The Cover: The Stokes County Courthouse, in Danbury, North Carolina, designed in the Beaux Arts Neo-Classical Revival style, comparable to that of five other county courthouses erected in the State at the turn of the century, was constructed in 1904. An unusual oblong mansard cupola is set directly behind the portico, with two-story flat roof wings projecting from the sides. Harmonious one-story wings and a two-story rear addition were added in 1940.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE COURTS JUSTICE BUILDING

RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

The Honorable Joseph Branch, Chief Justice The Supreme Court of North Carolina Raleigh, North Carolina

Dear Mr. Chief Justice:

In accord with Section 7A-343 of the North Carolina General Statutes, I herewith transmit the Sixteenth Annual Report of the Administrative Office of the Courts, relating to the fiscal year, July 1, 1981—June 30, 1982.

Appreciation is expressed to the many persons who participated in the data reporting, compilation, and writing required to produce this annual report. Within the Administrative Office of the Courts, principal responsibilities were shared by the Research and Planning Division and the Information Services Division. The principal burden of reporting the great mass of trial court data rested upon the offices of the clerks of superior court located in each of the one hundred counties of the State. The Clerk of the Supreme Court and the Clerk of the Court of Appeals provided the case data relating to our appellate courts.

Without the responsible work of many persons across the State this report would not have been possible.

Respectfully submitted,

Franklin E. Freeman, Jr. Director

December, 1982

THE 1981-1982 JUDICIAL YEAR IN REVIEW

THE 1981-82 JUDICIAL YEAR IN REVIEW

This Annual Report on the work of North Carolina's Judicial Department is for the fiscal year which began July 1, 1981 and ended June 30, 1982.

The Workload of the Courts

During 1981-82 the workload of the appellate courts increased over that reported the previous year. As set out in more detail in Part II of this Report, case filings in the Supreme Court totalled 241, compared with 228 filed during 1980-81. A total of 681 petitions were filed in the Supreme Court, compared with 612 in 1980-81; and 75 petitions were allowed compared with 73 in 1980-81.

For the Court of Appeals, case data is reported on a fiscal year rather than calendar year basis as in prior Annual Reports. For 1981-82, case filings were 1,413 compared with 1,222 for the 1980 calendar year. Petitions in 1981-82 totalled 581, compared with 508 during calendar year, 1980.

More detailed data on the appellate courts is included in Part II of this Annual Report.

In the superior courts, case filings (civil and criminal) increased by 2.6%, to a total of 84,571 in 1981-82, compared with 82,441 cases in 1980-81. Superior court case dispositions also increased to a total of 82,165, compared with 80,303 in 1980-81. As case filings during the year exceeded case dispositions, the total number of cases pending at the end of the year increased by 2,041, or 6%. Operations of the superior courts are summarized in Part II of this Report, and detailed information on the caseloads in the 100 counties and 34 judicial districts is presented in Part IV.

Not including juvenile proceedings and mental hospital commitment hearings, the statewide total of district court filings (civil and criminal) during 1981-82 was 1,421,309, a decrease of 99,517 cases (6.5%) from 1980-81 filings of 1,520,826 cases. The only area of the district court cascload to register an increase in 1981-82 over the previous fiscal year was the non-motor vehicle criminal case category, which had total filings of 418,176 cases in 1981-82, an increase of 3.8% over the 402,900 cases filed in 1980-81. There was a 5.4% drop in civil case filings from a total of 344,483 in 1980-81 to 325,886 in 1981-82. Most of this decrease was in civil magistrate filings, from 226,604 cases in 1980-81 to 215,625 cases in 1981-82. There was also a decrease of 6,740 cases in the domestic relations category, attributable to a change in reporting where subsequent motions and petitions in a domestic relations case, following initial disposition, were no longer reported.

Motor vehicle criminal case filings accounted for the largest portion of the caseload reduction in 1981-82, a reduction of 96,196 cases (15.5%) from the 773,443 filings reported in 1980-81. This may have been due in part to a change in State Highway Patrol activity. In 1981-82, the Patrol shifted coverage emphasis more to secondary roads, where traffic volume is lower but accident incidence is higher. In addition, the Patrol had less overtime funded in 1981-82, with less opportunity to apprehend traffic offenders.

This marks the fourth year in a row that total filings of traffic cases have been lower than the previous years. In previous years, it has been speculated that these reductions were related to such factors as changes in driving habits, gasoline prices, and increases in liability insurance premiums. It is possible that these factors are still having an effect.

1982 Legislative Highlights

Constitutional Amendments

In June 1982, North Carolina voters approved two amendments to the judiciary article of the State Constitution.

One amendment (Article iV, Section 8) allows the recall of retired justices or judges of the appellate division for temporary service on either of the two courts within that division. Prior to this amendment, a retired justice or judge could be recalled for temporary service only to that court from which he or she retired. This amendment becomes effective on January 1, 1983.

The other amendment (Article IV, Section 12(1)), also effective January 1, 1983, authorizes the General Assembly to provide for appeals from the Utilities Commission directly to the Supreme Court. Presently, appeals from the Utilities Commission go to the Court of Appeals, from which an appeal may then be taken to the Supreme Court.

"Proper Court" for Trial of Civil Cases

At the extra legislative session in June 1982, the General Assembly raised the amount in controversy that designates the proper court division for trial of civil actions. Prior to July 1, 1982, the district court was the proper court for those civil actions where the amount in controversy was $5,000 or less, and the superior court was the proper court for civil actions in which the amount in controversy exceeded $5,000. Effective July 1, 1982, the district court is the proper court for the trial of civil cases where the amount in controversy is $10,000, or less (G.S. 7A-243).

Annual Jury Lists

A 1982 legislative amendment to G.S. 9-2, which was sponsored by the North Carolina Courts Commission, allows the preparation of jury lists annually, as well as on a biennial basis. The change from biennial to annual lists is implemented by the request of the senior resident senior court judge to the county jury commission. This change will benefit those counties using one-day or one-trail jury service where access to more up-to-date address information is essential to the operation of such systems.

Termination of Parental Rights Cases

Effective in June 1982, the statutes governing termination of parental rights were changed to require the scheduling of a six-month review hearing by the district court judge who entered the termination order. It is the purpose of this review to ensure that every reasonable effort is being made to provide a permanent placement plan which is in the best interest of the child (G.S. 7A-289.31(c1)).

Expansion of Public Defender System

In the extra session of 1982 the General Assembly increased the State's public defender system from six to seven judicial districts. Effective June 1, 1983, a public defender office is to be established in District 15B, which includes Orange and Chatham Counties. The new public defender will be appointed by the Governor from a list of nominees submitted by members of the district bar, to serve a four-year term (G.S. 7A-466).

Other Legislative Action

In legislative changes to the procedure governing the issuance of pistol permits (G.S. 14-404), which were made in June 1982, an applicant who is denied such a permit may appeal this decision to the chief district court judge of the district where the application was filed. The decision of the district court in the appeal of such matters is final.

The General Assembly also established a hearing procedure before the magistrate for motorists whose vehicles are either towed or stored pursuant to G.S. Chapter 20, G.S. 115C-46(d), G.S. 116-44.4, or G.S. 143-340(19). This procedure became effective on August 1, 1982.

Appropriations for Judicial Department

The General Assembly at the 1981 Regular Session approved a 1981-83 biennial appropriation for the Judicial Department and for other State departments, agencies and institutions. At the extra legislative session in June 1982, revisions were made in the appropriations for the 1982-83 fiscal year. For the Judicial Department, there was a 3.5% decrease in the original appropriation for 1982-83, from $90,321,624 to $87,147,849. Similar reductions in the 1982-83 appropriations were made for various other State departments and agencies.

HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE NORTH CAROLINA COURT SYSTEM

From its early colonial period North Carolina's judicial system has been the focus of periodic attention and adjustment Through the years, there has been a repeated sequence of critical examination, proposals for reform, and finally the enactment of some reform measures.

Coionial Period

Around 1700 the royal governor established a General (or Supreme) Court for the colony and a dispute developed over the appointment of associate justices. The Assembly conceded to the King the right to name the chief justice but unsuccessfully tried to win for itself the power to appoint the associate justices. Other controversies developed concerning the creation and jurisdiction of the courts and the tenure of judges. As for the latter, the Assembly's position was that judge appointments should be for good behavior as against the royal governor's decision for life appointment. State historians have noted that "the Assembly won its fight to establish courts and the judicial structure in the province was grounded on laws enacted by the legislature", which was more familiar with local conditions and needs (Lefler and Newsome, 142). Nevertheless, North Carolina alternated between periods under legislatively enacted reforms (like good behavior tenure and the Court Bill of 1746, which contained the seeds of the post-Revolutionary court system) and periods of stalemate and anarchy after such enactments were nullified by royal authority. A more elaborate system was framed by legislation in 1767 to last five years. It was not renewed because of persisting disagreement between local and royal partisans. As a result, North Carolina was without higher courts until after Independence (Battle, 847).

At the lower court level during the colonial period, judicial and county government administrative functions were combined in the authority of the justices of the peace, who were appointed by the royal governor.

After the Revolution

When North Carolina became a state in 1776, the colonial structure of the court system was retained largely intact. The Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions — the county court which continued in use from about 1670 to 1868 — were still held by the assembled justices of the peace in each county. The justices were appointed by the governor on the recommendation of the General Assembly, and they were paid out of fees charged litigants. On the lowest level of the judicial system, magistrate courts of limited jurisdiction were held by justices of the peace, singly or in pairs, while the county court was out of term.

The new Constitution of 1776 empowered the General Assembly to appoint judges of the Supreme Court of Law and Equity. A court law enacted a year later authorized three superior court judges and created judicial districts. Sessions were supposed to be held in the court towns of each district twice a year, under a system much like the one that had expired in 1772. Just as there had been little distinction in terminology between General Court and Supreme Court prior to the Revolution, the terms Supreme Court and Superior Court were also interchangeable during the period immediately following the Revolution.

One of the most vexing governmental problems confronting the new State of North Carolina was its judiciary. "From its inception in 1777 the state's judiciary caused complaint and demands for reform." (Lefler and Newsome, 291, 292). Infrequency of sessions, conflicting judge opinions, and insufficient number of judges, and lack of means for appeal were all cited as problems, although the greatest weakness was considered to be the lack of a real Supreme Court.

In 1779, the legislature required the Superior Court judges to meet together in Raleigh as a Court or Conference to resolve cases which were disagreed on in the districts. This court was continued and made permanen' by subsequent laws. The justices were required to put their opinions in writing to be delivered orally in court. The Court of Conference was changed in name to the Supreme Court in 1805 and authorized to hear appeals in 1810. Because of the influence of the English legal system, however, there was still no conception of an alternative to judges sitting together to hear appeals from cases which they had themselves heard in the districts in panels of as few as two judges (Battle, 848). In 1818, though, an independent three-judge Supreme Court was created for review of cases decided at the Superior Court level.

Meanwhile, semi-annual superior court sessions in each county were made mandatory in 1806, and the State was divided into six circuits, or ridings, where the six judges were to sit in rotation, two judges constituting a quorum as before.

The County court of justices of the peace continued during this period as the lowest court and as the agency of local government.

