

Strategy: The tribe proposes to use the following purpose areas to address a collaborative response as follows:

Problem	Strategy to Address the Problem	Purpose Area Addressing the Problem
The Nation’s current plan for justice and related systems is outdated and does not consider recent developments on the federal level – TLOA and VAWA 2013.	Engage in a strategic planning process with key tribal community stakeholders to produce a written strategic plan which focuses on developing existing and inherent strengths to assure the Nation is positioned to best address the most serious public safety and social concerns by fully exercising opportunities, while identifying and mitigating probable weaknesses or threats.	PA2 – BJA Comprehensive Tribal Justice Systems Strategic Planning
Over 25% of all police calls involve alcohol and/or drugs; in 100% of child in need of care cases alcohol and/or drug use by the custodial parent is identified as a problem and 90% of all criminal cases within the tribal court system are alcohol or drug related.	Equipment and training to fully equip tribal police officers to prevent, solve, and control crime in the tribal community and continue and enhance anti-methamphetamine activities. Enhance and continue the existing Healing to Wellness Court integrating culturally-based justice responses to offenders with alcohol/drug concerns	PA 1 – COPS Tribal Resources Grant Program (COPS-TRGP) PA3 – BJA Tribal Courts Assistance Program and IASAP
Two-thirds of tribal youth are involved in risk-taking behaviors such as alcohol use, binge drinking, smoking, using inhalants, using marijuana, sexual activity, shoplifting, vandalism, physical aggression, and group fighting. The Nation has developed a Juvenile Justice code. However, the Nation lacks the resources to fully implement the court systems specific to juvenile offenders which will promote the effective and expeditious administration of the juvenile justice system.	Increase the tribal justice system’s capacities to deal effectively with juvenile offenders locally by integrating culturally-based justice responses to juvenile offenders with alcohol/drug concerns	PA8 – OJJDP Tribal Juvenile Accountability Discretionary Grant Program
