STUDY DESCRIPTION

Since 1930, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) has been authorized by the Congress to serve as a national clearinghouse for statistical information on crime. The Uniform Crime Reports (UCR) are a compilation of these statistics and serve as a periodic, nationwide assessment of reported crime not available elsewhere in the criminal justice system.

There were, by 1976, over 13,000 law enforcement agencies contributing reports either directly or through their state reporting program. The agencies active represent 98% of the United States' population living in the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, 94% of the population in other cities and 89% of the rural population. The combined coverage accounts for 96% of the total national population, as estimated by the Bureau of the Census.

Crime reports are obtained from law enforcement agencies, and are the results of police records regarding offenses, arrests, charges, cleared arrests, and value estimates of stolen and recovered property.

In an effort to provide as complete a picture of crime in the United States as possible, data was obtained on offenses that became known to police. Greater numbers of these data were available than in any other category of reportable crime information. An overview of crime is available through the examination of seven offenses which were selected because of the degree seriousness, frequency of occurrence and likelihood of their being reported to the police. These offenses, known as the Crime Index offenses, are murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny-theft and motor vehicle theft.

To provide for uniformity nationwide in the reporting of these offenses, standardized definitions (See Glossary) were adopted. This standardization was necessary to overcome the variations in definitions of criminal offenses in the states and localities throughout the country. Reporting agencies are required to interpret local criminal acts and law violations in the context of these definitions prior to submission of their counts to the FBI. Because of the variance in punishment for the same offenses among the state codes, there is no possibility in a program such as this to distinguish between felony or misdemeanor crimes.

II

The FBI actively assists individual states in the development of statewide programs of police statistics compatible with the national program. Committees on Uniform Crime Reporting within state law enforcement associations are actively promoting interest in the UCR program, fostering widespread and more intelligent use of uniform crime statistics and helping contributors file their reports when necessary. These state statistical programs provide the advantage of increased coverage of law enforcement agencies due to state mandatory reporting requirements. The state systems also can provide direct and frequent service to law law enforcement agencies in assuring completeness and quality of information provided by them. Through coordination by the state data collection agency, information is more readily available for use by the state. The collection and reporting machinery for the national program is also streamlined substantially.

With the development of state Uniform Crime Reporting Programs, the FBI ceases collection of data directly from individual law enforcement agencies within the state. Completed information from these agencies is forwarded to the national program through the state UCR collection agency. There were 41 states, in 1976, operating UCR programs. Additionally, other states are in various stages of developing their own programs. The conditions under which these systems are developed provide consistency and comparability in the data submitted to the national program. They also permit regular and timely reporting of the national crime data. These conditions are: (1) The state program must conform to the national UCR standards, definitions and information required. These requirements do not prohibit the state from collecting other statistical data beyond the national collection. (2) The state criminal justice agency must have a proven, effective, mandatory, statewide program and have instituted acceptable quality control procedures. (3) Coverage within the state by a state agency must be, at least, equal to that attained by the national UCR program. (4) The state agency must have adequate field staff assigned to conduct audits and to assist contributing agencies in record practices and crime reporting procedures. (5) The state agency must furnish to the FBI all detailed data regularly collected by the FBI in the form of duplicate returns, computer printouts and/or magnetic tapes. (6) The state must have the proven capability (tested over a period of time) to supply all the statistical data required in time to meet the national UCR's publication deadline. Additionally, the FBI will continue its internal procedures of editing and reviewing individual agency reports for both completeness and quality; will continue to have direct contact with individual contributors within the state where necessary in connection with crime reporting matters, but will coordinate such contact with the state agency; and upon request, will continue its training programs within the state with respect to police records and crime reporting procedures. For mutual benefit, these training sessions will be coordinated with the state agency. Should circumstances develop whereby the state cannot provide the data required by the national program, the FBI will reinstitute a direct collection of Uniform Crime Reports from law enforcement agencies within the state.

DATA COLLECTION PROCEDURES

Law enforcement agencies (police, sheriffs and state police) report the number of offenses that become known to them, on a monthly basis, in the following crime categories: murder and non-negligent manslaughter, manslaughter by negligence, forcible rape, robbery, assault, burglary, larceny-theft, and motor vehicle theft. This count is taken from a record of all complaints of crime received by the law enforcement agency from victims or other sources and/or that is discovered by officers. These crimes are the Part I offenses in the program. The Part II offenses, for which only data concerning persons arrested and charged are collected, encompass all other crimes.

Whenever complaints of crime are determined through investigation to be unfounded or false, they are eliminated from the actual count. The number of "actual offenses known" in Part I, Crime Index categories is reported to the FBI whether or not anyone is arrested for the crime, the stolen property recovered, or prosecution is undertaken. Law enforcement agencies, on a monthly basis, report the total number of these crimes which they clear, either by arrest or exceptional means. A separate count of Index crimes cleared which involve the arrest of offenders under the age of 18 is shown. The value of property stolen and recovered during the month is also reported for Index Crimes.

Arrests are reported monthly for both Part I and Part II offenses, excluding traffic violations, by crime category and include the age, sex and race of each person arrested. Also, a report is submitted on an annual basis, by crime classification, concerning the number of persons formally charged and the disposition of such charges.

Although the responsibility of compiling and submitting crime reports rests on the individual police agency, the FBI endeavors to maintain data validity by providing training seminars and instructional materials in the UCR procedures. All contributing agencies are supplied with the Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook which outlines, in detail, procedures for classifying and scoring offenses. The Handbook illustrates and discusses the monthly and annual reporting forms, as well as the tally forms which facilitate the periodic tabulation of data.

