INTRODUCTION

The Uniform Crime Report System (U.C.R.) has as a principal objective the preparation of a series of crime statistics to be used by police agencies in the administrative operational and management phases.

This system was developed during the 1930's when the International Association of Chiefs of Police appointed a committee to develop a reliable system of uniform police statistics. The committee selected seven crimes as criminality indicators, based on the frequency of their occurrence and reporting to the police. These seven crimes are known as Part I Offenses. Included under this category are murder and nonnegligent manslaughter, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, unlawful appropriation, and motor vehicle theft. In 1979, arson was added to the Part I category. Standard definitions of these crimes were formulated to provide nationwide uniformity. Following these definitions, without considering the definitions according to the respective laws to be enforced and local penal codes, police agencies submit data to the UCR.

In 1930, Congress legislated and assigned to the FBI the function of administrating and controlling the system that the International Association of Chief of Police had adopted. The FBI would be responsible for compiling and disseminating information on criminal activity at a national level. With the information sent by police agencies the Federal Bureau of Investigations still publishes several reports, one of which is the annual publication known as Crime in the United States. This report contains detailed data on crimes, arrests, police forces deployment and analysis of programs of interest for the Police.

In fiscal year 1958-59, the Puerto Rico Police began a revision of their statistical data compiling system. The system recommended by the International Association of Chiefs of Police of the United States was adopted, establishing a uniform procedure for the operation of police statistics. Statistics related to crimes reported to the Police are compiled and classified according to the investigation conducted and not based on court decisions.

Following Association recommendations, crimes are divided into Part I and Part II. Since Part I offenses are the ones used to determine the crime index, detailed data is compiled concerning their commission such as: how, when and where these offenses are committed. If they are cleared with an arrest or formulation of charges, information is compiled on persons arrested or charged. For Part II Offenses only information on arrest and/or formulation of charges of persons who commit them is gathered.

DEFINITIONS

Offense

As defined in Article 9 of Act No. 115, of July 22, 1974, known as the Penal Code of Puerto Rico, is an act committed or omitted in violation of a law forbidding or commanding it and to which is annexed, upon conviction, a punishment or security measure.

Part I Offenses

Each one of the eight offenses selected by the International Association of Chief of Police (IACP) which due to their being the ones that are most likely to be reported to the Police, are used to determine the crime index.

Criminal Homicide

Murder

To kill a human being with malice aforethought.

Nonnegligent manslaughter

To kill a human being upon a sudden quarrel or heat of passion.

Forcible Rape

To have carnal intercourse with a woman who is not his wife, where she is compelled to the act by the use of irresistible physical force or threats of great and immediate bodily harm, accompanied by apparent power of execution; or by overcoming or diminishing substantially, without her knowledge, her capacity to resist by hypnotic means, narcotics, depressant drugs or stimulants or similar substances or means.

Robbery

Unlawful appropriation of personal property belonging to another, whether taking them from his person or from the person having possession thereof, or in his immediate presence and against his will, by means of violence or of fear.

Aggravated Assault

Unlawful attack by one person upon another for the purpose of inflicting severe bodily injury.

Includes assaults wherein weapons such as firearms, knives, razors, hatchets, axes, cleavers, scissors, glass, broken bottles, ice picks, etc., are used as cutting or stabbing objects.

In addition, it includes the attacks by use of personal weapons such as fists, feet, or hands which result in serious or aggravated injury.

Burglary

To enter in a house, building, or other construction, or structure, or its dependencies or annexes with the intent to commit any crime of unlawful appropriation or any felony.

Unlawful Appropriation

To unlawfully appropriate, without violence or intimidation, the goods and chattels belonging to another person.

Motor Vehicle Theft

Unlawful appropriation of a motorized vehicle. The following are to be considered motorized vehicles: automobiles, motorcycles, motor scooters and all vehicles moved by motor over surfaces other than rails. (This offense does not appear defined as such in our Penal Code). Nevertheless, for police statistics it is considered an offense separate from other appropriations; since it is a special problem).

Metropolitan Statistical Area

Consists of a town or group of towns with at least a city of 50,000 inhabitants or more, or two cities whose combined population is at least 50,000 inhabitants.

Clearance Rate

Number of offenses cleared divided by the number of offenses known to police, expressed as a percent.

Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Area

It is constituted when there is a social and economic interrelation between two adjacent metropolitan areas.

DATA PRESENTATION AND DESCRIPTIVE ANALYSIS

During 1982, ninety six thousand seven hundred and thirty nine Part I Offenses occurring in Puerto Rico, which when comparing said figure with the 96,640 offenses occurred in 1981, showed an increase of 0.1 percent (99). Fifteen point seven percent (15.7%) of the total of offenses committed corresponded to violent crimes and 84.3 percent to crimes against property. When comparing the offenses committed in 1982 with those committed in 1981 we can observe that crimes of violence registered a decrease of 1,153 crimes, that is, 7.1 percent; while crimes against property increased by 1,252 crimes, which represents a 1.6 percent.