After the Civil War

Major changes to modernize the judiciary and make it more democratic were made in 1868. A primary holdover from the English legal arrangement — the distinction between law and equity proceedings — was abolished. The County Court's control of local government was abolished. Capital offenses were limited to murder, arson, burglary and rape, and the Constitution stated that the aim of punishment was "not only to satisfy justice, but also to reform the offender, and thus prevent crime". The membership of the Supreme Court was raised to five, and the selection of the justices (including the designation of the chief justice) and superior court judges (raised in number to 12) was taken from the legislature and given to the voters, although vacancies were to be filled by the governor until the next election. The Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions—the County Court of which three justices of the peace constituted a quorum—was eliminated. Its judicial responsibilities were divided between the Superior Courts and the individual justices of the peace, who were retained as separate judicial officers with limited jurisdiction.

HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE NORTH CAROLINA COURT SYSTEM

Conservatively oriented amendments to the 1868 Constitution in 1875 reduced the number of Supreme Court justices to three and the Superior Court judges to nine. The General Assembly was given the power to appoint justices of the peace, instead of the governor. Most of the modernizing changes in the post-Civil War Constitution, however, were left, and the judicial structure it had established continued without systematic modification through more than half of the 20th century. (A further constitutional amendment approved by the voters in November, 1888, returned the Supreme Court membership to five, and the number of superior court judges to twelve.)

Before Reorganization

A multitude of legislative enactments to meet rising demands and to respond to changing needs had heavily encumbered the 1868 judicial structure by the time systematic court reforms were proposed in the 1950's. This accrual of piecemeal change and addition to the court system was most evident at the lower, local court level, where hundreds of courts specially created by statute operated with widely dissimilar structure and jurisdiction.

By 1965, when the implementation of the most recent major reforms was begun, the court system in North Carolina consisted of four levels: (a) the Supreme Court, with appellate jurisdiction; (b) the superior court, with general trial jurisdiction; (c) the local statutory courts of limited jurisdiction, and (d) justices of the peace and mayor's courts, with petty jurisdiction.

At the superior court level, the State had been divided into 30 judicial districts and 24 solicitorial districts. The 40 superior court judges (who rotated among the counties) and the district solicitors were paid by the State. The clerk of superior court, who was judge of probate and often also a juvenile judge, was a county official. There were specialized branches of superior court in some counties for matters like domestic relations and juvenile offenses.

The lower two levels were local courts. At the higher of these local court levels were more than 180 recorder-type courts. Among these were the county recorder's courts, municipal recorder's courts and township recorder's courts; the general county courts, county criminal courts and special county courts; the domestic relations courts and the juvenile courts. Some of these had been established individually by special legislative acts more than a half-century earlier. Others had been created by general law across the State since 1919. About half were county courts and half were city or township courts. Jurisdiction included misdemeanors (mostly traffic offenses), preliminary hearings and sometimes civil matters. The judges, who were usually part-time, were variously elected or appointed locally.

At the lowest level were about 90 mayor's courts and some 925 justices of the peace. These officers had similar criminal jurisdiction over minor cases with penalties up to a $50 fine or 30 days in jail. The justices of the peace also had civil jurisdiction of minor cases. These court officials were compensated by the fees they exacted, and they provided their own facilities.

Court Reorganization

The need for a comprehensive evaluation and revision of the court system received the attention and support of Governor Luther H. Hodges in 1957, who encouraged the leadership of the North Carolina Bar Association to pursue the matter. A Court Study Committee was established as an agency of the North Carolina Bar Association, and that Committee issued its report, calling for reorganization, at the end of 1958. A legislative Constitutional Commission, which worked with the Court Study Committee, finished its report early the next year. Both groups called for the structuring of an all-inclusive court system which would be directly state-operated, uniform in its organization throughout the State and centralized in its administration. The plan was for a simplified, streamlined and unified structure. A particularly important part of the proposal was the elimination of the local statutory courts and their replacement by a single District Court; the office of justice of the peace was to be abolished, and the newly fashioned position of magistrate would function within the District Court as a subordinate judicial office.

Constitutional amendments were introduced in the legislature in 1959 but these failed to gain the required three-fifths vote of each house. The proposals were reintroduced and approved at the 1961 session. The Constitutional amendments were approved by popular vote in 1962, and three years later the General Assembly enacted statutes to put the system into effect by stages. By the end of 1970 all of the counties and their courts had been incorporated into the new system, whose unitary nature was symbolized by the name, General Court of Justice. The designation of the entire 20th Century judicial system as a single, statewide "court," with components for various types and levels of caseload, was adapted from North Carolina's earlier

General Court, whose full venue extended to all of the 17th Century counties.

After Reorganization

Notwithstanding the comprehensive reorganization adopted in 1962, the impetus for changes has continued. In 1965, the Constitution was amended to provide for the creation of an intermediate Court of Appeals. It was amended again in 1972 to allow for the Supreme Court to censure or remove judges upon the recommendation of a Judicial Standards Commission. As for the selection of judges, persistent efforts have been made in the 1970's to obtain legislative approval of amendments to the State Constitution, to appoint judges according to "merit" instead of electing them by popular, partisan vote. The proposed amendments have received the backing of a majority of the members of each house, but not the three-fifths required to submit constitutional amendments to a vote of the people. It seems likely that this significant issue will be before the General Assembly again for consideration.

THE PRESENT COURT SYSTEM

Original Jurisdiction and Routes of Appeal

(1) Appeals from the Court of Appeals to the Supreme Court are by right in Utilities Commission general rate cases, cases involving constitutional questions, and cases in which there has been dissent in the Court of Appeals. In its discretion, the Supreme Court may review Court of Appeals decisions in cases of significant public interest or cases involving legal principles of major significance.

(2) Appeals from these agencies lie directly to the Court of Appeals.

(3) As a matter of right, appeals go directly to the Supreme Court in criminal cases in which the defendant has been sentenced to death or life imprisonment, and in civil cases involving the involuntary annexation of territory by a municipality of 5,000 or more population. In all other cases appeal as of right is to the Court of Appeals. In its discretion, the Supreme Court may hear appeals directly from the trial courts in cases where delay would cause substantial harm or the Court of Appeals docket is unusually full.

*Note: The district and superior courts have concurrent original jurisdiction in civil actions (G.S. 7A-242). However, the district court division is the proper division for the trial of civil actions in which the amount in controversy is $10,000 or less; and the superior court division is the proper division for the trial of civil actions in which the amount in controversy exceeds $10,000 (G.S. 7A-243). (The change from $5,000 to $10,000 was made effective July 1, 1982.)

THE PRESENT COURT SYSTEM

Article IV of the North Carolina Constitution establishes the General Court of Justice which "shall constitute a unified judicial system for purposes of jurisdiction, operation, and administration, and shall consist of an Appellate Division, a Superior Court Division, and a District Court Division."

The Appellate Division is comprised of the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals.

The Superior Court Division is comprised of the superior courts which hold sessions in the county seats of the 100 counties of the State. The counties are grouped into judicial districts (34 at the present time), and one or more superior court judges are elected for each of the judicial districts. A clerk of the superior court for each county is elected by the voters of the county.

The District Court Division is comprised of the district courts. The General Assembly is authorized to divide the State into a convenient number of local court districts and prescribe where the district courts shall sit, but district court must sit in at least one place in each county. The General Assembly has provided that districts for purposes of the district court are co-terminous with superior court judicial districts. The Constitution also provides for one or more magistrates to be appointed in each county "who shall be officers of the district court."

The State Constitution (Art. IV, Sec. 1) also contains the term, "judicial department," stating that "The General Assembly shall have no power to deprive the judicial department of any power or jurisdiction that rightfully pertains to it as a co-ordinate department of the government, nor shall it establish or authorize any courts other than as permitted by this Article." The terms, "General Court of Justice" and "Judicial Department" are almost, but not quite, synonymous. It may be said that the Judicial Department encompasses all of the levels of court designated as the General Court of Justice plus all administrative and ancillary services within the Judicial Department.

The original jurisdictions and routes of appeal between the several levels of court in North Carolina's system of courts are illustrated in the chart on the opposite page.

Criminal Cases

Trial of misdemeanor cases is within the original jurisdiction of the district courts. Some misdemeanor offenses are tried by magistrates, who are also empowered to accept pleas of guilty to certain offenses and impose fines in accordance with a schedule set by the Conference of Chief District Court Judges. Most trials of misdemeanors are by district court judges, who also hold preliminary, "probable cause" hearings in felony cases. Trial of felony cases is within the jurisdiction of the superior courts.

Decisions of magistrates may be appealed to the district court judge. In criminal cases there is no trial by jury available at the district court level; appeal from the district courts' judgments in criminal cases is to the superior courts for trial de novo before a jury. Except in life-imprisonment or death sentence cases (which are appealed to the Supreme Court), appeal from the superior courts is to the Court of Appeals.

Civil Cases

The 100 clerks of superior court are ex officio judges of probate and have original jurisdiction in probate and estates matters. The clerks also have jurisdiction over such special proceedings as adoptions, partitions, condemnations under the authority of eminent domain, and foreclosures. Rulings of the clerk may be appealed to the superior court.

The district courts have original jurisdiction in juvenile proceedings, domestic relations cases, petitions for involuntary commitment to a mental hospital, and are the "proper" courts for general civil cases where the amount in litigation is $10,000 or less. If the amount in litigation is $800* or less and the plaintiff in the case so requests, the chief district court judge may assign the case for initial hearing by a magistrate. Magistrates' decisions may be appealed to the district court. Trial by jury for civil cases is available in the district courts; appeal from the judgment of a district court in a civil case is to the North Carolina Court of Appeals.

The superior courts are the proper courts for trial of general civil cases where the amount of litigation is more than $10,000. Appeals from decisions of most administrative agencies is first within the jurisdiction of the superior courts. Appeal from the superior courts in civil cases is to the Court of Appeals.

Administration

The North Carolina Supreme Court has the "general to supervise and control the proceedings of any of the other courts of the General Court of Justice." (G.S. 7A-32(b)).

In addition to this grant of general supervisory power, the North Carolina General Statutes provide certain Judicial Department officials with specific powers and responsibilities for the operation of the court system. The Supreme Court has the responsibility for prescribing rules of practice and procedures for the appellate courts and for prescribing rules for the trial courts to supplement those prescribed by statute. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court designates one of the judges of the Court of Appeals to be its Chief Judge, who in turn is responsible for scheduling the sessions of the Court of Appeals.

The chart on the following page illustrates specific responsibilities for administration of the trial courts vested in Judicial Department officials by statute. The Chief Justice appoints the Director and an Assistant Director of the Administrative Office of the Courts; this Assistant Director also serves as the Chief Justice's administrative assistant. The schedule of sessions of superior court in the 100 counties is set by the Supreme

THE PRESENT COURT SYSTEM

Court; assignment of the State's rotating superior court judges is the responsibility of the Chief Justice. Finally, the Chief Justice designates a chief district court judge for each of the State's 34 judicial districts from among the elected district court judges of the respective districts. These judges have special responsibilities for the scheduling of the district courts and magistrates' courts within their respective districts, as well as general local-level administrative responsibilities.