The Handbook is not the sole method to insure data quality. The FBI schedules Uniform Crime Reporting seminars and workshops throughout the country for law enforcement personnel. FBI personnel are utilized to enlist the cooperation of new contributors and to explain the purpose of this program and the methods of assembling information for reporting. When reporting problems exist in the individual agencies and remedial efforts through correspondence do not help, FBI headquarters' personnel may be directed to visit the contributor to aid them in resolving their problems.

CODEBOOK INFORMATION

The example below is a reproduction of information appearing in the machine-readable codebook for a typical variable. The numbers in brackets do not appear, but are references to the descriptions which follow this example.

[1] Indicates the variable and reference numbers. A variable and reference number are assigned to each item in the study. In this codebook, documenting the archived dataset, these numbers are identical. Should the data be formed into a fixed length record file, new variable numbers may be assigned or created. The reference number would remain unchanged and correspond to those in this codebook.

[2] Indicates the abbreviated (24 character maximum) variable label used within OSIRIS to identify each variable description list.

[3] Indicates the designation of missing data. In this example, code values equal to two and equal or greater than 6 are missing data (MD=2 OR GE 6). Although these values are defined as within the missing data categories, this does not mean that the user should not or can not use these code values in a substantive role if they so desire.

[4] Indicates the sequential location and width of this variable within the record when the data are stored on magnetic tape. In this example, the variable named "POLICE INFORMED?" is one column wide and located in the 292nd column within the record.

[5] Indicates the location by deck and column(s) of this variable when the data are on cards or in card image form.

[6] A variable containing data with implied decimals is denoted by the message, "XX DEC PLACE(S)", where XX is the number of decimal places implied (not punched) in the variable.

[7] Indicates the full text of the question supplied by the original collectors of the data. This is the wording used on the original questionnaire.

[8] Indicates an additicial comment or explanation appended to the variable description.

[9] A variable which has a footnote associated with it is denoted by the message, "SEE NOTE(S) X", where X is the number of the footnote referenced.

[10] Indicates the code values occurring in the data for this variable.

[11] Indicates the textual definitions of the codes.

FILE STRUCTURE

The data are available from the ICPSR in two formats: a card image file and an OSIRIS dataset. The card image file contains 8 decks per respondent in a format based on 80-column punched cards. The data are sorted by respondent with all decks for a case together in ascending order. The OSIRIS dictionary gives the format and other information for each variable in the OSIRIS data file. The dictionary or dictionary-codebook file is used in conjunction with the OSIRIS software package. The OSIRIS data file is constructed with a single logical record for each respondent.

The OSIRIS data file can be accessed directly by software packages which do not use the OSIRIS dictionary by specifying the tape locations of the desired variables. These tape locations are given in the OSIRIS dictionary-codebook.

ICPSR PROCESSING INFORMATION

The ICPSR has added to the data a series of identification variables. The first variable is a unique study identification number [7676] that the ICPSR has given to this study. The second variable is a file number that indicates the particular files sequence in the complete dataset. In this case the study is completely contained in one data file. The variable is the ICPSR version number. Starting with one, it would then increment by one each time the ICPSR re-released the study. The fourth variable is a sequential identification number the ICPSR has added that uniquely identifies each record in the dataset. All variables are numeric character and ranges have been documented in the codebook.

Glossary

1) AGGRAVATED ASSAULT - Aggravated assault is the unlawful attack by one person upon another for the purpose of inflicting severe bodily injury usually accompanied by the use of a weapon or other means likely to produce death or serious bodily harm. Attempts are included since it is not necessary that an injury result when a gun, knife, or other weapon is used which could and probably would result in serious personal injury if the crime were successfully completed.

2) BURGLARY - The UCR program defines burglary as the unlawful entry of a structure to commit a felony or theft. The use of force to gain entry is not required to classify the crime as a burglary. The offense of burglary in this program is broken down into three subclassifications: forcible entry, unlawful entry where no force is used and attempted forcible entry.

3) FORCIBLE RAPE - Forcible rape as defined under this program, is the carnal knowledge of a female through the use of force or the threat of force. Assaults to commit forcible rape are also included; however statutory rape (without force) is not counted in this category.

4) LARCENY-THEFT - Larceny theft is the unlawful taking or stealing of property or articles without the use of force, violence or fraud. It includes crime such as shoplifting, pocket-picking, purse-snatching, thefts from motor vehicles, thefts of motor vehicle parts and accessories, bicycle thefts, etc. In the UCR program this crime category does not include embezzlement, "con" games, forgery and worthless checks. Motor vehicle theft is excluded from this category because it is a separate Crime Index offense.

5) MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT - In the UCR, motor vehicle theft is defined as the unlawful taking or stealing of a motor vehicle, including attempts. This definition excludes the taking for temporary use and use by those persons having lawful access to the vehicle.

6) MURDER AND NONNEGLIGENT MANSLAUGHTER - Murder is defined in the UCR program as the willful killing of another. The classification of this offense, as in all of the other Crime Index offenses, is based solely on police investigation as opposed to the determination of a court, medical examiner, coroner, jury, or other judicial body.

Deaths caused by negligence, suicide, accident or justifiable homicide are not included in the count for this offense classification. Attempts to murder or assaults to murder are scored as aggravated assaults and not as murder.

7) ROBBERY - Robbery is the stealing or taking anything of value from the care, custody, or control of a person, in his presence, by force or by threat of force. Assault to commit robbery and attempts are included. This is a violent crime and frequently results in injury to the victim.