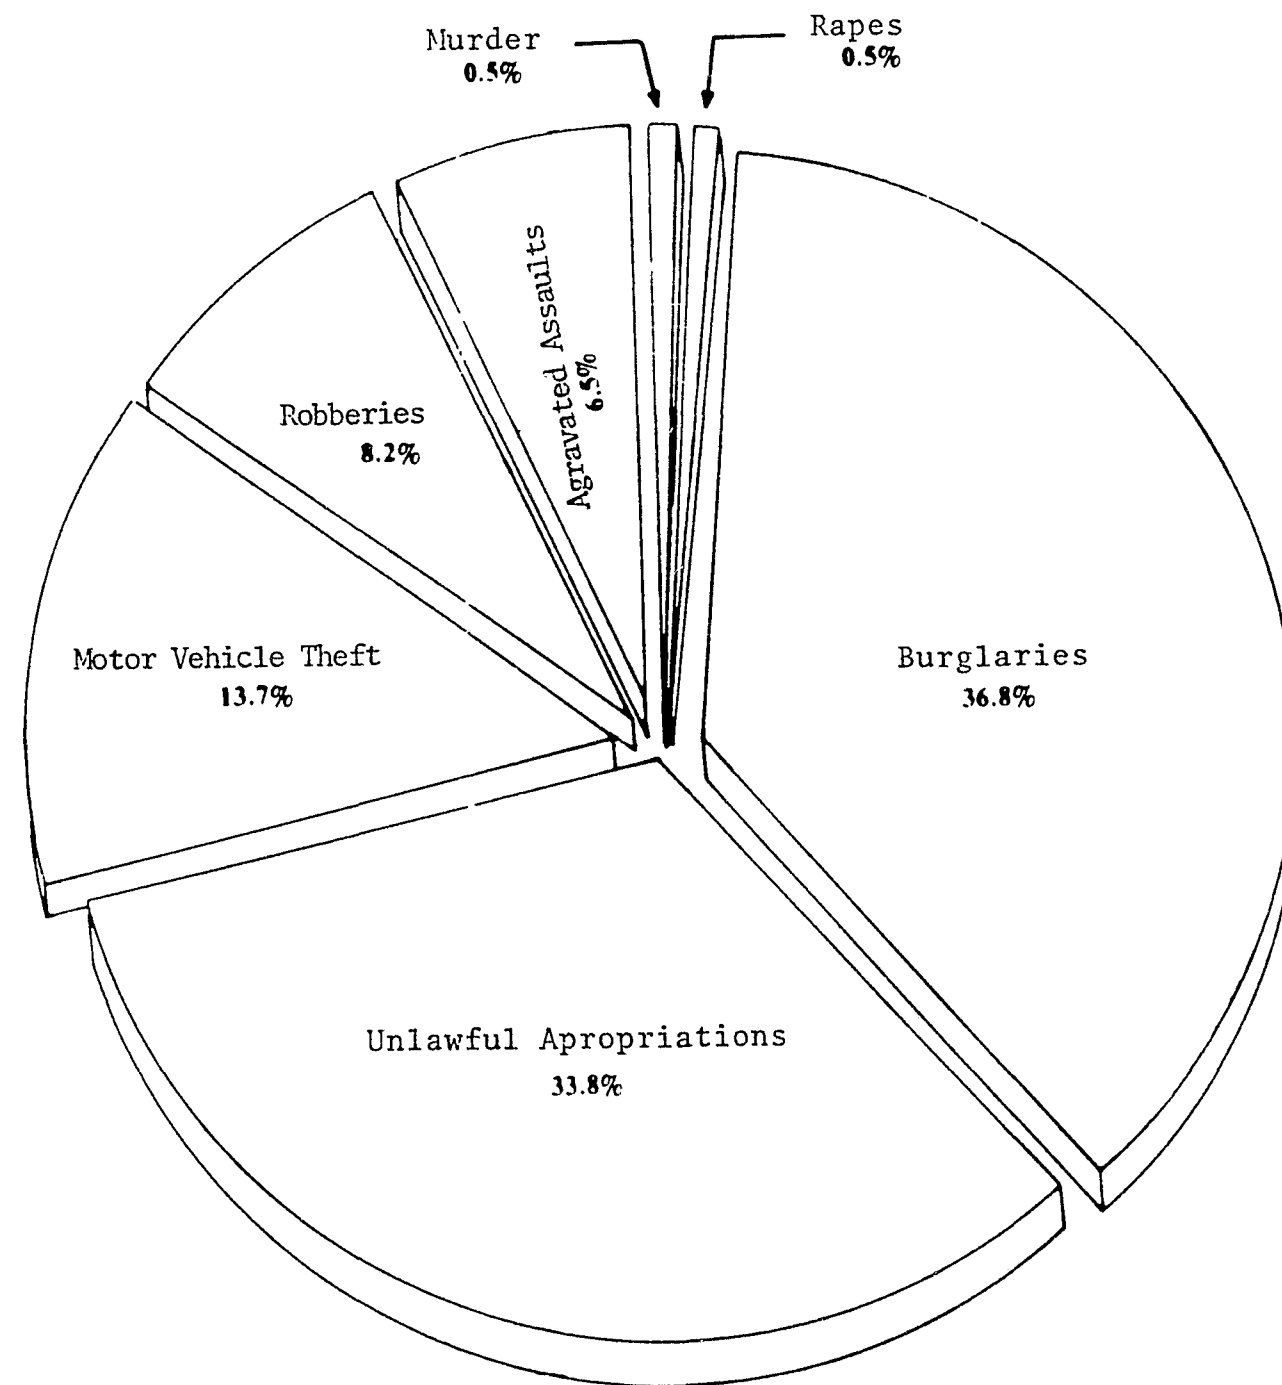

Of the 96,739 offenses committed, 0.5 percent (485) were murder-manslaughter; 0.5 percent (473) were rapes; 8.2 percent (7,929) robberies; 6.5 percent (6,281), aggravated assault; 36.8 percent (35,582), burglaries; 33.8 percent (32,736), unlawful appropriations, and 13.7 percent (13,253) motor vehicle thefts. Only forcible rapes, unlawful appropriations and motor vehicle thefts increased when compared with 1981.

When classifying offenses committed by police area, we find that 28.2 percent (27,305), corresponded to the San Juan area, followed in descending order by the Bayamón area with 13.4 percent (12,923); Ponce, with 11.1 percent (10,701); Carolina, with 10.7 percent (10,320); Caguas, 9.4 percent (9,406); Mayaguez, 9.2 percent (8,946); Arecibo, with 7.2 percent (6,963); Humacao, with 5.7 percent (5,490) and Guayama, with 5.2 percent (5,045).

The day of the week with the highest frequency of offenses committed was Friday with 14,613 offenses, which represents 15.1 percent; the one which registered the least was Wednesday with 13.6 percent (13,194) of the total. The day of the week in which the greatest number of murders, forcible rapes, and aggravated assaults were registered was Saturday. The greatest number of robberies and motor vehicle thefts was registered on Friday; and the greatest number of burglaries and unlawful appropriations was registered on Monday.

Nine thousand of the 96,739 offenses or 9.3 percent occurred on January, while 7.4 percent (7,178) occurred in November.

In 1982 Puerto Rico experienced one Part I Offenses committed every 5.4 minutes. Violent offenses were committed at a rate of one crime every 34.6 minutes while crimes against property were committed one every 6.4 minutes. During a ten year period 1982 registered the highest figure and 1973 the lowest, with 96,739 and 72,363 crimes, respectively. The highest figures for unlawful appropriations and motor vehicle theft during the last ten years were registered in 1982.

The total of offenses cleared for the year 1982 was 14,634, which represents 15.1 percent of the total of crimes committed. Of these, 43.8 percent (6,407) were crimes of violence and 56.2 percent (8,227) were crimes against property. In the San Juan area 2,396 crimes were cleared representing 16.4 percent of the total of crimes cleared up. In descending order we find Ponce, with 2,159 (14.7%); Mayaguez, with 1,819 (12.4%); Bayamón, with 1,692 (11.6%); Caguas, with 1,488 (10.2%); Arecibo, with 1,403 (9.6%); Carolina, with 1,359 (9.3%); Guayama, with 1,346 (9.2%) and Humacao, with 972 (6.6%).