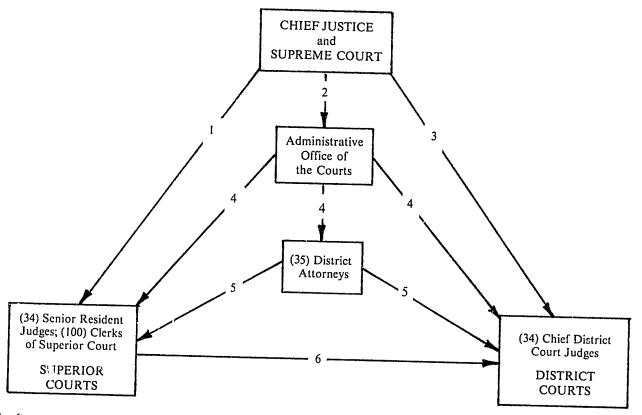

The Administrative Office of the Courts is responsible for direction of non-judicial, administrative and business affairs of the Judicial Department. Included among its functions are fiscal management, personnel services, information and statistical services, supervision of record keeping in the trial court clerks' offices, liaison with the legislative and executive departments of government, court facility evaluation, purchase and contract, education and training, coordination of the program for provision of legal counsel to indigent persons, juvenile probation and after-care, trial court administrator services, planning, and general administrative services.

The clerk of superior court in each county acts as clerk for both the superior and district courts. Until 1980, the clerk also served as chairman of the county's calendar committee, which set the civil case calendars. Effective July 1, 1980, these committees were eliminated; day-to-day calendaring of civil cases is now done by the clerk of superior court or by a "trial court administrator" in some districts, under the supervision of the senior resident superior court judge and chief district court judge. The criminal case calendars in both superior and district courts are set by the district attorney of the respective district.

THE PRESENT COURT SYSTEM

Principal Administrative Authorities for North Carolina Trial Courts

- The Supreme Court has general supervisory authority over the operations of the superior courts (as well as other trial courts). The schedule of superior courts is approved by the Supreme Court; assignments of superior court judges, who rotate from district to district, are the responsibility of the Chief Justice.
- <sup>2</sup> The Director and an Assistant Director of the Administrative Office of the Courts are appointed by and serve at the pleasure of the Chief Justice.
- <sup>3</sup> The Supreme Court has general supervisory authority over the operations of the district courts (as well as other trial courts). The Chief Justice appoints a chief district court judge in each of the 34 judicial districts from the judges elected in the respective districts.
- <sup>4</sup> The Administrative Office of the Courts is empowered to prescribe a variety of rules governing the operation of the offices of the 100 clerks of superior court, and to obtain statistical data and other information from officials in the Judicial Department.
- <sup>5</sup> The district attorney sets the criminal-case trial calendars. In each district, the senior resident superior court judge and the chief district court judge are empowered to supervise the calendaring procedures for civil cases in their respective courts.
- <sup>6</sup> In addition to certain judicial functions, the clerk of superior court performs administrative, fiscal and recordkeeping functions for both the superior court and district court of his county. Magistrates, who serve under the supervision of the chief district court judge, are appointed by the senior resident superior court judge from nominees submitted by the clerk of superior court.
- *Note: Effective September 1, 1981, District 17 was divided into Districts 17A and 17B, resulting in a total of 34 judicial districts.

ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS IN 1981-82

The Supreme Court

At the apex of the General Court of Justice is the seven-member Supreme Court, which sits in Raleigh to consider and decide questions of law presented in civil and criminal cases appealed from the lower courts. The Chief Justice and six associate justices are elected to eight-year terms by popular vote. There are two terms of the Supreme Court each year: a Spring Term commencing on the first Tuesday in February and a Fall Term commencing on the first Tuesday in September. The Court sits only en banc.

Jurisdiction

The only original case jurisdiction exercised by the Supreme Court is over the censure and removal of judges upon the (non-binding) recommendations of the Judicial Standards Commission. The Court's appellate jurisdiction includes:

- cases on appeal by right from the Court of Appeals (Utilities Commission general rate-setting cases, cases involving substantial constitutional questions, and cases in which there has been dissent in the Court of Appeals);
- criminal cases on appeal by right from the superior courts (cases in which the defendant has been sentenced to death or life imprisonment);

- cases in which review has been granted in the Supreme Court's discretion.

Discretionary review by the Supreme Court directly from the trial courts may be granted when delay would likely cause substantial harm or when the workload of the Appellate Division is such that the expeditious administration of justice requires it. Most appeals are heard only after review by the Court of Appeals.

Administration

The Supreme Court has general power to supervise and control the proceedings of the other courts of the General Court of Justice. The Court has specific power to prescribe the rules of practice for the Appellate Division and supplementary rules of practice and procedure for the trial court divisions consistent with the rules prescribed by the General Assembly. The schedule of superior court sessions in the 100 counties is approved, yearly, by the Supreme Court. The Clerk of the Supreme Court, the Librarian of the Supreme Court, and the Appellate Division Reporter are appointed by the Supreme Court.

The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court appoints the Director of the Administrative Office of the Courts and an Assistant Director, who serve at his pleasure. He also designates a Chief Judge from among the judges of the Court of Appeals and a Chief District Court Judge from among the judges in each of the State's 34 judicial districts. He assigns superior court judges, who regularly rotate from district to district, to the scheduled sessions of superior court in the 100 counties, and is also empowered to transfer district court judges to other districts for temporary or specialized duty. The Chief Justice (or another member of the Supreme Court designated by him) is the chairman of the Judicial Council, and two superior court judges, one district court judge and two district attorneys are appointed to two-year terms on the Council by the Chief Justice. He also appoints three of the seven members of the Judicial Standards Commission — a judge of the Court of Appeals who serves as the Commission's chairman, one superior court judge and one district court judge.

Operations of the Court, 1981-82

Operating expenses of the Supreme Court during the 1981-82 fiscal year amounted to $1,365,955, an increase of 4.4% over total 1980-81 expenditures of $1,308,014. Expenditures for the Supreme Court during 1981-82 constituted 1.5% of all General Fund expenditures for the operation of the entire Judicial Department during the fiscal year.

A total of 309 appealed cases were before the Supreme Court during the fiscal year, including 68 cases pending on July 1, 1981 and 241 cases filed during the year. A total of 188 appealed cases were disposed of, with 121 cases remaining pending on June 30, 1982.

A total of 790 petitions (requests to appeal) were before the Court during the 1981-82 year, with 692 petitions disposed of and 98 pending as of June 30, 1982.

More specific data on the Court's workload is presented on the following pages.

The Court of Appeals

The 12-judge Court of Appeals is North Carolina's intermediate appellate court; it hears a majority of the appeals originating from the State's trial courts. The Court regularly sits in Raleigh, and it may sit in other locations in the State as authorized by the Supreme Court. Sessions outside of Raleigh have not been regular or frequent. Judges of the Court of Appeals are elected by popular vote for eight-year terms. A Chief Judge for the Court is designated by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and serves in that capacity at the pleasure of the Chief Justice.

Cases are heard by panels of three judges, with the Chief Justice responsible for assigning members of the Court to the four panels. Insofar as practicable, each judge is to be assigned to sit a substantially equal number of times with each other judge. The Chief Judge presides over the panel of which he or she is a member and designates a presiding judge for the other panels.

The Chief Judge (or another member of the Court of Appeals designated by the Chief Judge) is an ex officio member of the Judicial Council. One member of the Court of Appeals, designated by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, serves as chairman of the Judicial Standards Commission.

Jurisdiction

The bulk of the caseload of the Court of Appeals consists of cases appealed from the trial courts. The Court also hears appeals directly from any final order or decision of the North Carolina Utilities Commission*; the Industrial Commission; certain final orders or decions of the North Carolina State Bar and the Commission. Insurance; and appeals from certain final orders or decisions of the Property Tax Commission. (Appeals from the decisions of other administrative agencies lie first within the jurisdiction of the superior courts.)

In the event of a recommendation from the Judicial Standards Commission to censure or remove from office a justice of the Supreme Court, the (non-binding) recommendation would be considered by the Chief Judge and the six judges next senior in service on the Court of Appeals (excluding the judge who serves as the Commission's chairman). Such seven-member panel would have sole jurisdiction to act upon the Commission's recommendation.

Expenses of the Court, 1981-82

Operating expenses of the Court of Appeals during the 1981-82 fiscal year totalled $1,945,081, an increase of 3.4% over 1980-81 expenditures of $1,881,570. Expenditures for the Court of Appeals during 1981-82 amounted to 2.2% of all General Fund expenditures for operation of the entire Judicial Department during the fiscal year. This percentage share of the total is virtually identical to the Court of Appeals' percentage share of the Judicial Department total in the 1980-81 fiscal year.

Case Data, 1981-82

A total of 1,413 appealed cases were filed before the Court of Appeals during the period, July 1, 1980 - June 30, 1982. A total of 1,212 cases were disposed of during the same period. During the same year, a total of 581 petitions and 1,228 motions were filed before the Court of Appeals.

Greater detail on the workload of the Court of Appeals is shown in the tables and graph on the following pages.

*An amendment to Article IV, Section 12(1) of the State Constitution was approved by the voters at the June, 1982 election, and effective January 1, 1983, it authorizes the General Assembly to provide for appeals from the Utilities Commission directly to the Supreme Court. Such legislation has not yet been enacted.

FILINGS AND DISPOSITIONS IN THE COURT OF APPEALS 1977-1981

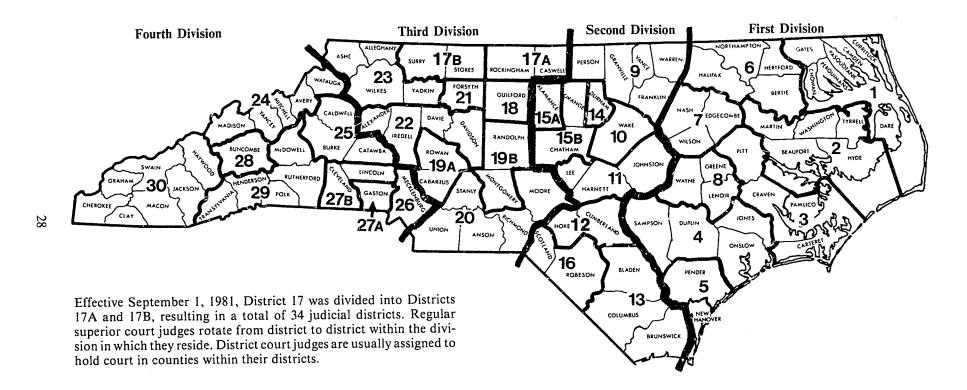

Filings and dispositions in this graph include appealed cases and petitions (not motions) in the Court of Appeals. The 1981-82 bar is the only fiscal year bar in the graph; the data portrayed there overlap the 1981 (calendar year) data by six months. During 1981-82, filings exceeded dispositions by 213, the largest difference since 1977.

ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS IN 1981-82

The Superior Courts

North Carolina's superior courts are the general jurisdiction trial courts for the State. In 1981-82, there were 60 "resident" superior court judges elected to office in the 34 judicial districts for eight-year terms by Statewide ballot. In addition, eight "special" superior court judges are appointed by the Governor for four-year terms.

