only 17 had a life sentence imposed. The remaining 4 cases were attempted 1st degree murder and did not carry a life sentence as reported in Table 4. Readmission had four 1st degree murders reported but only one had a life sentence. The remaining three may have commuted sentences or were also attempts.