GRAPHIC NO. 3
CRIME CLOCK
CALENDAR YEAR 1982

The clearance rate was 15 Part I Offenses cleared for every 100 crimes committed. For violent crimes it was 4.2 per 100 crimes committed, while for crimes against property it was ten (10).

CALENDAR YEAR 1982

Murder and Nonnegligent Manslaughter

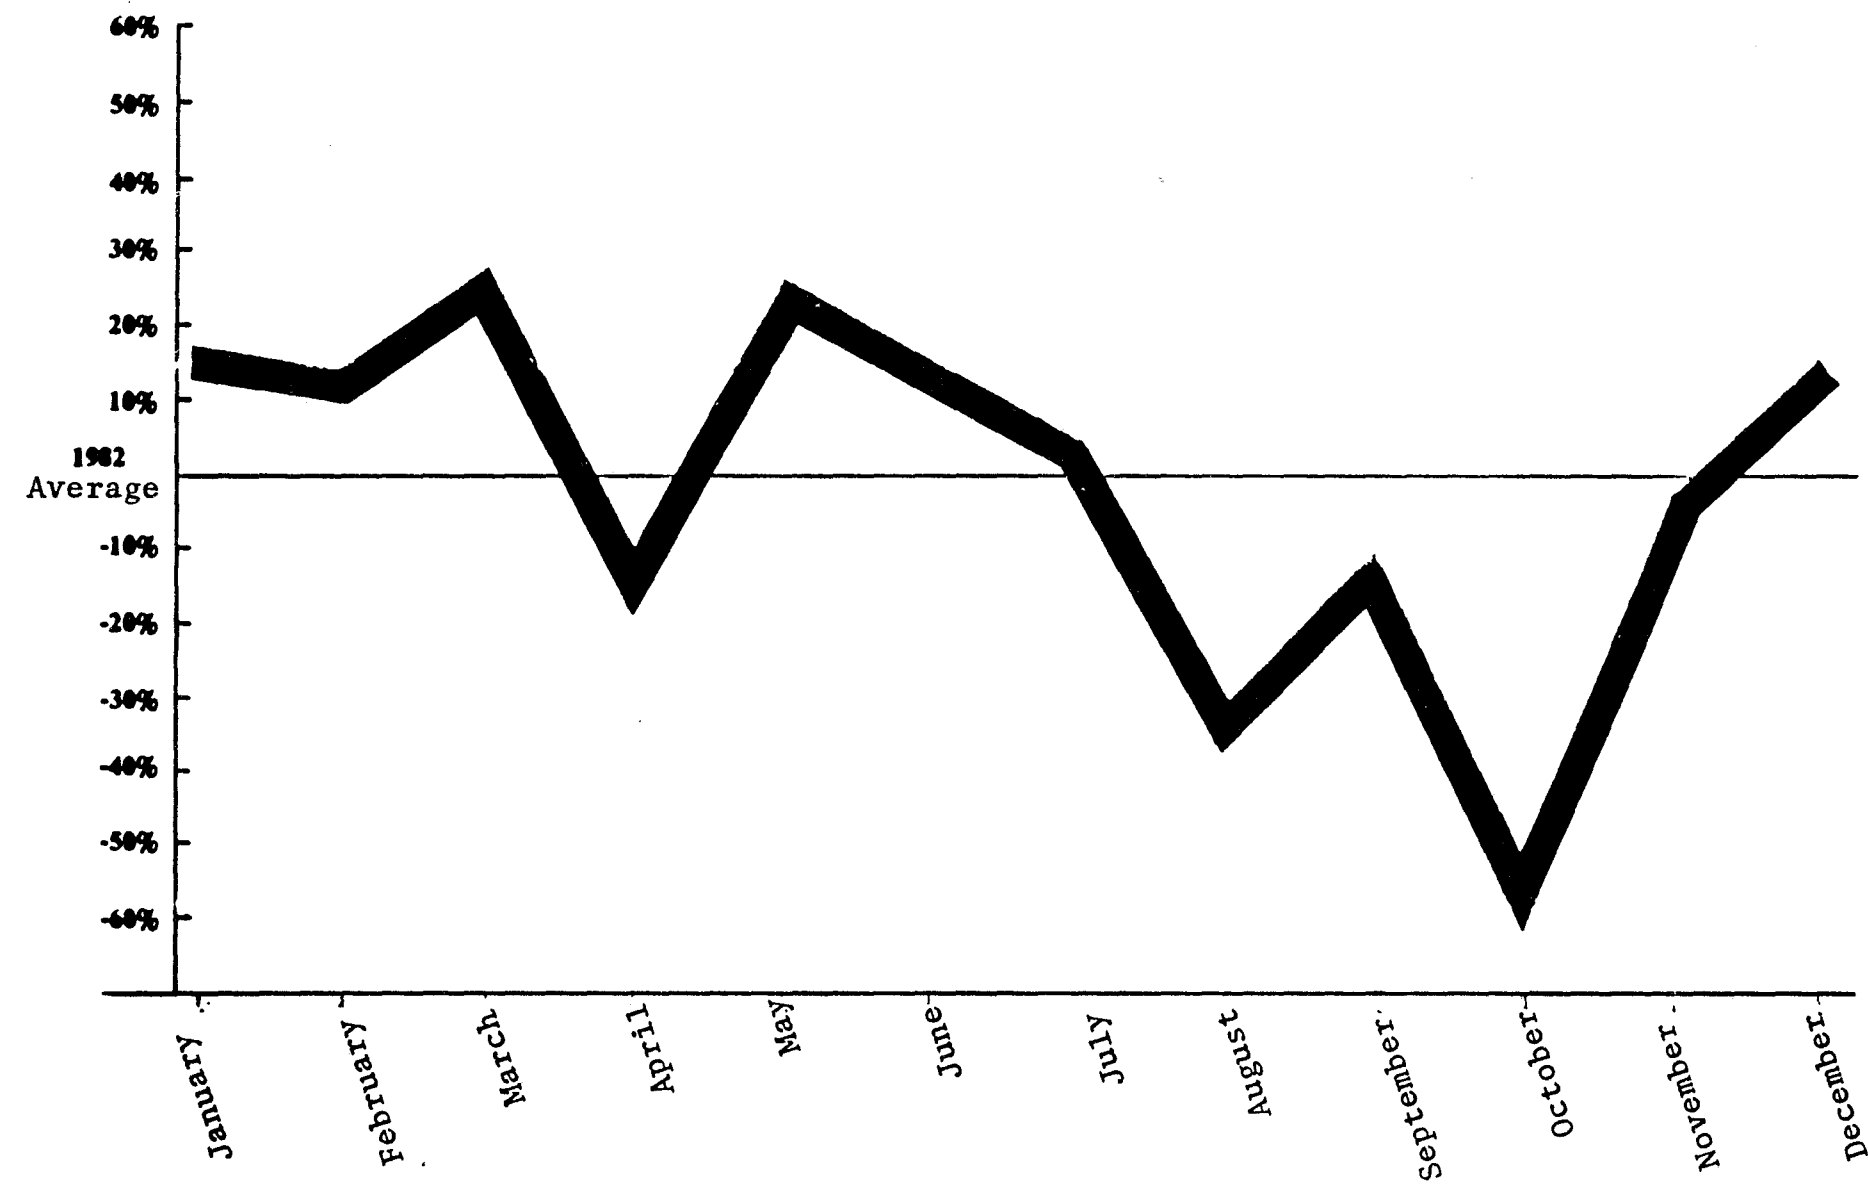

The total of murder-nonnegligent manslaughter offenses for 1982 increased to 485 representing a 0.5 of the total of crimes committed. The monthly average was 40. The day of the week with the highest frequency of murders committed was Saturday with 85, while the day with the least was Tuesday with 57. A murder was committed every 18.1 hours. When comparing the figures for murders for the year 1982 with those of 1981 we find that in 1982, thirty seven less murders occurred than the previous year, which represents a 7.1 percent. The area where greatest number of murders occurred was in San Juan with 1,057 murders; this represents 34.4 percent, while in Guayama 29 were committed; that is to say, 6.0 percent. The municipality of Bayamón reported 37 cases of murder. In 35.3 percent of murder cases, victims and suspects were friends. In 11.3 percent (55) of the cases the motive for the attack was robbery; followed by a quarrel or fight with 10.9 percent (53) and jealousy with 10.1 percent (49). In 40.2 percent (195) of cases the motive for the attack remains unknown. Of the 485 murders that occurred during the year of 1982, 72.4 percent (351) were committed with firearms; 13.4 percent (55) with cutting weapons and in 7.4 percent (36) physical force was used.

Males constituted 85.4 percent of murder victims while females were 14.4 percent. Of the 485 victims, 90 were between 20 and 24 years of age, and four were 9 years of age.

The clearance rate for the murders was 60 for every 100 cases.