Jurisdiction

The superior court has original jurisdiction in all felony cases and in those misdemeanor cases which originate by grand jury indictment. (Most misdemeanors are tried first in the district court, from which conviction may be appealed to the superior court for trial de novo by a jury. No trial by jury is available for criminal cases in district court.) The superior court is the proper court for the trial of civil cases where the amount in controversy exceeds $5,000*, and it has jurisdiction over appeals from all administrative agencies except the Utilities Commission, Industrial Commission, certain rulings of the Commissioner of Insurance, the Board of Bar Examiners of the North Carolina State Bar, and the Property Tax Commission. Appeals from these agencies lie directly to the North Carolina Court of Appeals.** Regardless of the amount in controversy, the original civil jurisdiction of the superior court does not include domestic relations cases, which are heard in the district courts, or probate and estates matters and certain special proceedings heard first by the clerk of superior court as ex officio judge of probate. Rulings of the clerk are within the appellate jurisdiction of the superior court.

Administration

The 100 counties of North Carolina were grouped into 34 judicial districts during 1981-82. Each district has at least one resident superior court judge who has certain administrative responsibilities for his home district, such as providing for civil case calendaring procedures. (Criminal case calendars are prepared by the district attorneys.) In districts with more than one resident superior court judge, the judge senior in service on the superior court bench exercises these supervisory powers.

The judicial districts are grouped into four divisions for the rotation of superior court judges, as shown on the map on Page 27. Within the division, a resident superior court judge is required to rotate through the judicial districts, holding court for at least six months in each, then moving on to his next assignment. A special superior court judge may be assigned to hold court in any of the 100 counties. Assignments of all superior court judges are made by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Under the Constitution of North Carolina, at least two sessions (a week each) of superior court are held annually in each of the 100 counties. The vast majority of counties have more than the Constitutional minimum of two weeks of superior court annually. Many larger counties have superior court in session about every week in the year.

Resources

A total of $17,618,583 was expended on the operation of the superior courts during the 1981-82 fiscal year. This represents an increase of 8% over 1980-81 expenditures of $16,308,092. Total expenditures include costs for the State's district attorneys' offices, as well as the salaries and operating expenses of the 68 superior court judges, the court reporters assigned to superior court, and staff support. The 1981-82 total amounted to 19.9% of the General Fund expenditures for the operations of the Judicial Department. This percentage is approximately the same as the superior courts' percentage share of total Judicial Department expenditures in 1980-81.

1981-82 Caseload

Including both civil and criminal cases, a total of 84,571 cases were filed in the superior courts during 1981-82, an increase of 2,130 cases (2.6%) over the total of 82,441 cases that were filed in 1980-81. The increase in filings represents a considerable drop in the rate of increase when compared with the superior court filing levels in previous years. The average annual increase in the number of cases filed in the four years prior to 1981-82 was 6,925 cases.

Superior court case dispositions also increased from 80,303 in 1980-81 to combined criminal and civil dispositions in 1981-82 of 82,165. This disposition rate did not equal the number of cases filed. As a result, there was an increase of six percent in the total number of superior court cases pending, from 34,260 cases at the beginning of the fiscal year to a total of 36,301 on June 30, 1982.

More detailed information on the flow of cases through the superior courts is included in Part IV of this report.

<sup>**</sup> An amendment to Article IV, Section 12(1) of the State Constitution was approved by the voters at the June, 1982 election, and effective January 1, 1983, it authorizes the General Assembly to provide for appeals from the Utilities Commission directly to the Supreme Court. Such legislation has not yet been enacted.

The District Courts

North Carolina's district courts are trial courts with original jurisdiction of the overwhelming majority of the cases handled by the State's court system. There were 142 district court judges serving in 34 judicial districts during 1980-81. These judges are elected to four-year terms by the voters of their respective districts.

A total of 620* magistrate positions were authorized as of June 30, 1982. Of this number, 520 positions were designated as full-time, and 100 positions were specified as part-time. Magistrates are appointed by the senior resident superior court judge from nominations submitted by the clerk of superior court of their county, and they are supervised by the chief district court judge of their district.

Jurisdiction

The jurisdiction of the district court extends to virtually all misdemeanor cases, probable cause hearings in most felony cases, all juvenile proceedings, involuntary commitments and recommitments to mental hospitals, and domestic relations cases. The district courts have concurrent jurisdiction with the superior courts in general civil cases, but the district courts are the proper courts for the trial of civil cases where the amount in controversy is $5,000** or less. Upon the plaintiff's request, a civil case in which the amount in controversy is $1,000*** or less, may be designated a "small claims" case and assigned by the chief district court judge to a magistrate for hearing. Magistrates are empowered to try worthless check criminal cases when the value of the check does not exceed $500****. In addition, they may accept written appearances, waivers of trial, and pleas of guilty in such worthless check cases when the amount of the check is $500 or less, the offender has made restitution, and the offender has fewer than four previous worthless check convictions. Magistrates may also accept waviers of appearance and pleas of guilty in traffic cases for which a uniform schedule of fines has been adopted by the Conference of Chief District Judges. Magistrates also conduct initial hearings to fix conditions of release for arrested defendants, and they are empowered to issue arrest and search warrants.

Administration

A chief district judge is appointed for each judicial district by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court from among the elected judges in the respective districts. Subject to the Chief Justice's general supervision, each chief judge exercises administrative supervision and authority over the operation of the district courts and magistrates in his district. Each chief judge is responsible for: scheduling sessions of district court and assigning judges; supervising the calendaring of noncriminal cases; assigning matters to magistrates; making arrangements for court reporting and jury trials in civil cases; and supervising the discharge of clerical functions in the district courts.

The chief district court judges meet in conference at least once a year upon the call of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Among other matters, this annual conference adopts a uniform schedule of traffic offenses and fines for their violation for use by magistrates and clerks of court in accepting defendants' waivers of appearance and guilty pleas.

Hallett S. Ward, Washington, Vice Chairman

Resources

Total expenditures for the operation of the district courts in 1981-82 amounted to $17,022,936. This is an increase of 6.7% over 1980-81 expenditures of $15,953,309. Included in this total are expenses of court reporters for district courts as well as personnel costs of district court judges and magistrates. The 1981-82 total is 19.2% of the General Fund expenditures for the operation of the entire Judicial Department, a slight drop of 0.4% in the district courts' percentage share of total Judicial Department expenditures for the previous fiscal year.

1981-82 Caseload

During 1981-82 the statewide total of district court filings (civil and criminal) dropped by 6.5% from the number reported for 1980-81. Not including juvenile proceedings and mental hospital commitment hearings, the filing total in 1981-82 was 1,421,309, a decrease of 99,517 from the 1,520,826 cases reported for 1980-81. The nonmotor vehicle criminal case category was the only one to register an increase in 1981-82 over the previous year. This category had a total of 418,176 cases filed in 1981-82, an increase of 3.8% over the 402,900 cases filed in 1980-81. There was a 5.4% decrease in combined civil case filings (general civil, domestic relations, small claims, and small claim appeals), from a total of 344,483 cases in 1980-81 to 325,886 in 1981-82. The largest reduction in filings was in the motor vehicle criminal case category, from the 1980-81 total of 773,443 cases to the 1981-82 total of 667,247 cases, a reduction of 96,196 (12.4%) cases.

More detailed information on district court civil and criminal caseloads is contained in Part IV of this Report.

The District Attorneys

The State is divided into 35 prosecutorial districts which, with one exception, correspond to the 34 judicial districts. By act of the 1981 Session of the General Assembly, the 3rd Judicial District was divided into two separate prosecutorial districts, Prosecutorial Districts 3A and 3B, effective October 1, 1981. Prosecutorial District 3A consists of Pitt County, and Prosecutorial District 3B is comprised of Craven, Carteret, and Pamlico. (G.S. 7A-60) A district attorney is elected by the voters in each of the 35 districts for four-year terms.

Duties

The district attorney represents the State in all criminal actions brought in the superior and district courts in his district. In addition to his prosecutorial functions, the district attorney is responsible for calendaring criminal cases for trial.

Resources

Each district attorney may employ on a full-time basis the number of assistant district attorneys authorized by statute for his district. As of June 30, 1982, a total of 211 assistant district attorneys were authorized for the 35 prosecutorial districts. The district attorney of District 26 (Mecklenburg County) had the largest staff (19 assistants) and the district attorney of District 24 had the smallest (two assistants).

District attorneys are also authorized to employ fulltime administrative assistants to aid in preparing cases for trial and to expedite the criminal court docket. As of June 30, 1982, there was a total of 32 administrative assistant positions established. The district attorney in 19 of the 35 districts is empowered to employ an investigatorial assistant who aids in the investigation of cases prior to trial.

1981-82 Caseload

A total of 69,607 criminal cases were filed in the superior courts during 1981-82, consisting of 42,802 felony cases and 26,805 misdemeanor appeals from the district courts. The total number of filings in the superior courts (felonies and misdemeanor appeals) in the previous year was 68,685. The increase of 922 cases in 1981-82 represents a 1.3% increase over the 1980-81 total.

Total criminal cases disposed of by the superior courts in 1981-82 equalled 67,183. There were 40,715 felony dispositions; the number of misdemeanor appeals disposed of was 26,468. Compared with 1980-81, total criminal case dispositions increased by 619 cases over the 66,564 cases disposed of in that fiscal year. The median ages of 1981-82 criminal cases at disposition in the superior courts were 73 days for felony cases and 62 days for misdemeanor appeals. In 1980-81, the median age of felony cases at disposition was 71 days, and the median age at disposition for misdemeanor appeals was 64 days.

Dispositions by jury trial in the superior courts, for felonies and misdemeanors, totalled 3,793 cases, or 5.6% of total criminal case dispositions in the superior courts. This was a decrease from jury dispositions of 4,264 (6.4% of total dispositions) during the 1980-81 year. As is evident, a very small proportion of all criminal cases utilize the great proportion of superior court time and resources required to handle the criminal caseload.

By contrast, in 1981-82 a majority of criminal case dispositions in superior courts (36,043 or 53.6%) were processed on submission of guilty pleas, not requiring a trial. This was virtually the same percentage of guilty plea dispositions as was reported for 1980-81.

"Dismissal by district attorney" accounted for a significant percentage of all dispositions during 1981-82: a total of 19,572 cases, or 29.1% of all dispositions. This proportion is comparable to that recorded for prior years. Many of the dismissals involved the situation of two or more cases pending against the same defendant, resulting in a plea bargain agreement where the defendant pleads guilty to some charges in exchange for a dismissal of others.

There was an increase in the number of speedy trial dismissals in superior courts, from 46 cases in 1980-81 to 63 cases in 1981-82.

The total number of criminal cases disposed of in the superior courts was 2,424 cases less than the total number of cases filed in 1981-82. Consequently, the number of pending criminal cases in superior court increased from 18,433 at the beginning of the fiscal year to a total at year's end of 20,857, an increase of 13.2%.

The median age of pending felony cases rose from 81 days in 1980-81 to 83 days during 1981-82. A similar increase was recorded for misdemeanor appeals where the median age of cases pending rose from 64 days in 1980-81 to 69 days in 1981-82.

In the district courts, a total of 1,095,423 criminal cases were filed during 1981-82. This total consisted of 677,247 motor vehicle criminal cases and 418,176 non-motor vehicle criminal cases. A comparison of total filings in 1981-82 with total filings (1,176,343) in 1980-81 reveals a decrease in district court criminal filing activity of 80,920 cases or 6.9%. The substantial drop in motor vehicle criminal case filings was responsible for all of this decrease. Filings in the motor vehicle case category fell by 96,196 cases, from 773,443 cases in 1980-81 to 677,247 cases in 1981-82, a decline of 12.4%.

As motor vehicle criminal case filings fell in 1981-82, filings in the non-motor vehicle criminal case category increased by 15,276 cases (3.8%) from a total of 402,900 in 1980-81 to 418,176 in 1981-82.

Total dispositions during 1981-82 in the motor vehicle criminal case category amounted to 686,816 cases. As in previous years, 56% of this total or 384,294 cases were disposed of by waiver of appearance and entry of plea of guilty before a clerk or magistrate. This substantial number of criminal cases did not, of course, require action by the district attorneys' offices, and should not be regarded as having been a part of the district attorneys' "caseload". The remaining 302,522 motor vehicle cases were disposed of by means other than a waiver. This balance was some 14,931 cases, or 4.7% less than the 317,453 such dispositions that took place in 1980-81. (Due to a change in statistical reporting procedures, the clerks of court no longer report motor vehicle criminal cases by case file number to the Administrative Office of the Courts. Only summary total numbers of filings and dispositions are reported weekly. Therefore, it is not possible by computer-processing to obtain pending case data for the motor vehicle criminal case category.)

ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS IN 1981-1982

The District Attorneys

With respect to non-motor vehicle criminal case dispositions, a total of 401,515 such cases were disposed of in 1981-82. As with superior court criminal cases, the most frequent method of disposition was by entry of guilty plea; the next most frequent was dismissal by the district attorney. Some 149,112 cases, or 37.1%, of the dispositions were by guilty pleas. An additional 84,827 cases, or 21.1%, of the total were disposed of by prosecutor dismissal. Only eight case dispositions were by speedy trial dismissals, a substantial decrease from the 20 cases dismissed in this manner in 1980-81. The remaining cases were disposed of by waiver (14.4%), trial (11.2%), or by other m ns (16.2%).

Duril. 1981-82, the median age at disposition of nonmotor vehicle criminal cases was 22 days, compared with 21 days at disposition in 1980-81.

Total non-motor vehicle criminal dispositions were 16,661 cases less than total filings for the year. Therefore, the number of non-motor vehicle criminal cases pending at year's end increased to 73,309 cases from the total of 56,648 recorded at the beginning of the year. This is an increase of 29.4% in the number of pending cases. Compared with the two previous fiscal years, this rate of increase was up from the 28% increase in pending cases reported for 1980-81 and the 26.5% increase recorded for 1979-80. The median age for pending non-motor vehicle cases rose from 54 days in 1980-81 to 61 days in 1981-82.

Additional information on the criminal caseloads in superior and district courts is included in Part IV of this Report.

ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS IN 1981-82

The Clerks of Superior Court

A Clerk of Superior Court is elected for a four-year term by the voters in each of North Carolina's 100 counties. The Clerk has jurisdiction to hear and decide special proceedings and is, ex officio, judge of probate, in addition to performing record-keeping and administrative functions for both the superior and district courts of his county.

Jurisdiction

The original jurisdiction of the clerk of superior court includes the probate of wills and administration of decedents' estates. It also includes such "special proceedings" as adoptions, condemnations of private property under the public's right of eminent domain, proceedings to establish boundaries, foreclosures, and certain proceedings to administer the estates of minors and incompetent adults. The right of appeal from the clerks' judgments in such cases lies to the superior court.

The clerk of superior court is also empowered to issue search warrants and arrest warrants, subpoenas, and other process necessary to execute the judgments entered in the superior and district courts of his county. For certain misdemeanor criminal offenses, the clerk is authorized to accept defendants' waiver of appearance and plea of guilty and to impose a fine in accordance with a schedule established by the Conference of Chief District Court Judges.

Administration

The clerk of superior court performs administrative duties for both the superior and district courts of his county. Among these duties are the maintenance of court records and indexes, the control and accounting of funds, and the furnishing of information to the Administrative Office of the Courts.

In most counties, the clerk continues to perform certain functions related to preparation of civil case calendars, and in many counties, the clerk's staff assists the district attorney in preparing criminal case calendars as well. Policy and oversight responsibility for civil case calendaring is vested in the State's senior resident superior court judges and chief district court judges. However, day-to-day civil calendar preparation is the clerk's responsibility in all districts except those served by trial court administrators.

Resources

A total of $29,332,086 was expended in 1981-82 for the operation of the 100 clerk of superior court offices. This is an increase of 8.1% over 1980-81 expenditures of $27,140,415. In addition to the salaries and benefits of the clerks and their staffs, this total includes expenditures for jurors' fees, witness expenses, and for the supply, equipment, postage, telephone, and office expenses for all local Judicial Department personnel.* Total expenditures in 1981-82 amounted to 33.1% of the General Fund expenditures for the operations of the entire Judicial Department. This percentage share of the total for the Judicial Department is about the same as the percentage share for operations of the clerks' offices in 1980-81.

1981-82 Caseload

During 1981-82, estate case filings totalled 37,838. This was an increase of 2.9% over the 36,753 cases filed in 1980-81. Estate case dispositions totalled 36,691 cases in 1981-82, or 8.5% more than the previous year's total of 33,830. Filings in 1981-82 exceeded dispositions by 1,147 cases. This produced an increase of the same amount in the number of estate cases pending at the end of the year.

A total of 31,673 special proceedings were filed before the 100 clerks of superior court in 1981-82. This is an increase of 379 cases (1.2%) over the 31,294 filings in the previous fiscal year. During the year, total special proceedings dispositions amounted to 30,783 cases, with a resulting increase in the number of cases pending of 4.0%, from 21,992 on June 30, 1981 to 22,881 as of June 30, 1982

More detailed information on the estates and special proceedings caseloads is included in Part IV of this Report.

*Effective July 1, 1982, both the Judicial Department Budget and Department accounting procedures were revised to identify various office and operating expenses primarily by the category of Department personnel incurring these costs. For example, any supply expenses for district attorney offices are to be charged to accounts covering district attorney operations.

Public Defenders

During 1981-82, there were six public defender offices in North Carolina, serving Judicial Districts 3, 12, 18, 26, 27A, and 28. The public defender for District 28 is appointed by the senior resident superior court judge from recommendations submitted by the district bar; for the other districts, the appointment is by the Governor from recommendations of the respective district bars. Their terms are four years. Each public defender is by statute provided a minimum of one full-time assistant public defender and additional full-time or part-time assistants as may be authorized by the Administrative Office of the Courts.

Entitlement of Indigents to Counsel

A person is determined to be indigent if he is found "financially unable to secure legal representation". He is entitled to State-paid legal representation in: any proceeding which may result in (or which seeks relief from) confinement; a fine of $500 or more; or extradition to another State; a proceeding alleging mental illness or incapacity which may result in hospitalization, sterilization, or the loss of certain property rights; and juvenile proceedings which may result in confinement, transfer to superior court for a felony trial, or termination of parental rights.

Most of the cases of State-paid representation of indigents in the districts with public defenders are handled by the public defender's office. However, the court may in certain circumstances—such as existence of a potential conflict of interest—assign private counsel to represent an indigent defendant. In the other 28 districts, the assigned private counsel system is the only one used.

Resources

A total of $2,115,207 was expended for the operation of the six public defenders' offices during 1981-82. This was an increase of $357,545 (20.3%) over the 1980-81 total of $1,757,662. These expenditures covered the personnel and travel costs incurred by these offices. Under the cost data system in effect for 1981-82, other operational expenses for the public defender offices were not separately identified from operating expenses incurred for judicial offices within the respective counties. (Effective July 1, 1982, Judicial Department budget and accounting procedures have been changed to identify these other operational expenses by public defender offices.)

1981-82 Caseload

The six public defenders' offices handled a total of 15,197 cases, including both trials and appeals, in 1981-82. This represents an increase of 750 cases, or 5.2%, over the 14,447 cases that were handled by these offices in 1980-81.

Additional information concerning the operation of these offices is found in Part III of this Annual Report.

The North Carolina Courts Commission was established by the 1979 General Assembly "to make continuing studies of the structure, organization, jurisdiction, procedures and personnel of the Judicial Department and of the General Court of Justice and to make recommendations to the General Assembly for such changes therein as will facilitate the administration of justice". Initially, the Commission was comprised of 15 voting members, with five each appointed by the Governor, the President of the Senate (Lt. Governor), and the Speaker of the House. The Commission also had three ex officio non-voting members as shown above.

Pursuant to legislation sponsored by the Commission, the 1981 General Assembly amended the statutes pertaining to the Courts Commission, to increase the number of voting members from 15 to 23. Under current law, the Governor appoints seven voting members, the Lieutenant Governor appoints eight voting members and the Speaker of the House appoints eight voting members. The nonvoting ex-officio members remain the samc: a representative of the North Carolina Bar Association, a representative of the North Carolina State Bar, and the Administrative Officer of the Courts.

The North Carolina Courts Commission

During 1981-82, the Courts Commission met in Raleigh on several occasions. It also conducted a series of public hearings at various locations around the State. The purpose of these hearings was to give the public an opportunity to express their concerns or recommendations about the court system.

The following proposals were sponsored by the North Carolina Courts Commission and approved by the 1982 Session of the General Assembly:

- Statutory amendments to the procedure for granting exemptions from money judgments.
- Statutory amendment to increase the civil jurisdiction of the district court.
- Statutory amendment to authorize the preparation of jury lists on an annual basis.
- Statutory amendments to make various technical corrections to G.S. Chapter 7A.

The following items and projects are currently on the Commission's agenda for consideration:

• Costs and fee structure.

- Handling of traffic cases in the courts.
- Criminal justice coordinator and/or modifications to deal with calendaring abuses in criminal court, along with concerns of district attorneys (including administrative support and career compensation).
- Procedures used to select juries at trial.
- Procedure used to allocate financial resources of court system.
- Indigent defense services, including means to utilize services of private attorneys more efficiently and consideration of public defender expansion.
- Implementation of constitutional amendment on temporary recall of retired judges and justices.
- Service of process in summary ejectment cases.
- Revisions in bail law.
- Implementation of constitutional amendment on appeals from Utilities Commission decisions.
- Conditions of probation.
- Counsel fees in civil cases.
- Service of process.

THE JUDICIAL STANDARDS COMMISSION

July 1, 1981 — June 30, 1982

The Judicial Standards Commission was established by the General Assembly pursuant to a constitutional amendment approved by the voters at the general election in November 1972.