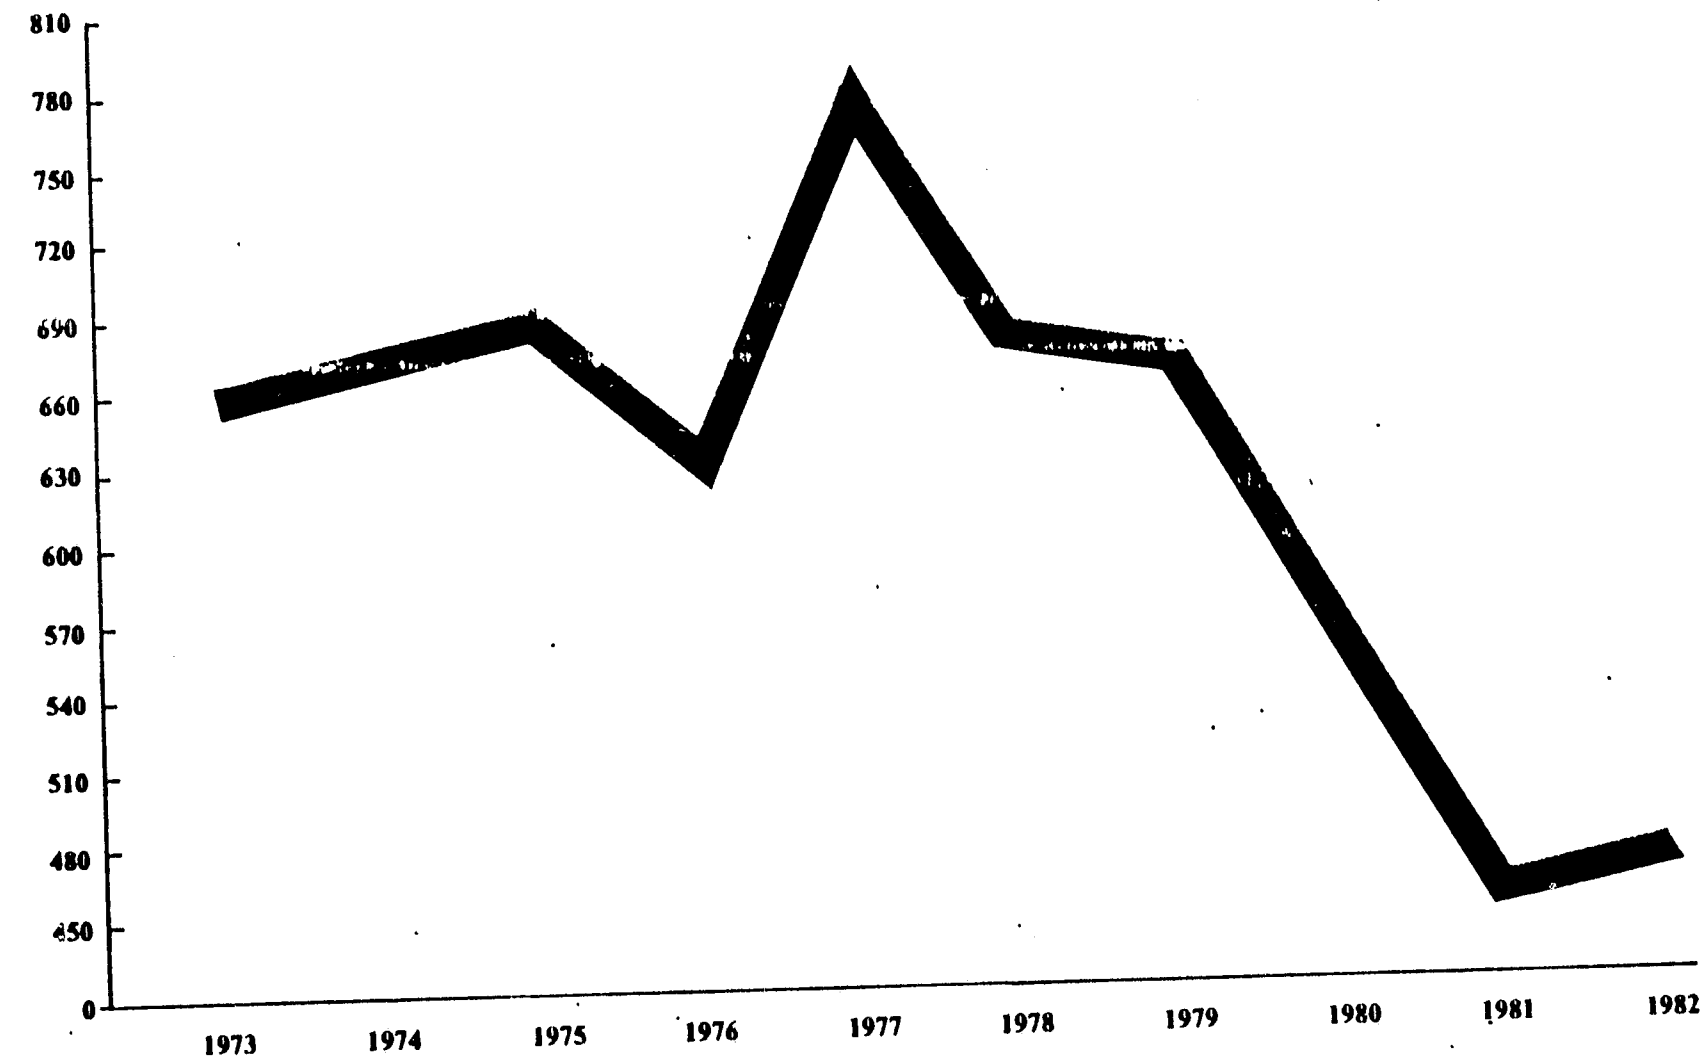

Forcible Rape

During the year 1982 there were 473 forcible rapes committed, for an increase of 2.2 percent when compared to 1981. Of these, 23.7 percent corresponded to the San Juan area; 16.9 percent to the area of Bayamón; 14.4 percent to the Carolina area and 45.0 percent to the six remaining areas. The five municipalities or precincts with the highest frequency of forcible rapes committed were: Carolina, with 29; Ponce, with 26; Toa Baja and Hato Rey, with 25 and Bayamón, with 20. A breakdown of forcible rapes committed by days of the weeks showed that Saturday was the day with the highest frequency with 80 of the 473 cases occurred, which represents 16.9 percent. Each 18.5 hours a forcible rape was committed in 1982 in Puerto Rico. Of the 473 victims raped, 22.6 percent were between 20 and 24 years of age. In the limits of the frequency one finds 30 victims 9 years old, and 8 who were 65 years of age or older. Observing the trend of forcible rapes committed during the last ten years, the year with the highest incidence was 1977 with 792. Forty seven cases were cleared for every 100 forcible rapes committed.

Robbery

During 1982, seven thousand nine hundred and twenty nine robberies were committed in Puerto Rico; that is 8.2 percent of the total of Part I crimes occurred. The San Juan area registered 42.0 percent of the total of robberies committed and Guayama, 1.7 percent. The five municipalities or precincts with the highest numbers of robberies committed were: Carolina with, 878; Hato Rey with 600; Bayamón with 529; Caguas with 507; and Ponce with 444. In a comparison of the robberies occurred in 1982 with those committed in 1981 we find that they decreased 6.8 percent, that is, 581 less than the previous year. During the period of 1973 up to 1981 the figures for robbery increased from 3,549 for the year 1973 to 8,510 for 1981. Males were 80.9 percent (6,414) of the victims of robbery. The day of the week with the most robberies committed was Friday, with 1,330 and the one with the least robberies reported was Wednesday with 1,039. Every 1.1 hours a robbery occurs in Puerto Rico.