Upon recommendation of the Commission, the Supreme Court may censure or remove any judge for wilful misconduct in office, wilful and persistent failure to perform his duties, habitual intemperance, conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude, or conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice that brings the judicial office into disrepute. In addition, upon recommendation of the Commission, the Supreme Court may remove any judge for mental or physical incapacity interfering with the performance of his duties, which is, or is likely to become, permanent.

Where a recommendation for censure or removal involves a justice of the Supreme Court, the recommendation and supporting record is filed with the Court of Appeals which has and proceeds under the same authority for censure or removal of a judge. Such a proceeding would be heard by the Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals and the six judges senior in service, excluding the Court of Appeals judge who by law serves as the Chairman of the Judicial Standards Commission.

In addition to a recommendation of censure or removal, the Commission also utilizes a disciplinary measure known as a reprimand. The reprimand is a mechanism administratively developed for dealing with inquiries where the conduct involved does not warrant censure or removal, but where some action is justified. Since the establishment of the es

During the 1 July 1981 - 30 June 1982 fiscal year, the Judicial Standards Commission met on the following dates: 17 July 1981, 9 October 1981, 11 December 1981, and 2 April 1982.

A complaint or other information against a judge, whether filed with the Commission or initiated by the Commission on its own motion, is designated as an "Inquiry Concerning a Judge". Sixteen such inquiries were pending as of 1 July 1981, and 64 inquiries were filed during the fiscal year, giving the Commission a total workload of 80 inquiries.

During the fiscal year, the Commission disposed of 58 inquiries, and 22 inquiries remained pending at the end of the fiscal year.

The determinations of the Commission regarding the 58 inquiries disposed of during the fiscal year were as follows:

- (1) forty inquiries were determined to involve subject matter not within the Commission's jurisdiction;
- (2) six inquiries were determined to involve subject matter within the Commission's jurisdiction but not warranting further proceedings;
- (3) eight inquiries were determined to warrant no further action following completion of five preliminary investigations; and
- (4) four inquiries were determined to warrant issuance of two reprimands.

Of the 22 inquiries pending at the end of the the fiscal year:

- (1) seventeen inquiries were awaiting initial review by the Commission; and
- (2) five inquiries were subject to further action by the Commission.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT FINANCES

Under the State Constitution the operating expenses of the Judicial Department (all North Carolina courts) "other than compensation to process servers and other locally paid non-judicial officers" are required to be paid from State funds. It is customary legislative practice for the General Assembly to include appropriations for the operating expenses of all three branches of State government in a single budget bill, for a two-year period ending on June 30 of the odd-numbered years. The budget for the second year of the biennium is generally modified during the even-year legislative session.

Building facilities for the appellate courts are provided by State funds, but, by statute, the county governments are required to provide from county funds for adequate facilities for the trial courts within each of the 100 counties. Appropriations from the State's General Fund for operating expenses for all departments and agencies of State government, including the Judicial Department, totalled $3,339,761,674 for the 1981-82 fiscal year. (Appropriations from the Highway Fund and appropriations from the General Fund for capital improvements and debt servicing are not included in this total.)

The appropriation from the General Fund for the operating expenses of the Judicial Department for 1981-82 was $89,631,765. As illustrated in the chart below, this General Fund appropriation for the Judicial Department comprised 2.7% of the General Fund appropriations for the operating expenses of all State agencies and departments.

Appropriations from the State's general fund for operating expenses of the Judicial Department over the past five fiscal years are shown in the table below and in the graph at the top of the following page. For comparative purposes, appropriations from the general fund for operating expenses of all State agencies and departments (including the Judicial Department) for the last five fiscal years are also shown in the table below and in the second graph on the following page.

APPROPRIATIONS FROM GENERAL FUND FOR OPERATING EXPENSES

	Judicial D	epartment	All State Agencies
Fiscal Year	Appropriation	% Increase over previous year	Appropriation	% Increase over previous year
1977-1978	56,319,115	19.27%	2,193,405,714	11.74%

AVERAGE ANNUAL INCREASE, 1977-1982		13.74%		11.24%

During the past decade, including the five-year period covered by the above table, inflation has been a significant factor in the national economy. For example, during 1979-80 according to Bureau of Labor Statistics data, the average person spent for goods and services more than twice the amount required for the same goods and services in 1967.

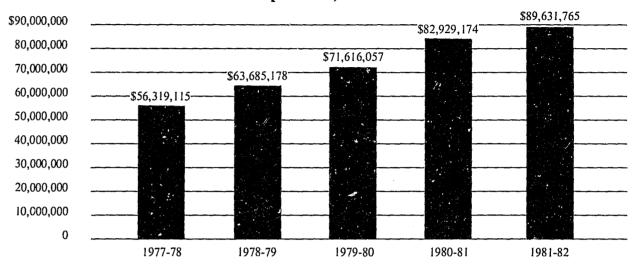

The greatest percentage increase in Judicial Department appropriations during the last five years was for the 1977-78 fiscal year. The increase for that year was due in large measure to a significant increase in the number of superior court judges (20%) and an increase in the number of assistant district attorneys (18%).

Fiscal year 1981-82 shows the smallest percentage increase in Judicial Department appropriations during the five-year period. This decline in the percentage of increase is consistent with the decline in the percentage of increase for all State government agencies.

Expenditures, July 1, 1981 — June 30, 1982

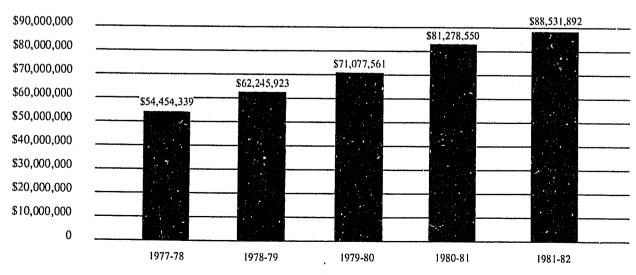

As the chart illustrates, the bulk of Judicial Department expenditures goes for operation of the State's trial courts. Operation of the superior courts took 19.1% of total expenditures; this category includes expenditures for district attorneys and their staffs as well as superior court judges and court reporters. Operation of the district courts (including magistrates, judges and court reporters) took 19.2% of the total. An additional 33.1% went to operate the offices for the 100 clerks of superior court, to pay jurors' and witnesses' fees and to provide office equipment and supplies and postage and telephone service for all Judicial Department personnel at the local level.

The total General Fund expenditures of $88,531,892 for 1981-82 represents a 8.9% increase over expenditures of $81,278,550 in 1980-81, an increase in keeping with the trend in recent years, as illustrated in the chart below.

General Fund Expenditures For The Judicial Department Fiscal Years 1977-78 — 1981-82

Department Receipts July 1, 1981 — June 30, 1982

Receipts for the Judicial Department in the 1981-82 fiscal year totalled $53,493,059.90. The several sources of these receipts are shown in the table below. As in the previous years, the major source of receipts is the assessment of "court costs" in superior and district courts, paid by litigants in accordance with the schedule of costs and fees set out in G.S. 7A-304 et seq.; these payments constituted 60.10% of the total receipts during 1980-81. Fines and forfeitures made up 37.87% of the total. Receipts in the remaining categories — Supreme Court and Court of Appeals filing fees, sales of Supreme Court and Court of Appeals Reports and payments on indigent representation judgements — made up less than three percent of the total.

This total of $53,493,059.90 is an increase of 3.04% over total 1980-81 receipts of $51,913,089.25. The graph below illustrates increases in recent years in total Judicial Department receipts.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT FINANCES

Distribution Of Judicial Department Receipts

As required by the State Constitution, fines, penalties and forfeitures collected by the courts in criminal cases are distributed to the respective counties in which the cases are tried. These funds must be used by the counties for the support of the public schools.

A uniform schedule of court costs for civil and criminal cases, comprised of a variety of fees, is set by statute for cases filed in the superior and district courts. Statutes prescribe the distribution of these fees and provide that certain fees shall be devoted to specific uses. For example, a facilities fee is included in court costs when costs are assessed, and this fee is paid over to the respective county or municipality which provided the facility used in the case. These fees must be utilized by the counties and municipalities to provide and maintain courtrooms and related judicial facilities.

Officer Fees (for arrest or service of process) are included, where applicable, in the costs of each case filed in the trial courts. If a municipal officer performed these services in a case, the fee is paid over to the respective municipality. Otherwise, all officer fees are paid to the respective counties in which the cases are filed.

A jail fee is included in the costs of each case where applicable; and these fees are distributed to the respective county or municipality whose facilities were used. Most jail facilities in the State are provided by the counties.

A fee for the Law Enforcement Officers Benefit and Retirement Fund is included as a part of court costs when costs are assessed in a criminal case. As required by statute, the Judicial Department remits these fees to the State Treasurer, for deposit in the Law Enforcement Officers Benefit, and Retirement Fund.

Except as indicated, all superior and district court costs collected by the Judicial Department are paid into the State's General Fund.

When private counsel or a public defender is assigned to represent an indigent defendant in a criminal case the trial judge sets the money value for the services rendered. If the defendant is convicted, a judgment lien is entered against him for such amount. Collections on these judgments are paid into the State's General Fund, as are appellate court fees and proceeds from the sales of appellate division reports.

*Facility and jail fees are distributed to the respective counties and municipalities which furnished the facilities. If the officer who made the arrest or served the process was employed by a municipality, the officer fee is distributed to the municipality; otherwise all officer fees are distributed to the respective counties. By provision of the State Constitution, fines and forfeitures collected by the courts within a county are distributed to that county for support of the public schools.

Cost and Case Data on Representation of Indigents July 1, 1981 — June 30, 1982

The State provides legal counsel for indigent persons in a variety of actions and proceedings, as specified in the North Carolina General Statutes, Sections 7A-450 et seq. These include criminal proceedings, judicial hospitalization proceedings, juvenile proceedings which may result in commitment to an institution or transfer to superior court for trial as an adult. Legal representation for indigents may be by assignment of private counsel, by assignment of special public counsel (involving mental hospital commitments), or by assignment of a public defender.

Six of North Carolina's judicial districts have an office of public defender: Districts 3, 12, 18, 26, 27A, and 28. The other 28 districts utilize only assignments of private counsel. Private counsel may also be assigned in the six districts which have a public defender in the event of a conflict of interests involving the public defender's office and the indigent and in the event of unusual circumstances when, in the opinion of the court, the proper administration of justice requires the assignment of private counsel rather than the public defender in those cases.

The Appellate Defender Office began operation as a State-funded program on October 1, 1981. (Prior to October 1, 1981, appellate defender services were funded by a one-year federal grant.) Pursuant to assignments made by trial court judges, it is the responsibility of the Appellate Defender and his staff to provide criminal defense appellate services to indigent persons who are appealling their convictions to either the Supreme Court or the Court of Appeals. Under the general supervision of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the Appellate Defender is required by statute (G.S. 7A-478) to accept only that number of appeal assignments which will ensure the quality of appellate services provided. The case and cost data reported below reflect the activity of this office in both the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals for the nine-month period following October 1, 1981, and the reported case data represents those cases disposed of during that time.

In addition, the State provides a full-time special counsel at each of the State's four mental hospitals, to represent patients in commitment or recommitment hearings before a district court judge. Under North Carolina law, each patient committed to a mental hospital is entitled to a judicial hearing (before a district court judge) within 90 days after the initial commitment, a further hearing within 180 days after the initial commitment, and thereafter a hearing once each year during the continuance of an involuntary commitment.

Finally, the State provides a guardian ad litem for children alleged to be neglected in juvenile petitions unless the court finds that the child is not in need of and cannot benefit from such representation. By statute, the guardian ad litem is a licensed attorney and is compensated for his services in the same way as compensation is provided for representation of an indigent person.

The cost of the entire program of indigent representation, rounded to the nearest dollar, was $11,033,650 in the 1981-82 fiscal year, compared to $9,861,919 in the 1980-81 fiscal year, an increase of 11.9%. The total amount expended for representation of indigents was 12.5% of total Judicial Department expenditures in the 1981-82 fiscal year.

Following is a summary of case and cost data for representation of indigents for the fiscal year, July 1, 1981 through June 30, 1982.

PART IV

TRIAL COURTS CASEFLOW DATA

- Superior Court Division
- District Court Division

TRIAL COURTS CASE DATA

This part of the Annual Report presents pertinent data on a district-by-district and county-by-county basis. For ease of reference, this part is divided into a superior court division section and a district court division section.

The data within the two sections generally parallel each other in terms of organization, with each section subdivided into civil and criminal case categories. With some exceptions, there are three basic data tables for each case category: a caseload inventory (filings, dispositions and pending) table; a table on the manner of dispositions; and a table on ages of cases disposed of during the year and ages of cases pending at the end of the year. Pending and age data are not provided for district court motor vehicle criminal cases, for civil cases (small claims) referred to magistrates, and for juvenile cases, inasmuch as these categories of cases are not reported by case file number.

The caseload inventory tables provide a statistical picture of caseflow during the 1981-82 year. Items recorded in this table include the number of cases pending at the beginning of the year, the number of new cases filed, the number of cases disposed of during the year, and the number of cases left pending at the end of the year. The caseload inventory also shows the total caseload (the number pending at the beginning of the year plus the number filed during the year) and the percentage of the caseload which was disposed of during the year.

The aging tables show the ages of the cases pending on June 30, 1982 as well as the ages of the cases disposed of during 1981-82. These tables also show both mean (average) and median ages for each set of cases—those pending at the end of the year and those that were disposed of during the year. The median age of a group of cases is, by definition, the age of a hypothetical case which is older than 50% of the total set of cases and younger than the other 50%.

Unlike the median, the mean age can be substantially raised (or lowered) if even a small number of very old (or very young) cases are included. For example, if only a single two-year old case was included among ten cases aged three months, the median age would be 90 days and the mean (average) age would be 148.2 days. A substantial difference between the median and average ages, therefore, indicates the presence of a number of rather long-pending, or short-pending, cases.

Separate summary tables at the end of Part IV show the comparative rankings, for the 1981-82 year, in terms of percentage of disposition of caseloads for the 34 judicial districts and the 100 counties.

The case statistics in Part IV have been calculated from filing and disposition case data submitted to the Administrative Office of the Courts by the 100 clerks of superior court across the State. The present case reporting system is essentially a manual one: weekly reports from each clerk's office are mailed to Raleigh, where they are computer-coded, entered and processed. Pending case information is computer-calculated from the filing and disposition data. The accuracy of the pending case figures is, of course, dependent upon timely and accurate filing and disposition data.

Periodic comparisons by clerk personnel of their actual pending case files against AOC's computer-produced pending case lists, followed by indicated corrections, is necessary to maintain completely accurate data in the AOC computer file. Yet, staff resource in the clerks' offices is not sufficient to make such physical inventory checks as frequently and as completely as would be necessary to maintain full accuracy in AOC's computer files. Thus, it is recognized that some of the figures published in the following tables have errors of some degree.

Another accuracy-related problem inherent in a manual reporting system is the lack of absolute consistency in the published year-end and year-beginning pending figures. The number of cases pending at the end of a reporting year should ideally be identical with the number of published pending cases at the beginning of the next reporting year. In reality, this is rarely the case. Experience has shown that inevitably some filings and dispositions which occurred in the preceding year do not get reported until the subsequent year. The later-reported data is regarded as being more complete reporting and is used, thereby producing some differences between the prior year's end-pending figures and the current year's beginning-pending figures.

Notwithstanding the indicated limitations in the data reporting and data-processing system, it is believed that the published figures are sufficiently adequate to fully justify their use. In any event, the published figures are the best and most accurate data currently available.

PART IV, Section 1

Superior Court Division Caseflow Data

The Superior Court Division

This section contains data tables and accompanying charts depicting the caseflow during the 1981-82 year of cases pending, filed and disposed of in the State's superior courts, that is, cases before superior court judges; and cases pending, filed and disposed of before the 100 clerks of superior court, who have original jurisdiction over estates cases and special proceedings.

There are, for statistical reporting purposes, three categories of cases filed in the superior courts: civil cases and felony cases which are within the original jurisdiction of the superior courts; and misdemeanor appeals from the district courts to superior courts, for trial de novo.

During 1981-82, as the bar graph on the following page illustrates, felony cases contributed the greatest proportion of all case filings (50.6%), misdemeanor appeals the second greatest proportion of all case filings (31.7%), with civil cases amounting to 17.7% of total case filings in the superior courts. Although a slight drop in the percentage of felony filings and an increase in civil filings is recorded, the above proportions for the three categories of cases are in line with the prevailing pattern of recent years.

As in previous years, the following bar chart and the second bar graph indicate that the "typical" superior court civil case takes considerably longer to dispose of than the "typical" criminal case. The bar chart shows that the numbers of cases filed and disposed of during 1981-82 in the two criminal case categories (felonies and misdemeanor appeals) are considerably larger than year-end case pending totals. On the other hand, the total number of civil cases pending at year's end exceeds both civil case filings and dispositions. Data presented in the second bar graph, as well as in the following tables covering the ages of superior court cases, clearly supports the longer disposition period conclusion regarding civil cases. The median-age data, which is presented in the second bar graph, shows that the medin age of superior court civil cases pending on June 30, 1982 is 254 days. Similar data, covering pending cases in the felony and misdemeanor appeal categories, shows median ages of 83 and 69 days, respectively. For superior court civil case dispositions in 1981-82, the median case age at disposition was 307 days, compared to 73 days for felony cases at disposition and 62 days for misdemeanor appeals at disposition. Comparing this median-age data with the same information for 1980-81, it is significant that the median age of pending civil cases dropped from 284 days in 1980-81 to 254 days for 1981-82 and the median age for civil cases at disposition dropped from 315 days in 1980-81 to 307 days in 1981-82. This represents an improvement in the overall pattern of civil case dispositions.

The 1981-82 aging data for pending cases in the two criminal case categories shows increases from the median ages reported for 1980-81. The median age of pending felony cases rose from 81 days in 1980-81 to 83 days in 1981-82, and a similar increase was recorded in the median age of pending misdemeanor appeals from 64 days in 1980-81 to 69 days during 1981-82. The median age of felony cases at disposition also rose during the past fiscal year from 71 days in 1980-81 to 73 days in 1981-82. On the other hand, the median age of misdemeanor appeals declined from 64 days in 1980-81 to 62 days in 1981-82.

These differences in the median ages of cases disposed of or still pending in superior courts can be attributed in part to the priority given criminal cases. The right of a criminal case defendant to a "speedy trial" is guaranteed in both the United States and North Carolina Constitutions; and current North Carolina statutes prescribe that criminal cases must be tried within 120 days of filing unless there has been justifiable delay for one or more of the good causes specified in the statutes. No comparable "standard" for the speedy disposition of civil cases has been adopted in North Carolina, although the North Carolina Constitution does provide that "right and justice shall be administered without favor, denial, or delay" in the section declaring every person's right to legal remedy for "injury in his lands, goods, person or reputation." (Article I, Section 18, N. C. Constitution)

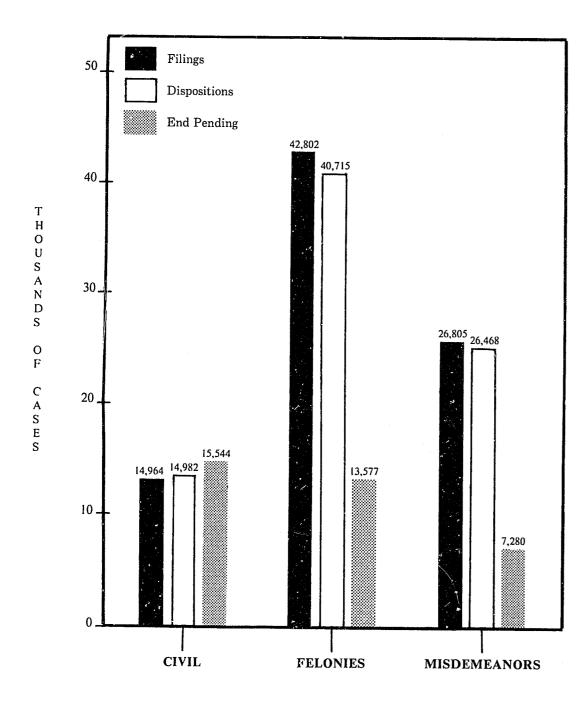

During 1981-82, a Statewide total of 84,571 cases of all types were filed in the superior courts. This represents an increase of only 2,130 (2.6%) over 1980-81 case filings of 82,441, which is considerably below the increase trend for filings in recent years. A review of similar data for the period between 1977 and the end of 1980-81 reveals that filings increased by an average of 6,925 cases a year, or an average rate of increase of 10.2%.

As for the manner of dispositions, it is noteworthy that jury trials in superior court continue to be responsible for a low percentage of case dispositions: 924 civil cases (6.2%) out of a total of 14,982; 2,513 felony cases (6.2%) out of a total of 40,715; and 1,280 misdemeanor cases (4.8%) out of a total of 26,468 misdemeanor dispositions.

The data tables also show that pleas of guilty are entered in a majority (53.6%) of criminal case dispositions.

SUPERIOR COURT CASELOAD

1981-82

Civil case dispositions rose 9.0% during the 1981-82 year and exceeded (100.1%) the number of civil cases filed during the same time period. Felony case filings in 1981-82 increased by less than .1% over the 1980-81 filings, while felony dispositions in 1981-82 decreased by 1.5% from the 1980-81 period.

CASELOAD TRENDS IN THE SUPERIOR COURTS 1972-1982

This graph portrays civil and criminal caseload in the superior courts. Filings and dispositions continued the increasing trend of the last four years, but the 1981-82 increase was not as great as in the past. The year-end pending case count increased over last year; the increase is entirely due to criminal cases.

CASELOAD TRENDS OF CIVIL CASES IN THE SUPERIOR COURTS 1972-1982

For the first time since 1972, dispositions for civil cases exceeded filings; as a consequence, the volume of year-end pending cases dropped.