The clearance rate for robbery was 20 offenses per 100 robberies committed.

In 59.7 percent of the robberies a firearm was used; in 13.3 percent a cutting or stabbing instrument was used; and in 18.8 percent, physical force. The greatest number of robberies (4,334) occurred in roads, that is 54.7 percent, and 19.4 percent or 1,540, occurred in commercial establishments. Twenty seven robberies were committed in governmental agencies.

Aggravated Assault

The number of aggravated assaults that occurred during the year 1982 amounted to 6,281, which is the equivalent to 6.5 percent of the total of crimes committed. When breaking down aggravated assaults committed by days of the week we find that the day with the highest incidence was Saturday, with 1,203 (19.2%). It is followed in descending order by Sunday, with 1,135 (18.1%), Friday with 988 (15.7%); Thursday with 803 (12.8%); Wednesday, with 764 (12.2%); Tuesday, with 703 (11.2%) and Monday 685 (10.9%). Since 1976, aggravated assaults have diminished. When comparing aggravated assaults occurring in 1982 with those in 1981, there is a decrease of 8.0 percent (545). One aggravated assault was reported every 1.4 hours.

Males accounted for 78.7 percent of the victims of aggression. The age interval of victims with the highest frequency was from 20 to 24 years of age.

When classifying aggravated assault by motive for the attack it was found that in 19.6 percent of the cases the motive or reason was a dispute with a friend or acquaintance; and in 3.7 percent, a fight or argument between spouses. In 44.8 percent of the cases, the victim and the suspect were friends.

Burglary :

In the year 1982, thirty five thousand five hundred and eighty two burglaries were committed in Puerto Rico. When compared with the 37,648 which occurred in 1981, it reflects a decrease of 2,066; that is to say, a 5.5 percent decrease.

Of the 8,215 burglaries committed in the San Juan area, 17.6 percent occurred in the Puerto Nuevo precinct. Daytime hours accounted for 36.5 percent (12,990) of the burglaries and 63.5 percent (22,592) occurred during the night.