LIFETIMES OF SUPERIOR COURT CASES

Median Ages of Cases Pending 6/30/82 and of Cases Disposed of During 1981-82

The median age of a case category is that age with respect to which 50% of all cases in the category are younger and 50% of all cases are older; it is the 50th percentile of ages of all cases in the category. As shown in the above graph, the median age of all civil superior court cases disposed of during 1981-82 was 307 days and the median age of all criminal superior court cases disposed of during 1981-82 was less than 75 days, reflecting the very substantially greater time taken to process civil cases through the superior courts. A similar relationship exists with respect to the median ages of pending civil and criminal cases.

METHODS OF DISPOSITION OF SUPERIOR COURT CIVIL CASES 1981-82

The above graph of disposition methods for civil superior court cases during 1981-82 is very similar to the comparable graph for previous years. As in the past, voluntary dismissals represent the largest number of dispositions.

When compared with 1980-81, these percentages show increased dispositions within the voluntary dismissal, judge, jury categories, and declines in the clerk and other categories.

CASELOAD TRENDS IN ESTATES AND SPECIAL PROCEEDINGS

1974-82

During 1981-82, estate caseloads continued the established increasing trend of the past. Special proceedings filings increased by only 1.2% over the 1980-81 filings, but dispositions increased by 7.4% during the same period; this disparity is reflected in the decrease in pending cases at the end of the 1981-82 year.

PART IV, Section 2

District Court Division Caseflow Data

The District Court Division

This section contains data tables and accompanying charts depicting the caseflow in 1981-82 of cases filed and disposed of in the State's district courts, including those handled by magistrates.

When the plaintiff in a civil case requests, and the amount in controversy does not exceed $1,000, the case may be classified as a "small claim" civil action and assigned to a magistrate for hearing. Magistrates also have certain criminal case jurisdiction. They may accept written appearance and waiver of trial, with plea of guilty, and enter judgment in accord with the schedule of fines promulgated by chief district judges for traffic offenses. Also, magistrates may accept guilty pleas in other misdemeanor cases where the sentence cannot be in excess of 30 days or $50 fine; and may hear and enter judgment in worthless check cases where the amount involved is $500 or less, and any prison sentence imposed does not exceed 30 days.

Appeals from magistrates' judgments in both civil and criminal cases are to the district court, with a district court judge presiding.

This section contains data on three major case classifications in the district court division: civil cases, juvenile proceedings, and criminal cases. Civil cases include cases assigned to magistrates (small claims as defined above), domestic relations cases (chiefly concerned with annulments, divorces, alimony, custody and support of children), and "general civil" cases. Juvenile proceedings are classified in accordance with the nature of the offense or condition alleged in the petition which initiates the case. District court criminal cases are divided into motor vehicle cases (where the offense charged is defined in Chapter 20 of the North Carolina General Statutes) and nonmotor criminal cases.

Consistent with previous years, the pie charts on the following page illustrate that district court criminal cases filed and disposed of in the 1981-82 year greatly outnumbered civil cases. Motor vehicle criminal cases constituted approximately forty-eight per cent of total filings and dispositions, and the non-motor vehicle criminal cases accounted for just under thirty per cent. As in past years, the greatest portion of district court civil filings and dispositions were small claims referred to magistrates.

The large volume categories of criminal motor-vehicle and civil magistrate cases are not reported by case file numbers. Therfore, it is not possible to obtain, by computer processing, the numbers of pending cases as of a given date or the ages of cases pending and ages of cases at disposition. These categories of cases are processed through the courts faster than any others, thus explaining the decision not to allocate personnel and computer resource to reporting these cases in the detail that is provided for other categories of cases.

Also, juvenile proceedings and hearings on commitment or recommitment of persons to the State's mental hospital facilities are not reported by case file numbers.

Two tables are provided on juvenile proceedings: offenses and conditions alleged, and numbers of adjudicatory hearings held.

Data on district court hearings for mental hospital commitments and recommitments is reported in Part III, "Cost and Case Data on Representation of Indigents."

Ages of district court cases pending on June 30, 1982, and ages of cases disposed of during 1981-82 are reported for the general civil and domestic relations and for the criminal non-motor vehicle case categories.

The table for general civil and domestic relations cases shows that the median age of such cases which were pending on June 30, 1982, was 181 days, compared with a median age of 189 days for cases pending on June 30, 1981. The median age of cases in this category at the time of disposition during 1981-82 was 67 days, compared with a median age of 66 days at the time of disposition during 1980-81.

For district court non-motor vehicle criminal cases, the median age for cases pending on June 30, 1982, was 61 days compared with a median age of 54 days for cases pending on June 30, 1981. The median age of cases in this category at the time of disposition during 1981-82 was 22 days compared with a median age of 21 days at the time of disposition during 1980-81.

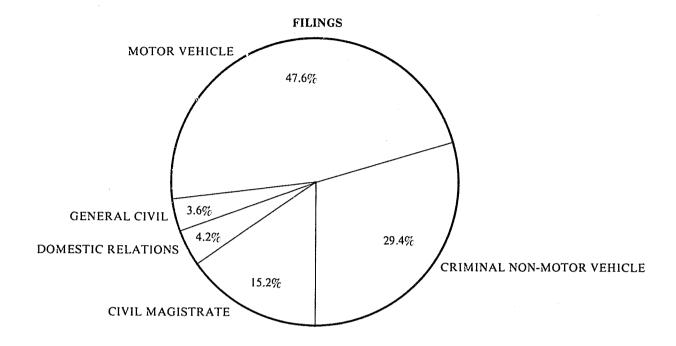

The Statewide total district court filings during 1981-82, not including juvenile cases and mental hospital commitment hearings, was 1,421,309 cases, compared with 1,520,826 during 1980-81, a decrease of 99,517 (6.5%). Most of this reduction came in the motor vehicle criminal case category where filings in 1980-81 amounted to 773,443 cases compared to 677,247 cases filed in 1981-82, a decrease of 96,196 (12.4%) cases. This reduction appears to mirror a similar drop in reported State Highway Patrol charges of motor vehicle violations. (However, it should be noted that Highway Patrol charging activity represents only part of the total picture in motor vehicle criminal cases. Citations are also written by city and county law enforcement agencies, and data on charges of motor vehicle violations by these is not available.)

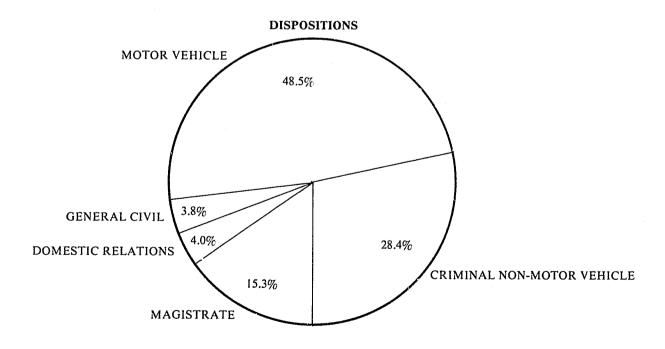

There also was a decrease (5.4%) in district court civil case filings, from a total of 344,483 in 1980-81 to 325,886 in 1981-82. Most of this decrease was in civil magistrate filings, from 226,604 cases in 1980-81 to 215,625 cases in 1981-82. In the domestic relations category, there was a decrease of 6,740 cases in 1981-82 compared to the number in 1980-81, attributable to a change in reporting: subsequent motions and petitions in a domestic relations case, following initial disposition, are no longer reported.

The only increase in district court case filings came in the criminal non-motor vehicle case category. A total of 418,176 cases in this category were filed during 1981-82, which was a 3.8% increase over the 402,900 cases filed in 1980-81.

FILINGS AND DISPOSITIONS IN THE DISTRICT COURTS

1981-1982

Criminal cases continue to dominate the district court caseload. However, the motor vehicle portion of the caseload is smaller than it has been in recent years; this is a reflection of the significant drop in motor vehicle cases filed and disposed during 1981-82.

FILING AND DISPOSITION TRENDS IN THE DISTRICT COURTS 1972-1982

Depicted in this graph are all civil and criminal case filings and dispositions for the last decade, including traffic offenses and civil magistrate cases. The decrease in filings and dispositions for 1981-82 is largely attributable to a 12.4% decrease in filings and a 12% decrease in dispositions in motor vehicle cases, as compared to the 1980-81 fiscal year.

FILING AND DISPOSITION TRENDS OF CIVIL DISTRICT COURT CASES 1972-1982

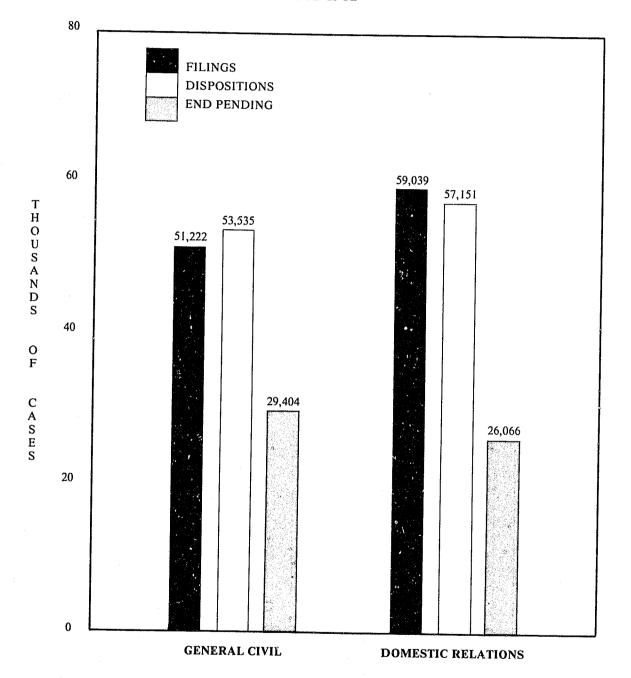

After a steady upward trend during the past decade, district court civil case filings decreased by 5.4% and dispositions by 3.5% during the 1981-82 fiscal year; all categories of civil cases contributed to the decrease. During 1981-82, general civil filings decreased by 1.3%, and civil magistrate filings dropped by 4.9%, as compared to 1980-81; the exclusion of post-disposition activities in the domestic relations area largely contributed to the 10.3% decrease there.

GENERAL CIVIL AND DOMESTIC RELATIONS CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURTS

1981-1982

General civil dispositions outnumbered case filings during the 1981-82 year, resulting in a reduction in the number of cases pending at the end of the year as compared to the number of cases pending at the beginning of the year. Unlike previous years, domestic relations case filings and dispositions only included new cases; no post-disposition activities were counted as part of the caseload during 1981-82.

FILING AND DISPOSITION TRENDS OF CRIMINAL CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURTS

1972-1982

Motor vehicle cases dominate criminal filings and dispositions in the district courts. The decrease in filings and dispositions shown here during 1981-82 was a direct result of a 12.4% decrease in motor vehicle filings and a 12% decrease in motor vehicle dispositions. During the 1981-82 year, 61.8% of the criminal district court filings and 63.1% of the dispositions were traffic cases.

METHODS OF DISPOSITION OF DISTRICT COURT CRIMINAL NON-MOTOR VEHICLE CASES

1981-1982

Guilty pleas continue to represent the largest method of disposition of non-motor vehicle cases in the district courts. The waivers depicted here are worthless check cases; dismissals include speedy trial and prosecutor dismissals (both with and without leave).