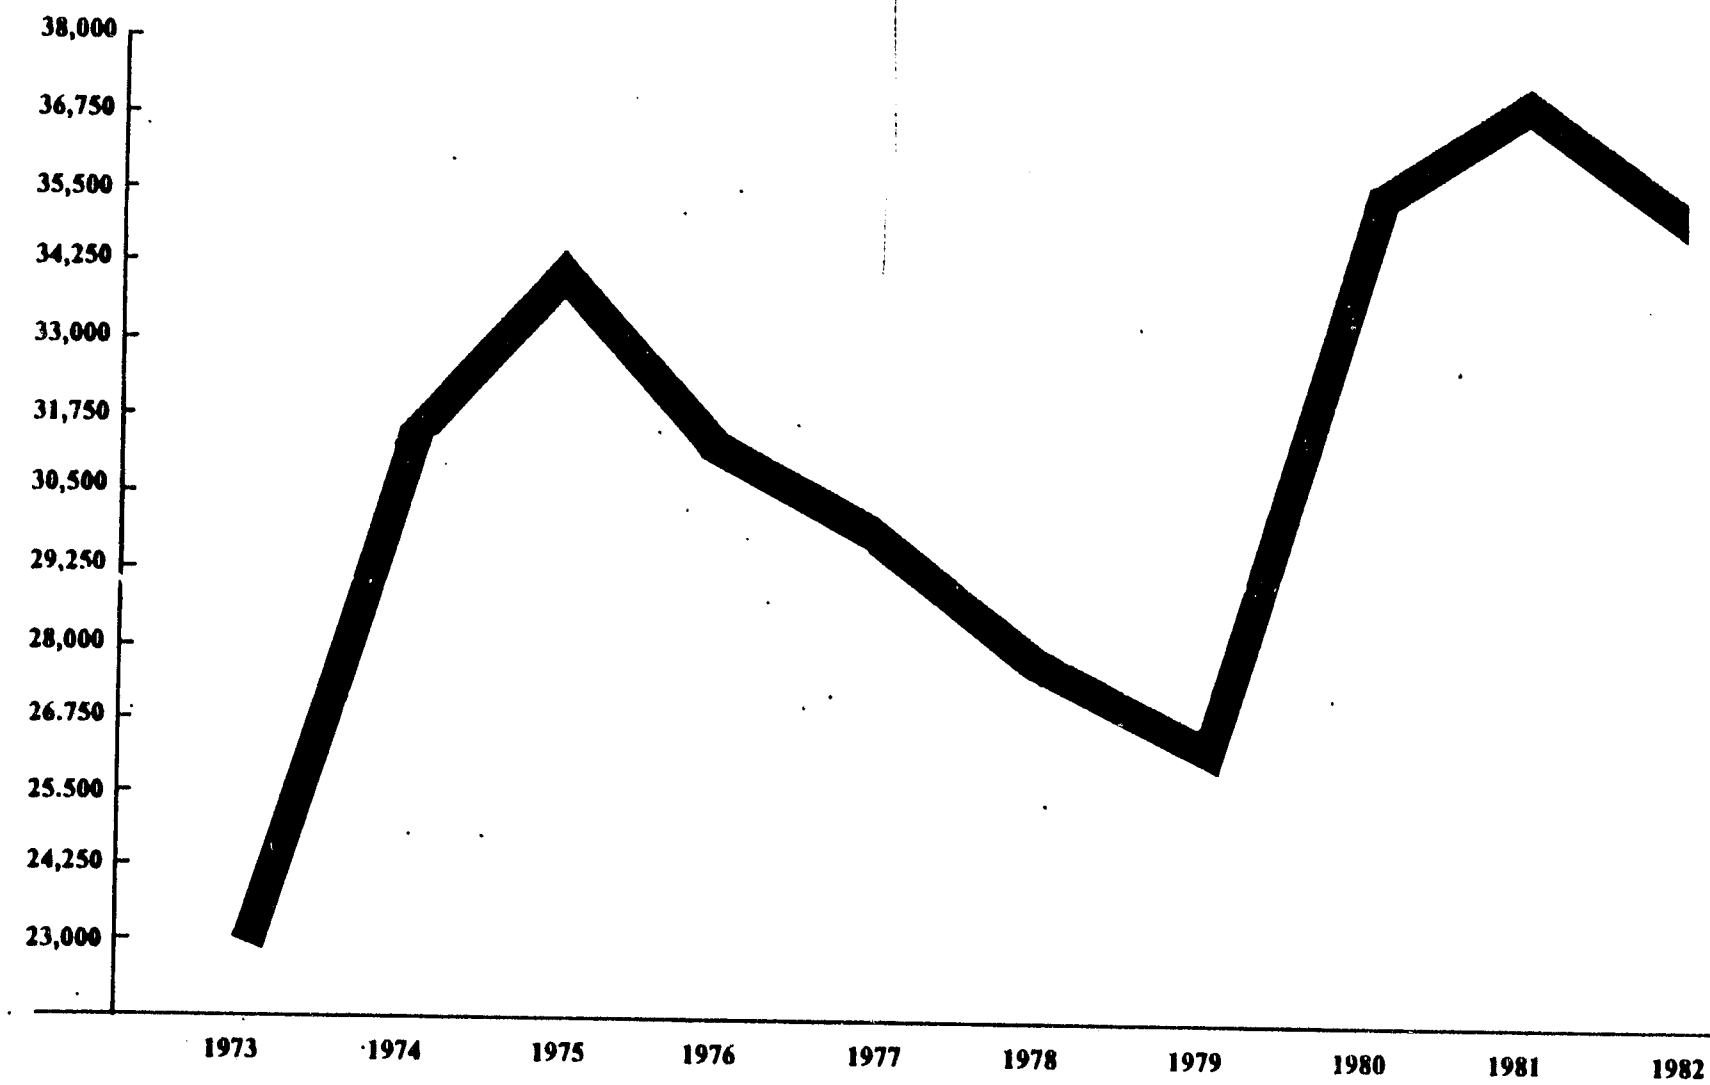

The day of the week with the greatest frequency of burglaries committed was Monday. Every 14.8 minutes a burglary was committed.

The clearance rate for burglaries was 9 crimes cleared per 100 committed.

Unlawful Appropriations:

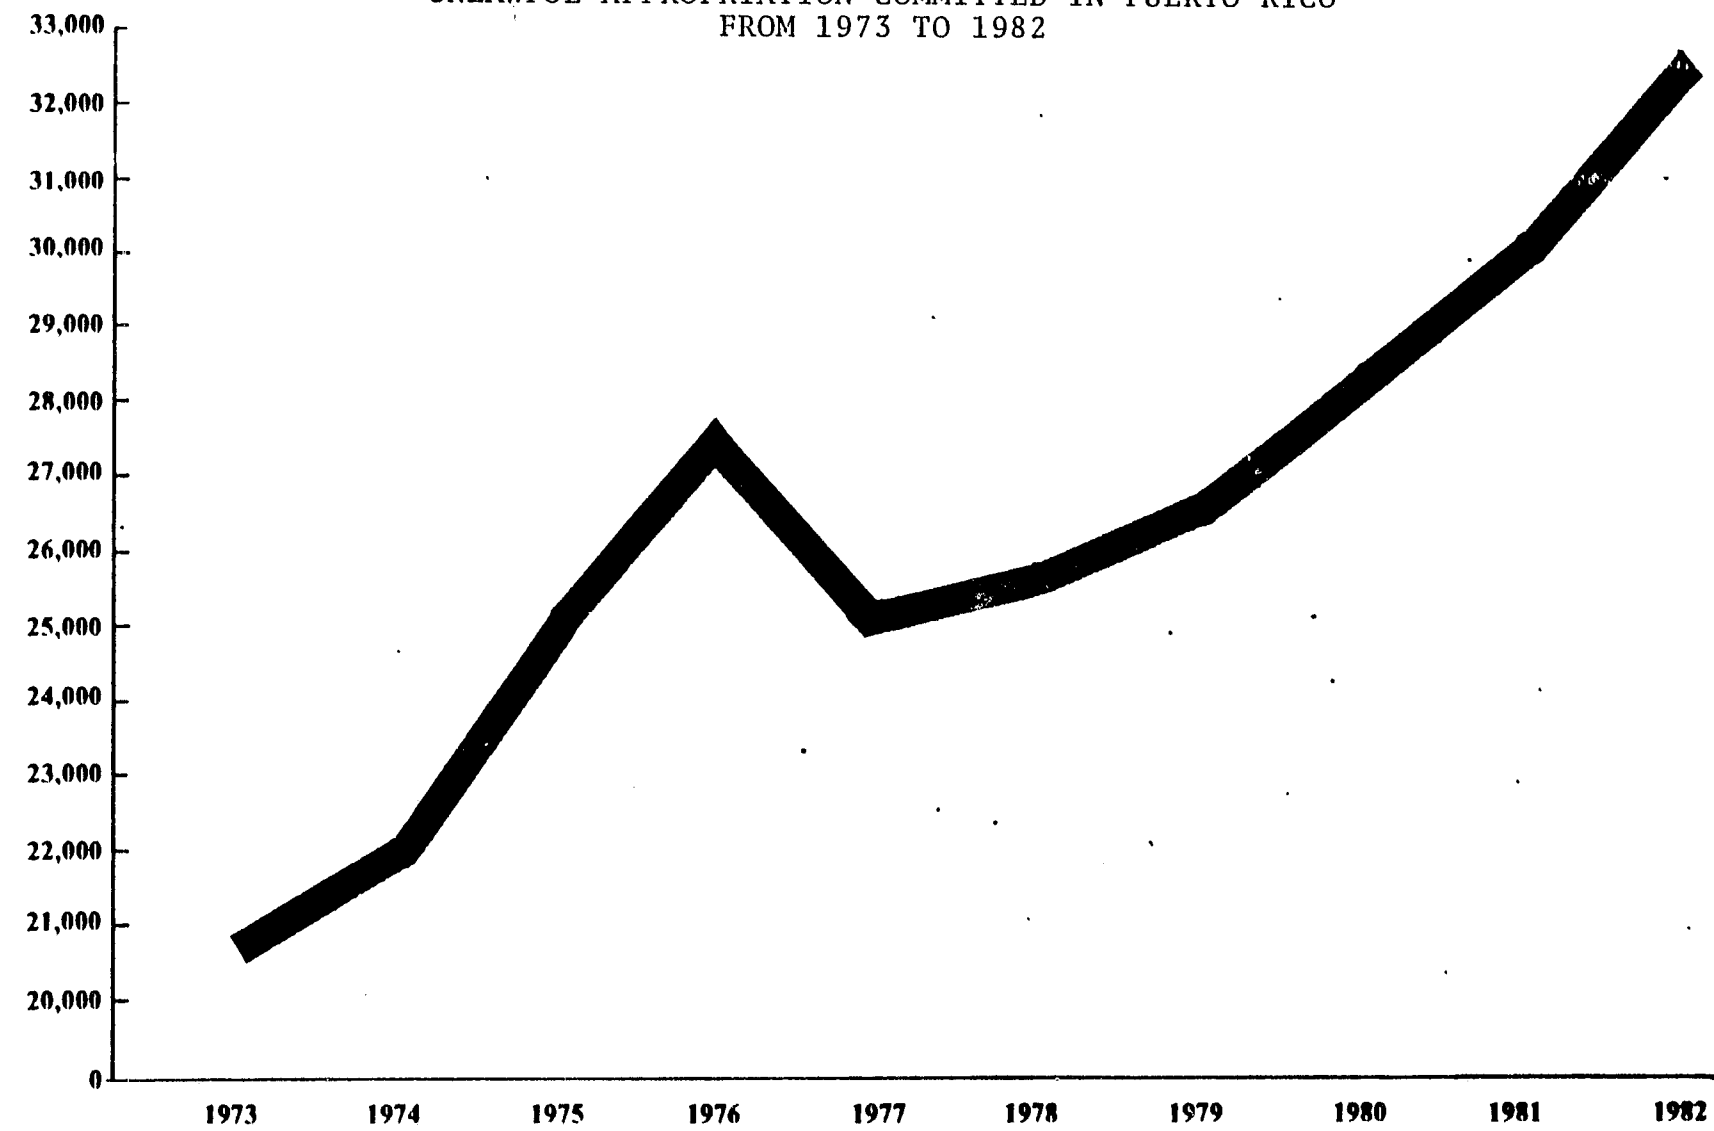

The figures for unlawful appropriations committed in 1982 amounted to 32,736 which, represents a 33.8 percent of the total of crimes occurred. The police area with the greatest frequency of unlawful appropriations committed was San Juan with 8,649 and the one with the least frequency was Humacao with 1,820. The trend in unlawful appropriations during the last ten years showed an increase, interrupted by the year 1977 in which 2,359 less crimes were reported than in 1976. During this ten year period, unlawful appropriations claimed from 20,896 in 1973 to 32,736 in 1982, which represents a 56.7 percent increase.

Like for burglaries, the day of the week with the highest frequency of unlawful appropriations committed was Monday. Every 14.7 minutes, an unlawful appropriation was committed.

Of the 32,736 unlawful appropriations that occurred, in 14,295 (43.7%) the value of the stolen property was of 200 dollars or more. In 11,200 (34.2%) the value of the stolen property was between 50 and 200 dollars and in 6,942 (21.2%), the value was less than 50 dollars. A 34.2 percent of stolen property were motor vehicle accessories. Two percent (2.0%) of the unlawful appropriations (645) were committed in stores during working hours; 5.4 percent (1,756) of stolen property were bicycles.

For each 100 unlawful appropriations committed 13 were cleared.

Motor Vehicle Theft

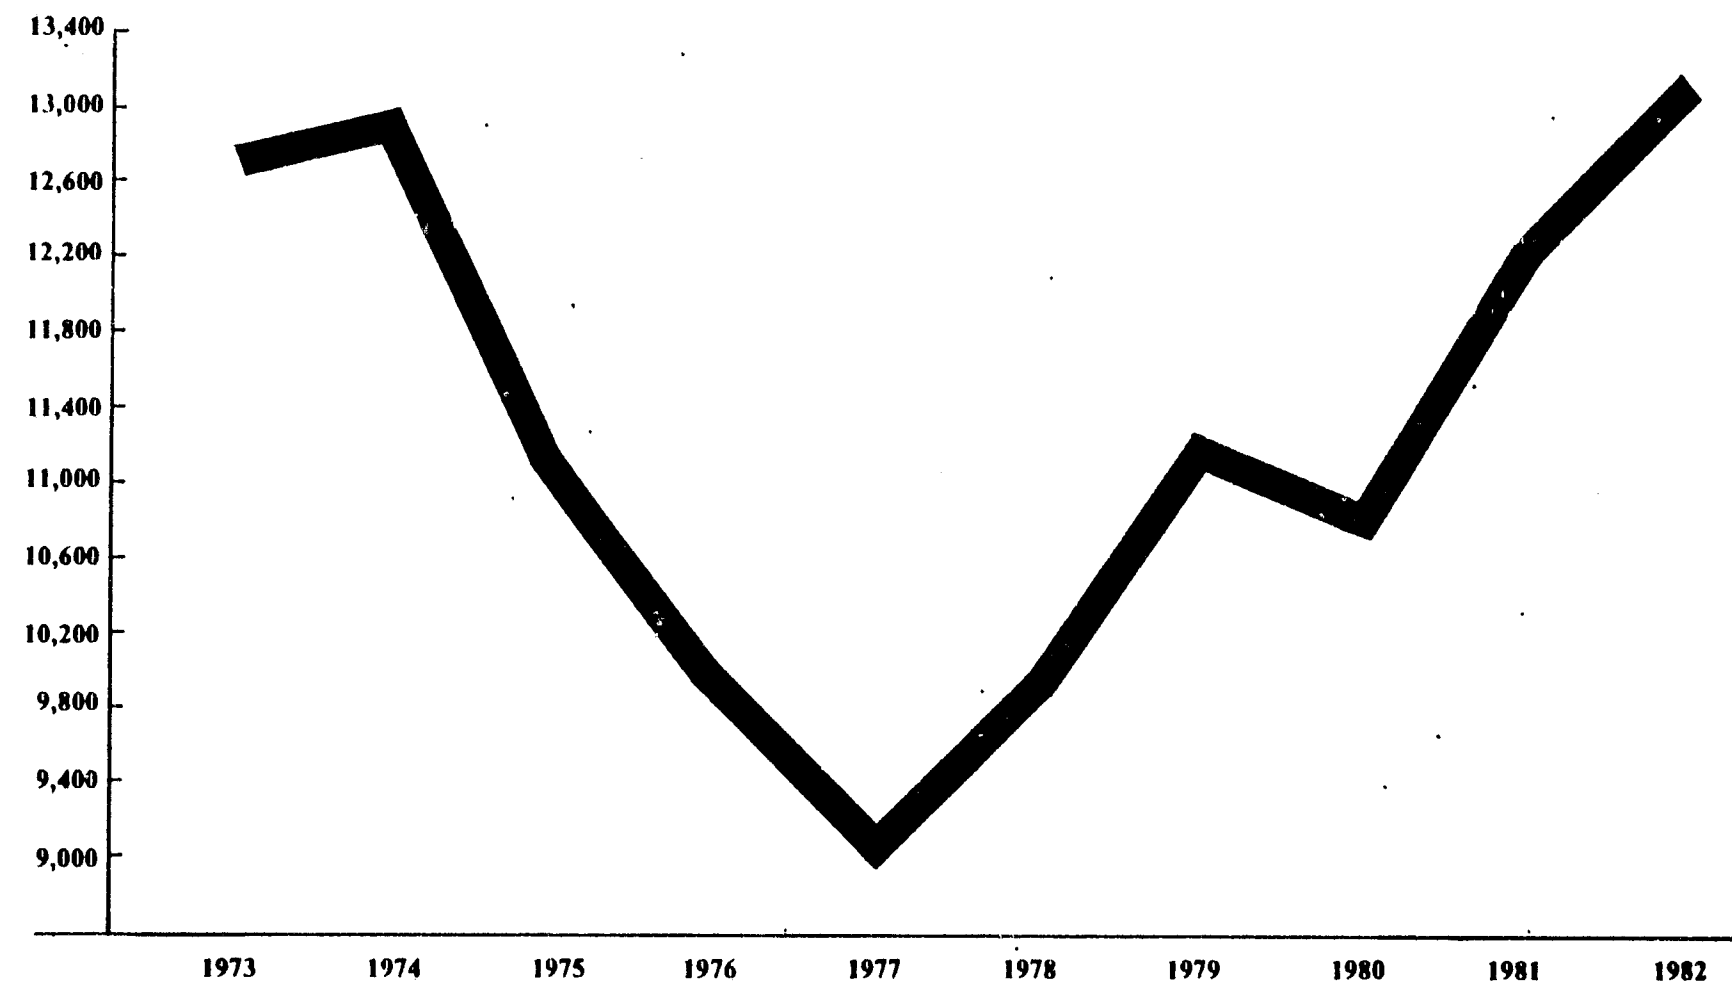

The total of motor vehicles stolen during the calendar year 1982 amounted to 13,253, which represents 13.7 percent of the total crimes committed. When comparing these number with 12,348 stolen cars during the previous year we find that there were 905 more crimes committed than the previous year, this is equivalent to 7.3 percent. The municipality of Bayamón registered the highest frequency of stolen vehicles with 1,388; that is to say, 10.5 percent of the total of vehicles stolen. It was followed in descending order by the Municipality of Carolina with 1,272 (9.6%); the Puerto Nuevo precinct, with 1,081 (8.2%); the Río Piedras precinct, with 839 (6.3%) and Hato Rey with 807 (6.1%). Ninety point five percent (12,048) of the vehicles stolen were automobiles; 3.4 percent (447) were buses; and 1.1 percent (131) were motorcycles; 0.1 percent were trailers and 0.6 percent trucks. The remaining 4.0 percent were attempts and others not specified. Friday was the day of the week with the highest frequency of stolen vehicles. Every 39.6 minutes a vehicle was stolen in Puerto Rico during the year 1982.

During the last ten years the highest figures for stolen vehicles were compiled in 1982 and the lowest in 1977 with 13,253 and 9,214 respectively.

For each 100 motor vehicles thefts committed five (5) were cleared.

Metropolitan Statistical Areas

Metropolitan statistical areas arise for the first time in the 1950 census. At that time, in Puerto Rico there were three Metropolitan Areas: San Juan, Ponce and Mayaguez. For the 1979 census, besides the three areas aforementioned, the Caguas area comes into being. The San Juan area was composed of the town of San Juan, Guaynabo, Bayamón, Carolina, Cataño and Trujillo Alto. The Ponce, Mayaguez, and Caguas areas only included their respective municipalities. In the 1980 population census the metropolitan area of Arecibo appears which includes, besides Arecibo, the municipalities of Hatillo and Camuy. Toa Baja, Loíza and Canóvanas were added to San Juan area; Caguas came to include Gurabo and San Lorenzo; and Ponce, Villalba and Juana Díaz; and the Mayaguez area added on the municipalities of Añasco and Hormigueros.

In the 1980 census a consolidated area arises composed of the San Juan and Caguas metropolitan areas.
